Conference Held at White House.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—After a conference with President Roosevelt today, congressional leaders emerged from the White House more confident than they have had reason to be in four years that there really will be no new taxes. But they were skeptical about talk of balancing the budget, admitting privately that it cannot be done before the fiscal year 1939.

Chairman Pat Harrison of the senate finance committee, Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the house ways and means committee, and Speaker of the House William B. Bankhead composed the delegation which called upon President Roosevelt anxious to know whether he contemplates any new legislation of the highly controversial or "wild" nature. They expressed satisfaction that the President has nothing of the sort in mind at present.

Conferees' Conclusions.

It was learned that the conferees came to the following conclusion:

That there will be no major changes in the revolutionary tax on undistributed corporation income, although minor amendments may provide special exemptions for debt-burdened corporations and small, new enterprises requiring substantial portions of their profits for plant expansion.

That there will be no changes in the various taxes levied by the social security act, and such revisions as may be made in that measure will relate only to its administration. This means there is virtually no hope for the socalled Clark amendment, which would exempt corporations with private pension systems and their employés from the old age annuity taxes.

That virtually all of the miscellaneous "nuisance" excises, which, with the 3 cent postage rate, bring in about 500 million dollars a year, will be continued after June 30, 1937, when they are scheduled to expire.

Study Nuisance Taxes.

Chairman Harrison said the joint congressional committee on internal revenue was studying the miscellaneous nuisance taxes with a view to eliminating or modifying some of them where difficulties of administration offset the revenue they produce But it was stated privately that the aim will be to keep the total revenue of these taxes as close as possible to its present level. The three cent postage rate, too, will be continued.

Harrison declared emphatically that there would "be no new taxes." He was no more emphatic, of course, than he was last year, when he told the senate there would be no new taxes just before the President sent up his soak-the-rich tax bill, or last spring, when he said there would be no new taxes just before the President sent up his undistributed earnings tax scheme.

But this time he was more convincing, inasmuch as the New Deal already has put into law the Huey Long principle of breaking up large fortunes and the Tugwell philosophy of allocating the flow of capital by taxing corporate reserves.

Quizzed on Budget Balancing.

Asked when the budget might be balanced, Harrison replied:

"The reports of receipts to the treasury department are most gratifying; in fact, they are exceeding the estimates of the treasury department and the congressional experts, but it depends largely upon the expenditures of these emergency governmental agencies when we can reach the stage of a balanced budget. We are hopeful, however, that with the improvement in the general business situation we can reach a balanced budget by 1938."

Privately the conferees conceded that the budget could be balanced by the fiscal year 1938 only by bookkeeping sleight of hand. Loans made by the emergency agencies and repaid into the general fund could be set off against expenditures and a semblance of a balanced budget would be created. The treasury is doing that now, its statement showing expenditures for the fiscal year running about 145 million dollars below last year, whereas actual expenditures have been approximately the same—more than 3 billion dollars for the first five months.

LASH CABINET, ARCHBISHOP FOR OUSTING KING

'Huffy Old Women,' Laborite Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The archbishop of Canterbury, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, and other church leaders and cabinet members who fought former King Edward's plan to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson were scathingly denounced by opposition speakers in the house of commons tonight as "a lot of huffy old women" whose activities would be better employed relieving the plight of the "starving multitude of unemployed."

JOCK McGOVERN.

Denouncer in chief was the rough and tumble Independent Laborite, "Jock" McGovern, who evidenced royalist sympathy for the first time in his career. He expressed the conviction that a national plebiscite would have upheld the ex-king against the cabinet and church.

Use Abdication as Whip.

With the fiery Glasgow Laborite was Aneurin Bevan, Laborite representing the hard hit colliery district, Ebbw Vale, Monmouthshire. Together they loosed a tirade such as commons has not heard in a long time. Demanding that the government suspend any dole reductions under the new "means test" regulations, they used the abdication issue as a whip with which to lash the administration.

"We've got on the front bench and in the cabinet a number of old worn-out veterans who were continually threatening to resign if the king did not abdicate and if they did not get their own way," McGovern shouted. "They go on like a lot of huffy old women complaining about their health and their onerous duties. We are all willing to relieve them if they want to go."

Claims King Would Have Won.

McGovern maintained that if a plebiscite had been taken on the "means test" the country would have voted against the government "just the same as if the issue had been put to the country on the former king, he would have beaten parliament. The prime minister would have gone, but the man [Edward] would have remained."

Then McGovern turned on the church and the archbishop of Canterbury's broadcast Sunday in which he criticized Edward's circle of friends and his choice of a wife as "violating Christian principles of marriage."

"Let the bishops get out and deal with unemployment," McGovern said. "Never mind Mrs. Simpson. Let them deal with unemployment instead of kicking a man when he's down. Let them play a manly game. Instead of looking on high, let them look down below and find the starving multitude in the wrecks of the means test and unemployment. Let them go on the wireless [radio] and try to arouse the indignation and conscience of the nation against social injustice and wrongs to the common people."

House Silent.

The house listened in silence to the outburst. Similarly there was no comment when Bevan accused Ernest Brown, labor minister, of hiding behind royalty during his recent trip to the South Wales distressed areas with Edward. Everybody was astonished, Bevan said, at the absence of a demonstration against the labor minister.

After the vitriolic comments of McGovern and Bevan, discussions during the second half of tonight's session, in which the house considered a new charter for the British Broadcasting corporation, came as an anti-climax.

It had been predicted all week that several members of parliament sympathizing with the ex-king would utilize the radio debate to stage a display of verbal fireworks over the archbishop of Canterbury's broadcast.

One Reference to Primate.

But the only reference to the primate came from the Laborite, Lieut. Com. R. T. H. Fletcher, who said:

"There has been a certain amount

WHAT A RELIEF, AFTER SO MANY YEARS OF TOUGH SLEDDING

Chemist Dies a Hero as Gas Perils Others

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Deadly hydrogen sulphide fumes struck down Fred Thamann, 38, today in a laboratory where he conducted a dangerous search for a means to eliminate one of the hazards of industry—lead poisoning.

FRED THAMANN. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

His chief, Dr. Robert A. Kehoe, said the research chemist died a hero's death in an effort to save the lives of others endangered by the gas.

About forty persons were driven from the building when the lethal fumes spread as a tank was overturned in a storeroom in the laboratory.

The gas felled David Birrell, 20, an electrician, who, unaware of the danger, had entered the laboratory. He was rescued.

Firemen Use Gas Masks.

The cause of the tragedy was not fully determined, but laboratory associates said Thamann probably discovered the storeroom filled with the fumes when he first entered it.

Realizing the danger, Thamann sought the source of a leak. Either accidentally, in his haste, or because he collapsed, he knocked over a five foot steel tank, causing the valve to release more gas.

Fumes spread rapidly. Dr. W. E. Brown of the laboratory staf discovered the unconscious form of Birrell and carried him from the building.

Firemen donned gas masks and fought their way to the laboratory. They shut the leaking valve and found Thamann's body.

Early Research Recalled.

The laboratory in which Thamann died was erected as a result of an invaluable service to industry by Dr. Kehoe, Thamann's chief.

In the days when Dr. Charles F. Kettering, famed scientist of Dayton, O., was experimenting at the Delco company plant with treatment of gasoline, several workmen died as the result of their work there.

Dr. Kettering consulted the noted physiologist, Dr. Martin L. Fischer, and asked aid in preventing the loss of life. Dr. Fischer assigned Dr. Kehoe, a young scientist, to the task. General Motors corporation instructed Dr. Kehoe to spare no expense, but he set to work with a desk in a corner and three guinea pigs. In a single day he discovered a solution for the problem.

He informed Dr. Kettering that a lead peril existed in the bottom stratum of air and that it could be eliminated by the installation of a ventilating system and the equipment of workmen with hip boots.

Since then not a man has died of lead poisoning in this work.

TROTZKY WILL LIVE IN MEXICAN HAVEN; RED AGITATION TABOO

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Mexican interior department disclosed today Leon Trotzky, exiled bolshevik revolutionary leader, had applied officially for permission to live in Mexico. Trotzky's permit to live in Norway expired today.

Permission for Trotzky to come to Mexico was granted on the provision he respect Mexican law and refrain from spreading his theories or propagandizing communism in the country, the government said. It was said the exile may leave Norway tomorrow.

Camel Attacks Attendant; Victim Bitten, Trampled

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 17.—(AP)—John C. Hane, 55, park board employé, was bitten and trampled by a frenzied camel when he entered its pen here today. Hane said the camel, which he had tended eight years, took his head in its mouth and shook him much as a cat shakes a mouse. Then, he said, it knelt on him and, while twenty WPA employés rushed to his aid, trampled him. Hane suffered ankle and wrist fractures, chest injuries and head gashes from the camel's teeth. He will recover.

Geneva Will Give All City Employes a Yule Bonus

For the second consecutive year the forty city employés of Geneva will receive Christmas bonuses ranging from 1 to 2 per cent of their year's pay. City officials also announced yesterday that 25 per cent rebates on December electric light bills will be given to some 1,300 citizens who purchase their electricity through the city.

NewOperation for Virility Is Held a Success

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—New hope for men whose virility has been interrupted by injuries, operations, muscular deterioration, and advancing age appeared today in a report of surgical experiments conducted by two members of the department of urology in the James Buchanan Brady Foundation at New York hospital.

The report by Drs. Oswald Lowsley and James L. Brady supplements a report made in the Southern Medical Journal just a year ago. The new report confirms by an additional year's work the earlier findings.

The method involves a completely new technique, which follows natural physiological processes, differing sharply from the so-called monkey gland and Steinach operations.

The Grafts Are Absorbed.

The monkey gland method, in which glands were transplanted to stimulate and supplement natural processes, has proved generally to be only temporary at best. The transplanted glands are absorbed and their helpfulness ceases.

The Steinach method had the disadvantage of destroying any possibility of fatherhood for the sake of restoring sexual potency.

The new method appears to be permanent and does not interfere in any way with the fertility of the patient. It is rapid in its effectiveness. Of twenty men operated on only four have failed to respond. These ranged from 63 to 66 years of age.

In the earlier report it was impossible to tell whether the apparent success would prove only temporary. The intervening year has seemed to indicate its probable permanency.

Shortens Essential Muscle.

The operation consists of shortening the bulbocavernosus muscle, the function of which is to delay or prevent the return of blood. Certain types of impotency, it has been determined, are due to weakening of this muscle.

A ribbon, or flat type of gut, which will not cut the delicate muscles like round twisted catgut, is used. It is treated with chemicals to delay its absorption until the muscle, which has been tied into a shortened position, has had time to grow together with scar tissue.

A reason for expecting permanency is that even the chemically treated ribbon gut is absorbed in perhaps three months, and the beneficial effects of the operations older than that have survived. Scar tissue, which binds the shortened muscle in its new position, tends to grow and strengthen with time.

N.Y. Slayers Escape After Shooting Here

Dominic Scaduto, a New York gangster, was deftly selected from a group of terrified bystanders in a pool hall at 1032 West Grand avenue last night and with the swift, impersonal deadliness of a Spanish military execution was shot dead. There were fourteen bullets in his body when the gaping pool players saw the executioners—three dark visaged gunmen—glide out of the place and disappear.

The police perceived a New York method in the assassination when they found records showing that Scaduto's brother was shot to death with the same mechanical coolness in New York five months ago.

Unconcerned Over Witnesses.

The killing of Scaduto last night apparently gave the assassins small concern as to any future identification by the thirteen witnesses. Except for this it was reminiscent of the Valentine day massacre of seven men in a North Clark street garage nearly eight years ago.

Scaduto was 24 years old. He lived at 457 Curtis street. Upon discovering his past residence in New York the police turned there to find a motive for his murder. Last July 11 the brother, Joseph Scaduto, about 28 years old, was fatally shot as he was having his shoes shined near a New York subway station. Within the following week Dominic Scaduto was in Chicago.

Believed Hiding Here.

In the opinion of Lieut. Thomas McLaughlin of the North Racine avenue station, Scaduto came to Chicago to hide as a result of his brother's murder. It was also thought the killing might be tied up somehow with the assassination of Arthur [Dutch Schultz] Flegenheimer, New York racket boss, or the recent conviction of Charles [Lucky] Luciano, vice lord in the eastern city.

In any event the manner of Scaduto's murder was not the kind ordinarily reserved for the lesser figures of gangland. On the surface Scaduto didn't seem to amount to much. His job was to rack the pool table balls for customers in the Grand avenue poolroom. For this he was paid $2 a day.

Gunmen Interrupt Play.

He was doing this job last night when the gunmen strode in. Three of the four tables were being used, two men playing at each table. Six others were looking on. Scaduto was standing by, with triangular rack in hand, waiting for the cue thump to summon him to one of the tables Samuel Catalino, 29 years old, owner of the pool hall, was sitting at a counter.

The gunmen were older than the usual killer type, the youngest about 34, the eldest about 39. The two first inside the poolroom carried automatic pistols. Their companion, about 5 feet 8 inches tall and heavy, and wearing a dark striped suit and a dark fedora hat, carried a sawed off shotgun. He acted as the sergeant of the execution squad.

"A stickup, men," he announced. "Don't move."

HOW AMBULANCE RING GRABS ITS VICTIMS IS TOLD

Hundreds Involved; Arraign 8 Today.

An intimate disclosure of how a conspiracy of crooked doctors, lawyers, undertakers, and "runners" has operated to defraud the victims of accidents as well as transportation companies and the public was given out last night by Lieut. John Howe from the office of Police Commissioner Allman.

He told how crooked doctors belonging to the gang make a minor injury appear to be a major one; how questionable hospitals accept profits; how lawyers use many tricks to clutch accident victims; how even some policemen give information to the ring. Lieut. Howe said the profits of the racket amounted to thousands of dollars; paid chiefly by insurance companies, railroads, the surface and elevated lines, and taxicab and bus companies.

Find List of Names.

The disclosures followed a two months' investigation which resulted in the arrests early yesterday of eight persons. Lieut. Howe promised that more members of the ring would be in custody shortly. He indicated that several hundred persons may be involved as informers or runners for the gang. He revealed that the police have in their possession a list of 75 lawyers, 50 physicians, and three hospitals with which the ring did business. [Details of the arrests made yesterday will be found on page 2.]

Lieut. Howe said the ring had its own X-ray expert, "who can make an X-ray picture just as the ambulance chaser wants it." The organization even had its favorite undertaker, who divided fees with the doctors and lawyers whenever a "client" died or was moved by ambulance to a "chaser" hospital.

Lieut. Howe told the story of the ring's methods by relating a series of typical cases.

TYPICAL CASE DESCRIBED

"Let it be assumed," he said, "that John Doe was struck by a taxicab. He was taken immediately to the ——— hospital in a police patrol wagon. One of the attorneys in the ring has a tipster, an informant, at that hospital who notifies him by telephone whenever a personal injury case comes in. Hospital tipsters get $10 on an ordinary case of bruises and $20 when a bone has been fractured.

"When the attorney received word of John Doe's accident he sent his runner to the hospital. The runner, a smooth fellow, soon was at Doe's bedside. Doe, suffering from severe bruises, listened with appreciation as the runner denounced the cab company and commiserated with him on his misfortune.

Heavy Share for Lawyer.

"Doe was distraught and his new friend seemed like a good honest fellow, so without much argument he signed a contract engaging the attorney to recover damages. Under the contract the attorney would receive from 30 to 50 per cent of whatever was collected to compensate Mr. Doe.

"With the contract in his pocket the runner wasted no more words of sympathy. He left the hospital and went directly to the ring's favorite undertaker. An hour later the undertaker's ambulance arrived at the hospital.

"Doe was carried out to the ambulance and transferred to a new hospital—one more friendly to the attorney's hopes for getting a large fee. Soon after Doe's arrival at the second hospital Dr. —— appeared smilingly at his bedside.

The Wonders of the X-Ray.

"Doe had never seen the doctor before, but he found out later [in negotiations with the cab company] that the physician had ministered to him from birth. X-rays were taken, showing that Doe's bones were all intact, but that was no great obstacle.

"The ring's X-ray expert touched up the plates, showing a nasty fracture. Doe stayed at the hospital for a long time. After he was released, with regret, by the hospital, the attorney went into action against the cab company.

"He showed the fraudulent X-ray plates, submitted the statement of Doe's 'family physician.' The cab company paid $500—the sum appeared cheap, considering Doe's 'serious' injury and his long hospitalization. When the fees were split between the lawyer, the doctor, the hospital, the runner, the tipster, and the ambulance owner Doe got considerably less than he would have received if he had settled directly with the cab company."

READY WITH MANY TRICKS

Lieut. Howe told another story involving a woman whose name can be assumed to be Mary Doe. She was hurt in a street car accident and was taken to a reputable hospital, where another ambulance chasing lawyer has an informant.

"The lawyer's runner arrived promptly at the hospital," Lieut. Howe said, "and was informed that no one but relatives would be permitted at the victim's bedside. The runner called a girl member of the ring, and presently a hysterical feminine voice came over the hospital switchboard.

"'I am Mary Doe's sister,' said the voice. 'I am sending our family attorney over to see her immediately.'

"Soon afterward the runner, disguised as the family attorney, was racing into Mary Doe's room, contract in hand."

POSE AS RELATIVES

Lieut. Howe related another case illustrating the devious methods of the ring. This case involved a man whose name may be assumed to be Smith.

"Mr. Smith," said Lieut. Howe, "was hit by a truck and taken to a hospital. Another $10 informant notified an attorney member of the ring, and a runner appeared quickly at the hospital. He was told that none would be permitted to see Mr. Smith except a member of his family, or at least some one who would guarantee payment of the hospital bill.

"The runner wasn't baffled very long by that problem. He called his lawyer-employer and soon reappeared at the hospital, identifying himself as a brother of Mr. Smith. To prove his good faith to the hospital he made a deposit on the hospital bill. A few minutes later he was in Mr. Smith's sickroom, fumbling for his contract as he made his speech of sympathy."

Victims Are Double Losers.

In each case, Lieut. Howe explained, the routine is much the same, varying only in the devices used to trick reputable hospitals and in the devices used to trick the accident victims. In all the cases, he said, the principal beneficiaries are the members of the ring, not the victims.

"It has been a lucrative racket," Lieut. Howe continued. "As the result of a bad crash on 75th street, for example, the Chicago Surface Lines paid out injury claims to eighteen more persons than the car would hold.

"The ambulance chasers file most of their claims against the common carriers and the insurance companies. They rarely file a claim under the workmen's compensation act, not only because this means slow work and relatively small returns, but also because it means defending their clients in court. And that's one thing these lawyers like to avoid."

About 6,000 personal injury suits are filed in Cook county each year, but twice that many claims are settled without getting into court, according to officials. Of the suits filed about 15 per cent are settled before they come to trial.

ARRAIGN EIGHT TODAY

The eight persons arrested yesterday in the campaign against ambulance chasing will be arraigned this morning in the Racket court on charges of conspiracy to defraud by faking claims. They are:

FRED B. OEFF, 48 years old, former park policeman, now the operator of a saloon at 623 Roscoe street. He was arrested there late in the day.

LUCIEN PLANT, 46 years old, 720 North Wabash avenue.

MRS. DOROTHY PLANT, his wife.

WILLIAM EDWARD EVANS, 47 years old, 1939 Lincoln avenue.

The last seven were arrested early in the day in a series of quick raids which followed a two months' investigation by the police. One of the principal spurs to the police inquiry was the Granville avenue elevated train crash on Nov. 24, which resulted in a virtual siege of five hospitals by ambulance chasers.

Police said the suspects now under arrest occupied apartments fitted out more like offices than living quarters. There were even short wave radio sets in them, so that their occupants might receive police calls and hurry to accident scenes.

Within a few hours of the first arrests, George M. Crane, an attorney, appeared before Judge John Prystalski to file writs of habeas corpus on behalf of the Plants, Miss Dickinson, and Allen. Over the opposition of Assistant State's Attorney Harry Posner, they were made returnable at 10 a. m. today before Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of Criminal court.

Argues for More Time.

"The police should be given more time in this case," Posner argued, but was told that he might renew his plea this morning.

Yesterday's first raid was made on the apartment of the Gallant woman after Howe had gone before Judge Frank M. Padden of the Felony court to get search warants and writs charging conspiracy to defraud. In this place the police found a short wave radio as well as documents that were said to reveal a definite link between the ring, doctors, hospitals, and lawyers.

The raiders next pounced on an office used by the Plants at 720 North Wabash avenue. Miss Dickinson and Allen were also taken into custody here.

This place, too, was furnished as an office, complete with a short wave radio receiver. It also yielded more documentary evidence, according to the authorities.

Seized at His Radio Set.

Nemerovski was operating his radio het, the police said, when they broke in on him. Still another radio set and more evidence was found in Evans' apartment on the north side.

Faith Bacon, the fan dancer, was found at the North Wabash avenue address, according to Howe. He said she was a friend of Miss Dickinson. The vaudeville dancer was not arrested because she is suffering from a leg injury, suffered recently at the State-Lake theater. Howe indicated that she would be questioned later.

Charge Two Are Fugitives.

Allen and the Gallant woman fled to Chicago from St. Louis to avoid arrest there for similar activities, Howe said.

He declared that the ring probably had hundreds of runners in its employ. As soon as news of an accident was received by radio one of these, armed with blank contracts, was dispatched to the scene.

Some of the blank contracts confiscated yesterday bore the signature of lawyers connected with the ring, he said. The boldness of the organization, of which Mrs. Plant was said to be the "brains," was further indicated by its distribution of pencils bearing the telephone number of its Wabash avenue headquarters—lest prospective accident tipsters lose any time by paging through a telephone directory.

RICHARD J. DALY IS NAMED CHIEF DEPUTY COUNTY CONTROLER

Richard J. Daley, former secretary to the county treasurer, yesterday was appointed chief deputy county controler to fill the vacancy caused by the death on Dec. 9 of Michael J. O'Connor, who held the post for twenty years.

RICHARD J. DALEY.

The appointment of Daley was made by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, who is ex-officio controler for the county. Flynn said he considered more than fifty applicants for the position but chose Daley because of his knowledge of county finances.

Daley was secretary under four former county treasurers: Joseph B. McDonough, Thomas D. Nash, Robert M. Sweitzer, and Joseph L. Gill. He is an attorney. On Nov. 3 he was elected state representative from the 9th district to succeed David Shanahan, who died Oct. 18.

WOMAN KILLS SELF IN HOME.

Mrs. Kristina Ricica, 46 years old, 1935 South Carpenter street, was found dead on the floor of her kitchen last night. She inhaled gas from a stove burner through a rubber tube.

HIS WIFE LEAVES; POLICEMAN KILLS FIVE, SHOOTS 6TH

Crazed by Charges of Molesting Child.

Duquesne, Pa., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Crazed because his young wife left him, Policeman Martin Sullivan, 70 years old, ran amok tonight and killed five persons and wounded a sixth. The domestic split had resulted when a charge of molesting a 12 year old girl was lodged against him yesterday.

The victims were persons instrumental in filing the charges. Three of those slain were women and included the social worker who was directing the morals case against him, whom he shot through the mouth.

Goes to See Wife First.

Sullivan, according to police, went to the home of his estranged wife in Erwin avenue and demanded to know why she had left him. During the quarrel that followed he drew his service revolver and shot Joseph Benda, his father-in-law, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Benda, 45. Then he went to the home of Antoinette Vukelja, 12, the girl he was accused of molesting, and killed her mother, Mrs. Mary Vukelja, 49, and shot the girl's brother, Jack Vukelja, 19, when he attempted to wrest the gun away.

John Vukelja, 52, father of the girl, was shot by Sullivan as he was coming in to investigate the firing. He was taken to Duquesne city hospital suffering from a wound in the right side. His condition is critical.

Social Worker Slain Last.

After leaving the Vukelja home Sullivan went to the home of Mrs. Laura Bacon, 53, the social worker, and shot her. Mrs. Bacon was head of the Duquesne Community Center and the Carnegie Illinois Steel welfare department.

After this slaying, Sullivan placed the gun in his holster and started for the police station. He was arrested on the way.

Sullivan was married to Helen Benda four years ago when the girl was 15 and still an elementary student in a local school. The young wife's family at the time attempted to have the marriage annulled, but Sullivan hired attorneys to fight it. After a long court fight the girl and Sullivan went to live near here.

Hear Rumors of Arrest.

Rumors were circulated last week that Sullivan was to be arrested for molesting the young Vukelja girl. Yesterday, after the information was filed, his wife left him.

When Sullivan reported for duty tonight, he told brother officers in the station, "that he was going to get the ones that had caused the filing of the information." Thinking that he was joking, they watched Sullivan oil his service pistol and smiled at his remark that "this is the day I'm going to clean the slate."

It was learned later that Sullivan was to be taken to jail on the charge tonight by a constable. Through a ruse, he had eluded the constable to start on his killing rampage.

SEEK LAWS TO GIVE JUDGES MORE POWER IN CURBING MORONS

Legislation to give greater judicial power for the control of sex crimes will be sought at the January session of the legislature by Judge Justin F. McCarthy of the Municipal court and State Senator William J. Connors of the 29th [near north side] district. Judge McCarthy made this announcement yesterday in a letter to the Women's Civic council, which has launched a movement for adequate punishment of sex offenders.

Meanwhile 25 residents of the Austin district appeared in Domestic Relations court in indignant mood against Carlos C. Loayza, 38 years old, 491 North Waller avenue, who is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 4 year old girl. Judge George B. Weiss continued the hearing to Dec. 29 after hearing character witnesses for Loayza, a welder. The judge said he wanted to make further investigation of the complaint.

Benjamin Kapustka, 29 years old, 4856 South Elizabeth street, a rapist who was paroled from prison in 1934, was fined $200 by Judge Frank M. Padden in Felony court on a charge of disorderly conduct for annoying a 10 year old girl. Judge Padden said he regretted his lack of power to give a more severe penalty.

ENGINEER AT 80 RESUMES FIGHT TO CLEAR NAME

Oberlin M. Carter, 80 years old, a consulting engineer of 2947 Wilson avenue, will leave Sunday for Washington to continue his fight to clear his name, waged since the turn of the century. His object is to have a court martial conviction of 1898 declared void on the ground of fraud. After his conviction he was dismissed from the army, in which he was a captain of engineers, and was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth penitentiary.

He will act as his own lawyer Monday in a hearing before Justice Joseph W. Cox of the federal District court in Washington. The hearing is on a motion to dismiss his bill of complaint filed against Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring, who is empowered to order an inquiry into the facts surrounding the court martial. If his bill is dismissed, Carter said he would appeal to the United States Supreme court. He was convicted of fraud in government harbor work.

FEAR PARIS RIOTS AS FOOD STRIKE LEADER IS JAILED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 17.—Henri Dorgeres, otherwise known as Count d'Halluin, leader of the green shirted Peasant Front, was arrested tonight with his secretary, named Rouard.

Dorgeres had been forbidden ever since the truck gardeners' strike began last Monday to enter Paris central market region, also known as the "stomach of Paris." Dorgeres, who organized the strike, was arrested on the very edge of the district.

WOMAN JAILED IN FRAUDULENT INJURY CLAIM

Miss Jeanette Hymovitz, 22 years old, 1321 South Homan avenue, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Frank M. Padden in Felony court of attempting to obtain $50 from the Chicago Surface Lines in settlement of a false injury claim. She was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Miss Hymovitz had first claimed to have incurred injuries when she was jolted on a street car at 47th street and Kedzie avenue last Oct. 12. She was the sixth person jailed by Judge Padden within the last week for making false injury claims against the street car company.

CHINESE HEM IN REBELS; BATTLE TO SAVE RULER

Advance on City Where Chiang Is Prisoner.

NANKING, China, Dec. 18 [Friday.].—Two armies fought today while secret negotiators debated settlement of a civil war that may cost the lives of both leaders, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his captor, Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang.

The Nankin régime, although asserting its armies were highly successful on the Shensi battlefront and declaring its refusal to compromise with the rebel Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, was known to be considering terms on which the leader of the uprising at Sianfu, capital of Shensi, proposed to free Chiang and end the civil war.

Drive Back Rebels.

Loyal divisions were reported steadily driving the rebel troops back on Sianfu, over which government planes were flying in awesome demonstrations. It is in Sianfu that the government asserts the generalissimo is held captive, with several of his generals, by the rebel "young marshal."

Nanking's reports from the battlefield pictured successes for the loyal divisions encircling the rebel capital, and officials indicated Marshal Chang's readiness to negotiate was due in part to his desperate military situation.

Finest Planes Assembled.

The finest units of the modern air force developed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek were concentrated in several air fields in Honan, including scores of the latest models made by American Aircraft manufacturers and piloted by flyers largely American-taught.

Nanking asserted loyal divisions were driving all before them, compelling the rebels to fall back rapidly on Sianfu, which government successes already had cut off from railway communication with the outside and from possible aid by any allies.

West of Sianfu Nanking troops were said to hold Paochi, terminus of the vital Lunghai railway, while on the east government units had seized this line to within 50 miles of Sianfu.

[The Official Central News agency at Shanghai said fighting had already spread around Sianfu itself. Rumors circulated in Shanghai, without confirmation, that Marshal Chang already had fled by plane to Taiyuenfu, Shansi province, and that he was attempting to leave the country, presumably through Peiping or Tientsin.]

Interest Centers in Conferences.

Deep interest centered in the closely guarded conferences at Nanking, where James Elder, British adviser to Marshal Chang, was closeted with Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, her brother-in-law, Dr. H. H. Kung, minister of finance and temporary head of the government, and her brother, T. V. Soong, former minister of finance and high in government councils.

Elder arrived by air from Sianfu to communicate terms on which Marshal Chang proposes to settle the crisis. He was rushed from the airfield in a closed automobile to Dr. Kung's residence, where only the highest leaders of the Nanking government were permitted to talk with him.

Rebellious troops of Marshal Chang, former war lord of Manchuria, seized Gen. Chiang last Friday. The rebels demanded among other things that Nanking make war on Japan and that communists be admitted to the government party.

The government outwardly maintained an unyielding attitude toward Marshal Chang. The control yuan [council] voted that the rebel chieftain should be condemned to public execution for his rebellion, a crime "so enormous it cannot be expiated should he [Chang] die a thousand deaths."

Dr. Kung, in a speech broadcast from Nanking, said "The campaign against Sianfu will be pursued with unabated vigor."

"While we are all anxious that Gen. Chiang may be rescued and returned to safety, our attitude is that the personal safety or movements of one man [referring to Chiang] should not be allowed to interfere with the normal conduct of the government," he said.

After the meeting between Elder and Nanking leaders an official spokesman asserted it "would be beneath the dignity of the government to negotiate with Marshal Chang, whom we consider a bandit. Nanking might be prepared to offer Marshal Chang assurances for his personal safety but the government will never come to political terms with him."

Brings New Proposals.

It was nevertheless known that efforts to obtain a negotiated settlement of the crisis were going forward. Elders' talks in Nanking were understood to have paved the way for the government's consideration of further proposals which one of Chiang's most trusted lieutenants was bringing from Sianfu.

The government continued to publish evidence supporting its contention that the generalissimo is alive and unharmed, although a prisoner, at Sianfu. An official spokesman said a messenger was on his way to Nanking from Sianfu with an autographed letter from Chiang which would "dispel doubts as to the general's safety."

He said a telegram had been received from W. H. Donald, Chiang's Australian adviser, saying Donald had returned from Loyang, Honan province, to Sianfu "and was remaining in the same room with the generalissimo."

Japan Warns China.

TOKIO, Dec. 18 [Friday].—(AP)—Japan served notice on China today she will consider her own security and the peace of the far east seriously endangered "if the young marshal's [Chang Hsueh-liang's] program is carried out and China turns Red." the Doemi [Japanese] News agency reported.

Hachiro Arita, foreign minister, told Ambassador Hsu Shih-ying of China that "pending clarification of the situation the Japanese government is watching developments in the Sianfu coup with serious concern."

Japan's highest officials repeatedly have asserted it is Japan's mission "to maintain the peace of East Asia"; that the spread of communism in China is one of the gravest dangers to that peace; that Japan cannot remain inactive if communism makes further gains on the continent.

[Foreign Minister Arita's statement may be considered a veiled threat of intervention if Nanking fails to suppress communist-inspired uprisings.]

Away from Studio

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Producer B. P. Shulberg was trapped by love today as dark haired Gail Patrick honeymooned—completely ignoring the fact she was due on the set of the picture "Love Trap."

Miss Patrick and Robert Howard Cobb, Hollywood restaurateur, were wed at Tijuana, Mexico, returned to San Diego and disappeared.

POPE SUFFERS A NEW RELAPSE; CONDITION WEAK

Pontiff Is Fatigued After Audiences.

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI. relapsed again into a period of weakness tonight, the result, worried physicians said, of undue exertion.

The newest setback came while the 79 year old pontiff was talking with a visitor about 5 o'clock in the evening. It climaxed the pontiff's best day since his illness.

Doctors and other persons close to the holy father, saying it was evident the pope must not again resume the strenuous activities which are his forte, took occasion to urge him anew to rest completely.

Insists on Working.

He insisted on carrying on some work today, receiving Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, the papal secretary of state; Cardinal Dominic Mariani, economic administrator of the holy see, and his nephew, Franco Ratti, technical director for Vatican City.

Prelates said the audiences were absolutely necessary to the conduct of important affairs. But the pontiff's doctors have explained to him with great stress that his setbacks, since a slight paralytic stroke twelve days ago, have been due to overexertion.

Dr. Aminta Milani, after visiting the pope for the third time today, said danger was not over and that the pontiff must give himself several weeks of complete rest.

Audiences Suspended.

Audiences with bishops and other dignitaries, which in the past have taken much of the pope's time, were suspended indefinitly. Prelates said, however, the pope was desirous of making another speech deploring the civil war in Spain when the cardinals call on him Christmas eve to present their holiday greetings.

Some thought the holy father might this year proposes a Christmas armistice in Spain, as he did during the Chaco war, but prelates believed this was unlikely. They said the Vatican cannot well "propose an armistice with the forces of communism."

Killer Waits Noose; Widow of Victim to See Him Die

Fulton, Mo., Dec. 17.—(AP)—George McKeever, 36, who often has said "I've done plenty of stickups but never killed a man," arrived tonight from Missouri penitentiary to go to the gallows at daybreak tomorrow for the murder of State Highway Patrol Sergeant Ben Booth, June 14, 1933. Mrs. Booth said she would witness the execution. Officers declined her request that her two children also attend.

15 Hold Policies

A check for $10,500 was turned over yesterday to the mother of a holder of a TRIBUNE accident insurance policy who was killed in the elevated train crash of Nov. 24.

The $10,500 was paid to Mrs. Caroline L. Mullen, whose daughter Mary Virginia, 27 years old, was one of the eleven persons who died as a result of the wreck. Another daughter, Dorothy, 22 years old, sustained a broken pelvis.

Miss Mullen, who was a secretary to Attorney Thomas B. Lantry, 209 South La Salle street, obtained her $7,500 policy more than four years ago. Its face value, increasing 10 per cent each year, had an accumulation of $3,000, making a total of $10,500.

Fifteen casualties of the wreck, including four of the dead, carried the TRIBUNE's insurance protection, which is issued solely to subscribers of THE TRIBUNE. The four death benefit claims totaled $40,500.

SHARE OF SALES TAX FOR CITIES ASKED BY LEAGUE

The legislative committee of the Illinois Municipal league, meeting yesterday in the Palmer house, drafted an eighteen point program for presentation at the next session of the legislature.

Among the most important proposed bills is one providing for the redistribution to cities, villages and incorporated towns of one-third of the state sales tax for general corporate purposes. Another bill provides for uniform closing hours for taverns throughout the state. City treasurers would be allowed to succeed themselves in office in aldermanic cities, according to the provisions of another measure.

Striking Drivers Wreck Three Gasoline Tankers

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17.—(AP)—One man was injured and three automobiles and a gasoline tank truck were damaged today in a street riot which police said was a battle between relief truck operators and striking drivers. Police said the fight started when a car loaded with strikers collided with another automobile full of men supposedly escorting the gasoline truck. Strikers halted and wrecked two other tank trucks today.

WALLIS SIMPSON QUEENLY WOMAN, WRITER ASSERTS

Personality Portrait of Her Drawn.

(This article, the most intimate word picture of Wallis Simpson that has ever been drawn, was written by her cousin by marriage, Newbold Noyes, part owner and associate editor of the Washington Star, and son of Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press. It is based on Mr. Noyes' long acquaintance with Mrs. Simpson, as well as his observations and conversations with her within the last two weeks.)

BY NEWBOLD NOYES.

[World Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Inc.]

Only one circumstance—the fact that she twice had found marital unhappiness—kept Wallis Simpson from becoming queen of England.

The duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson are both convinced of this. They feel that the British empire would have accepted a commoner and even an American, but would not allow a twice divorced woman to become a royal consort.

Wallis Simpson, in my opinion, is as well fitted for a throne—in character, poise, and mental attributes—as any woman who ever lived.

Reveals Her Personality.

Millions of words have been written about Mrs. Simpson, but I propose in this article to attempt to show her personality as it was revealed not only in my presence but in the presence of the man she loves. Behind this revelation stand many years of our personal friendship.

Wallis Simpson is not beautiful in the classic sense of beauty. Her face is too strong in character and personality to be that. She is, of course, dark. This is not precisely true of her hair. Although in photographs it looks quite black, actually it is dark brown with golden lights. A year ago she wore it with little curls upon her brow. Today there are none, and her hair is drawn straight back in a lovely simple line.

Eyes Deep Violet.

Her eyebrows are very delicately traced, and her lashes are black. Her eyes are a deep violet. There is a tiny crease between her brows and this, she insists, is a family trait. Her forehead, which is very high, is perhaps the best feature she possesses. Her nose is finely chiseled and her mouth bespeaks sympathy and humor. She has perfect teeth and her frank smile displays them to advantage.

She is 39 years old, other reports to the contrary notwithstanding, and looks younger. She is 5 feet 4 inches tall and looks taller. [She is 2 inches shorter than the ex-king]. Her normal weight is 114 pounds, but today she is several pounds under this because of the tremendous strain of the last few weeks. She is now more slender than ever before in her life.

Moves Like Thoroughbred.

The poise of her head upon a slender and well modeled neck, typical of her whole bone structure, is lovely and proud. She has what the French call "fine points"—slim ankles and wrists. Her hands are strong and capable, with not very long fingers. Her feet are quite tiny. Her figure is trim, but in no sense boyish. She moves like an eager thoroughbred.

Wallis Simpson would be the first to admit she is not beautiful. But this adjective can certainly be applied to the expressions her face assumes from moment to moment. And this is markedly noticeable when her whole being takes on the added aura of loveliness in the presence of Edward, as is the case the world over when a woman is in the company of the man she loves.

I watched her as she greeted him on his return from a few hours' absence, as she chatted with him about the little nothings that play so important a part in the lives of two people in love, as she argued with him about matters of general world importance, or as their eyes met when she parted from him even for a few minutes.

Rudyard Kipling, himself uncrowned poet laureate because he wrote "The Widow of Windsor," would have rejoiced in these two. The whole essence of their attitude seems to be beautifully epitomized in a paraphrase of one of his verses:

"But there is neither east nor west,
Border or breed or birth,
When two strong hearts stand side by side,
Though they come from the ends of the earth."

But the physical picture, charming and interesting though it may be, is not the essential part of this portrait. Wallis Simpson's charm—I have heard many who know her term it fascination—lies in her character probably even more than in her physical vividness. And except that her personality shows in the frankness and generosity of her smile, in the sympathy and keenness of her eyes and in the proud carriage of her small patrician head, the rest is not of vital significance.

The five chief characteristics which, I think, predominate in Mrs. Simpson's personality are companionability, loyalty, simplicity, vitality, and naturalness.

She is the perfect companion, and this accounts perhaps more strongly than all else for her attraction for Edward. She has the supreme conversational capacity of being a good listener as well as a good talker. She not only gives the impression—but it is actually true—that she is deeply interested in the person vis-à-vis, in his viewpoints, in his interests, in what he has to say.

Laughter Is Genuine.

She laughs at the right places, and her laughter is genuine. Her wit, proverbial in London and on the continent, is but a refinement of the slightly more boisterous humor of her girlhood days.

One of her close woman friends said recently:

"The truth about Wallis is that if I had to be a castaway on a desert island with only one woman companion, of all the women in the world that I have known, my choice would be Wallis."

Wallis Simpson is loyal. She inspires loyalty in her friends. She has never forgotten and never lost a friend. In adversity or fortune, in deepest woe, or with the world at her feet, she is staunch and steadfast and completely unaffected in her friendships. The two men who were her husbands speak of her today as "the finest woman they have ever known."

Simplicity shows in her every taste and habit. Her home, which will later be described in these articles, is tastefully but plainly furnished. Her clothes, her jewelry, which has been so absurdly exaggerated, the food she serves on her table, the way she presides at unostentatious tea at her own fireside, or mixes her own cocktails for a group of friends before dinner—all these speak eloquently of this strong trait.

Her clothes, most of which come from Paris, are classic in their lines. Her hats are small and close-fitting. [She hates floppy ones.] Her entire appearance denotes the simplicity that only women of invincible chic can maintain.

Fussiness, ultra-modernity, ostentation, slovenliness, "swank"—these she finds hard to understand or abide. Directness, candor, sincerity—these she practices, admires, and inspires in all aspects and contacts of her daily life.

Intensely Vital Person.

She is intensely vital. Vitality shows in her conversation, in the energy with which she faces each day and hour, in the viewpoint from which she looks at world affairs and the decisiveness with which she handles her own problems.

It shows, too, in the crispness of her speech, which, retaining part of her earlier Baltimore accent, has inevitably taken on a slightly British flavor. It is there, too, in the way she walks and dances, and in her quick, bright smile.

Her naturalness is deep-rooted and entirely genuine. There is no pose in her makeup. She has never thought, for example, to change a voice a trifle too high pitched to be ideal. "It's just my voice," she says.

Fond of Her Two Dogs.

She feeds and bathes and adores her two dogs—a Cairn terrier and a small, comical dachshund. She took them with her from 16 Cumberland terrace to Fort Belvedere, but she was unable to take them with her to France—a fact that grieved her sorely.

Her likes and dislikes are pronounced. She hates cats and flying and sham and winter sports [although she has tried them in company with the ex-king].

It was snowing when she made her statement in Cannes, offering withdrawal from "a situation grown unhappy and untenable." But under the white flakes that covered them the mimosa and jasmine blossoms still bloomed. And across the length and breadth of the world, those who admire and respect this woman so deeply and sincerely in love, must hope that the cold and tragic series of events which have blighted two lives may thaw, and that warmth of understanding may somehow bring back the full beauty and fragrance of a very human and comprehensible romance.

MRS. SIMPSON GOES FOR HOUR'S DRIVE IN THE RIVIERA TWILIGHT

CANNES, France, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Wallis Simpson, wearing a smart white ermine coat and a Russian-style casque to match, motored in the Riviera twilight for an hour this evening.

She took no chances on the curious crowds which interrupted a shopping trip earlier in the week, and made but one stop. That was when the chauffeur-driven machine paused at a Cannes hotel, on its return, to permit Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, her host, and hostess, to alight. The trio returned to the Rogers' villa late in the evening.

Meanwhile in Menton police arrested a man and woman attached to a yacht crew there and reports immediately circulated that the case was connected with threatening letters which had been sent to Mrs. Simpson. Police, however, said the arrests had nothing to do with Mrs. Simpson, but resulted from a theft last July.

SUGGESTION—to a worried lady...

HERE ARE THREE REASONS WHY HE'LL LIKE

Daytime Jewelry by SWANK

First of all, he'll like it because French cuffs are rapidly coming back into style for all kinds of shirts, which means he'll need cuff links. Secondly, tie chains and clasps have become so much a part of a man's wardrobe that he doesn't feel completely dressed without them. And thirdly—in spite of all this, jewelry is something which he'll appreciate more because he'd never think of buying it for himself!

EDWARD PRAISED BY AUSTRIA FOR QUITTING THRONE

Former British Monarch Hailed as Real Man.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Dec. 17.—The Austrian government's Fatherland Front tomorrow will publish an article in its official organ warmly praising the duke of Windsor for renouncing the English throne to marry Mrs. Wallis Simpson and welcoming him to Austria. The official Austrian organ refers to Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin of Great Britain as former King Edward's "great antagonist."

Replying, it is believed here, to sneering articles in Czechoslovakian newspapers the last few days, the article says:

"We do not see in him [Edward] the hero of a drama, but a man who is above all a man and wants to be a man. We Austrians, though knowing well the spell cast by a crown, recognized in him a man even without a crown and therefore honor him none the less."

The Prague Tageblatt had said the ex-king "was not a hero nor even a man, but a musical comedy character."

Other uncomplimentary remarks about Edward and his successor [King George VI. of England] have appeared in the Czech press. The semi-official Prague Presse remarked that George VI. thinks and talks even more slowly than his predecessor.

The duke, meantime, was reported to have left the Enzesfeld estate of Baron Eugene Rothschild late tonight for a three hour motor trip to an undisclosed destination. He was accompanied by two companions.

He continued his routine of golf and skittles and in addition viewed a Mickey Mouse film. It is reported that he has been called upon twice since his arrival by Dr. Heinrich Neumann, ear specialist, but whether professionally or as a friend could not be discovered.

May Be Santa Claus.

Persistent reports say Edward has been pressed into service by Baroness Rothschild [the former Katherine Wolff of Philadelphia] to serve as Santa Claus for the village children on Christmas eve.

Another equally persistent report, originating in Enzesfeld village, is that he is presenting a new carpet to the church, new vestments to the clergy, and intends himself to attend Christmas service in the little village church beside the castle and within a cordon of gendarmes. The church stands under the walls of the castle just across from the little road leading up to it.

Windows Painted Yellow.

The windows pointed out by those on the grounds as Edward's open on a balcony almost over the road and have been newly painted bright yellow, making them stand out from the rest of the building.

It is asserted that the ex-king has appointed his host, Baron Rothschild, to handle his finances for him.

EDWARD MAY USE AUSTRIAN HOME OF CHICAGOAN

Cable reports from Vienna last night hinted that "McCormick haus" [house], situated in a picturesque corner of western Austria, just below Kitzbuhel, about 55 miles northeast of Innsbruck, may be the honeymoon home of the duke of Windsor, ex-king of Great Britain, and Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Thus the international romance may have a Chicago flavor, for "McCormick haus" is owned by Leander J. McCormick of Chicago. He is the son of Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, 179 Lake Shore drive, and the late L. Hamilton McCormick.

Mr. McCormick was on his way to New York last night and could not be reached. His wife, the former Comtesse Rene de Fleurieu, is in Ireland. Mr. McCormick is expected to sail for England soon. His mother said she had not heard of the Vienna reports. She was sure, however, that Mr. McCormick knew nothing of them.

"It is possible, however, that his wife may have leased the Austrian house," she said.

According to the dispatches, it was the plan of the former British monarch to rent the McCormick place. The house originally was a farm home, but Mr. and Mrs. McCormick remodeled it and added several large rooms. All told, it has about fourteen rooms.

Mr. McCormick acquired the place after the destruction by fire of "The Heronry," his country home at Whitchurch, Hampshire, England, in December, 1933.

ARCHBISHOP AND CABINET LASHED FOR OUSTING KING

of criticism about the archbishop of Canterbury's broadcast last Sunday. I have been told that Sir John Reith [director general of BBC] took part in that coronation service.

"If so, I can only say that America with great relief has seen the end of its radio priest [Father Coughlin] and if in this country the duties of radio priests and radio directors are to be combined, we are in for a very remarkable future."

It was reported later that following the earlier outbursts members of parliament were advised that discussion of the archbishop's radio philippic or the ex-king's farewell address would be "out of order."

The debate, in any event, was confined almost exclusively to domestic affairs of the broadcast corporation, a government monopoly, and crticism of the dictatorial attitude of the radio chiefs toward the staf.

According to reports circulating in London the duke of Winsor [Edward] listened to the British radio news bulletin on the commons broadcasting debate.

Lord Brownlow, lord in waiting to Edward when the latter was king and escort of Mrs. Simpson on her dash to Cannes, France, returned to London today from Enzesfeld, Austria, after a brief visit with the former monarch.

Edward May Meet Kent.

The possibility of a meeting between the ex-king and his favorite brother, the duke of Kent, loomed tonight when it was reported here that invitations have been sent to both by Archduke Anton of Hapsburg and his wife, the former Princess Ileana of Rumania, to spend Christmas with them at Castle Sonnberg in lower Austria.

American interest in the British crisis was referred to today by Francis Powell, president of the American Chamber of Commerce in London. Speaking at the luncheon of the chamber he said a warm reception has been given to the accession of George VI. of England, but added:

"Friendly as is our attitude in the United States to this country, I do not think there is the slightest feeling there should be a closer connection or alliance than already exists. If any one has an idea of that kind, he should dismiss it."

Boy, 14, Stabs His Father; Aiding Mother, Police Say

Joseph Rotza, 35 years old, 1613 Dayton street, was stabbed in the shoulder last night by his son, Joseph Jr., 14, when the son, according to police, went to the aid of his mother, who was allegedly being beaten by Rotza. Rotza was taken to the County hospital and the boy to the juvenile home.

LOSES LIFE AS HOME BURNS.

Charles Rivera, 53 years old, a Mexican section hand boss, was burned to death early today when his home, a converted boxcar, at 37th place and Albany avenue, was swept by fire. Rivera was employed by the Chicago and Alton railroad.

WIDER SEARCH FOR LOST PLANE PLANNED TODAY

Snow Hampers Airliner Hunt in Utah.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Searchers failed tonight to develop their only "clew" in the hunt for an airliner lost with seven persons, all feared dead, and wearily moved to begin all over.

At least 25 planes and hundreds of men will launch at dawn a widened hunt for the Western Air Express transport which disappeared Tuesday.

The new program was announced as dusk settled over Utah's jagged, snow-crested mountains. A day long effort ended with no report that any of the ground searchers—on horseback, snowshoes, and skiis—had found the place where one said yesterday he saw possible "traces" of the plane.

Search 100 Square Miles.

Seventeen planes covered an estimated 100 square miles as ground crews fought snow and ice today where the hunt centered in the Wasatch mountains southeast of here.

"Tomorrow," said A. E. Cahlan, spokesman for Western Air, "the search will be broadened.

"The plan is to make a detailed hunt all along the air line route between Milford and Salt Lake City, extending 25 miles out on either side.

"There will be definite assignments for the participating planes so the territory will be covered thoroughly."

Heard Over Milford.

Over Milford, 180 miles southwest of Salt Lake City, Pilot S. J. Samson sent the last radio report heard from the lost liner at 3:27 a. m., mountain standard time, Tuesday. The ship was due here from Los Angeles at 4:10 a. m.

The hunt was centered in the vicinity of the mountain shadowed village of Alpine, 25 miles southeast of Utah's capital, because scores of early risers reported hearing a plane before Tuesday's dawn. Alpine is 30 miles east of the regular flying course.

One by one, under skies bright and clear for the first time since the transport disappeared, searching flyers swooped down at Salt Lake airport with the terse reply to hopeful questioners: "Nothing sighted."

Snow Hampers Search.

In midafternoon planes ranged farther south and along the mountains directly east of Salt Lake City. Fresh snow had increased fears the plane or traces of a crash might have been obscured.

Tom Wolfe, vice president of Western Air in charge of trafic, announced two ground crews had covered an area approximately 6 miles square "without finding a clew." "We are searching the entire district thoroughly," said Wolfe. "Nothing has altered our belief that the plane is in this region."

Some of the ground parties suffered severely from cold and fatigue. Toward the mountain heights snow ranged from 2 feet to waist deep.

Seven in Craft.

Passengers in the craft were Mr. and Mrs. John F. Wolfe of Chicago, newly weds, Chicagobound after a Mexico honeymoon; Henry W. Edwards of Minneapolis; Carl Christopher of Dwight, Ill.

The crew included Pilot S. J. Samson, 38; Co-Pilot William Bogen, 29, Los Angeles, and Gladys Witt, 26, San Diego, Cal., stewardess.

DELIVERY DRIVER ROBBED.

Albert Buckle, 1550 East 63d street, driver of a delivery truck for a loop department store, was robbed of $15 by a gunman who held him up near 1415 East Marquette road and forced him to drive to East 71st street and Prairie avenue. There the robber ordered Buckle from the truck, which was found later at 71st street and Calumet avenue.

THERE IS A SANTA CLAUS

By CALEB

"WE had just embarked from Cherbourg," said a friend. "We had quite thoroughly done England and the Continent in a three-months' trip. We had the three children with us and had devoted more than the usual attention to museums, fairs, and other things which might interest and amuse them. Our whole family was assembled in one stateroom and *some*one said, 'Let's tell what each one of us is most anxious to do upon arriving home!'

"Without a moment's hesitation the middle youngster piped up, 'I want to go to Marshall Field's toy section.' And the oldest boy added, 'I haven't seen as swell a place for kids since we left Chicago.'"

Because we live with our fourth floor, which is devoted to children the year around, and because our toy section is extensive and is as thoughtfully kept up throughout the year as it is during the holiday season, we ourselves sometimes forget how unique this particular section is among the world's important stores.

But there is something else which makes this interesting section unique. A big fellow with a dynamite-like nine-year-old boy called it to our attention. "I have been counting for years on bringing this boy here. We've just moved back to Chicago. I've always told him about these toys. When I was a kid, my folks would bring me here. It was the only place I can remember where I could really put my hands on things. I marvel at the way you let these kids handle trains and cars and wind-up toys. It made a hit with me and I wanted my boy to have the privilege of going through a big toy department where he wouldn't feel like he was trespassing if he wanted to see how something worked."

We looked around and appreciated anew the privilege it is to boys and girls to really "get at" the things they want for Christmas.

Nothing does more toward stimulating the holiday spirit than watching children and toys. In this sophisticated day it is easy to forget there is a Santa Claus. But there is, and it's a good idea to let him stand for something in your heart at Christmas time. It's better not to doubt too much. We are inclined as was the little girl who looked over our plump and smiling Santa Claus from a distance and remarked to her friend, "Well, I think he's just dressed up that way. I hardly think he's real. But I think I'll go talk things over with him, just in case."

G. O. P. LEADERS KEEP HAMILTON BY 74 TO 2 VOTE

Fish Loses Fight Against Party Chairman.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The Republican national committee refused yesterday to accept John Hamilton's proffered resignation as national chairman and gave him a vote of confidence in his management of the recent campaign. The roll call vote stood 74 to 2.

Plans to rebuild the party and to operate it at Washington as a watchful and vigorous minority by the time congress assembles early in January were at once taken up in executive session. Another problem tackled was how to raise a deficit of $901,501 remaining from the Landon-Knox campaign.

Before adjournment Hamilton was empowered to appoint a group of Republicans soon to formulate a plan to bring the party funds out of the red. Hamilton said he would swing around the nation after New Year's to maintain contacts. "We're going to keep the G. O. P. operating on a 365 day a year basis," he said.

Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas is expected to join Hamilton in Chicago tomorrow and accompany him to Washington for the Gridiron dinner.

Fish Leads Opposition.

Four hours of oratory at the Palmer house preceded the vote to retain Hamilton, the red headed Kansan, as G. O. P. chairman. Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York, elected from President Roosevelt's home district and a Borah supporter, led a movement to oust Hamilton as chairman .

Carl Bachmann, former congressman from West Virginia, manager for Senator William E. Borah of Idaho in the campaign before the Cleveland convention, took the floor and urged that the party management seek advice in the future from Senator Borah, Senator Hiram Johnson of California, and "other liberals. Bachmann said he would not take the chairmanship even if it were offered him.

Harding Replies to Fish.

At times the debate grew acrimonious. Declarations from Mr. Fish that the party needs new "liberal leadership" and criticism of its stand on the social security act drew heated rejoinders.

"I'm just as liberal as Mr. Fish," said George Harding, Illinois committeeman. "At Springfield I voted for the initiative and referendum and the recall. We are not a reactionary party. This is no time to make a change."

Mr. Fish, who held an Alaska proxy, passed his vote on roll call, saying he had made his fight. The two votes against Hamilton's retention were cast by Mrs. Katherine Brown of Ohio and L. W. McCormick of Philadelphia, holding a Georgia proxy. Afterward Fish and Hamilton were photographed together.

Curtis Speaks for Hamilton.

Opening the debate over the retention of Hamilton, Arthur M. Curtis of Missouri, who moved to reject the chairman's resignation, remarked:

"I don't see any reason why John Hamilton should resign any more than the national committeemen except for Maine and Vermont, and the state chairmen should all resign. Let's build a fighting party. No man is better fitted to lead it than John."

Raps Stand on Security Act.

As storm center of the meeting, Congressman Fish assailed the stand on the social security act taken in the campaign.

"We cannot afford to stand pat in a changing world," he said. "You must liberalize your leadership and policies or the Republican party dies. Mr. Hamilton led the fight against the social security act, which drove millions of wage earners out of the Republican party. If the word goes out today that the party has learned no lesson, the party will perish.

"The wage earners believe that under present leadership the party is lined up with employers of labor, special privilege, and reactionaryism."

Mrs. Pratt Denies Charge.

At this point Mrs. Ruth Baker Pratt of New York interrupted with a declaration that Mr. Fish was unfair in his remarks.

"The Republican party was not opposed to social security," she said. "We were only opposed to provisions in the social security act which we believed, and we still do, are unsound. I resent Mr. Fish's statements."

"It's too late to give lip service," replied Fish. "We must get the liberals back in the party. Liberalism does not mean radicalism, socialism, or communism. It means returning the party to the people where it belongs."

"The Republican party," said Mrs. Bertha Baur, Illinois committeewoman, "is for social security on a sound basis. We're in the battle now, and we had better go on under our present leadership."

"My people, the colored voters, are for Hamilton," said Perry W. Howard of Mississippi.

The debate was closed by Congressman Everett Dirksen of Pekin, Ill., who was given the floor as a visitor.

"I serve notice," he said, "that I am going to do my own thinking in congress. The party has been too reactionary. You've got to adapt or die. If you don't adapt, we won't have even eighty-eight house members in 1938."

The vote was taken; Chairman Hamilton resumed the chair and remarked: "I'm gratified, and I'll keep right on working."

One of the toughest problems Hamilton faces, the committee members said, is the deficit of $901,501.

C. B. Goodspeed, treasurer, reported that the party spent $6,546,776 in the campaign. Four years ago the Republican campaign expenditures were $2,670,000.

MORE CONTRIBUTIONS TO CAMPAIGN FUNDS OF MAJOR PARTIES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Contributions to election campaign chests ranging up to $54,500 were reported today to the senate investigating committee.

Walter A. Jones of Pittsburgh informed the committee he had contributed $54,500 to the Democratic national committee and loaned $50,000 to the Pennsylvania state Democratic committee and $2,000 to the Good Neighbor league, which supported President Roosevelt.

Among other contributors reporting during the day was Mrs. Irenee S. du Pont of Wilmington, who said she had contributed $5,000 to the Republicans in addition to the $116,000 reported by her husband yesterday.

A Democratic contribution of $17,500 was reported by Lewis S. Rosenstiel of Greenwich, Conn.

F. W. Schwinn of Chicago reported a contribution of $125 to the Democratic national committee and $800 to the Republican national committee.

Among the other larger Republican contributors were:

Mrs. Irene Jackson Sloan, Great Neck, N. Y., $32,500; R. P. Brown, Germantown, Pa., $19,215; Miss Louise Robinson, New York, $10,550; Theodora Pitcairn, Pittsburgh, $14,250; Lester Armour, Chicago, $7,000; John J. Watson, New York, $7,500; Jules S. Bache, $7,800 [and a loan of $2,500 to the Liberty league]; Philip D. Armour, Chicago, $7,000; Hill Blackett, Chicago, $6,553, and Mrs. Hill Blackett of Winnetka, Ill., $5,000.

Other Democratic contributions included: $10,000 by F. J. Lewis of Chicago and $5,000 by Charles Harwood of New York.

AIDS REUNION OF MOTHER AND SON MISSING 40 YEARS

Boston, Mass., Dec. 17.—(AP)—A Boston man was ready tonight to aid financially an elderly Los Angeles woman so she could visit the son she has not seen for forty years.

Forty years ago the woman, Mrs. Camilla Warner, was forced, because of strained circumstances, to permit the child to be adopted. She has been searching for him ever since. Word came yesterday that she had found him in Scott Bluff, Neb. But she is unable to go to him because of lack of money.

A radio station here dramatized the incident last night and appealed for funds to aid Mrs. Warner. Today a man, who desires to be known only as Mr. R., notified the station he would help, either wholly or partly, according to the result of the station's appeal.

His was the only offer received so far and the station was unable to provide more information because, officials announced, neither Mrs. Warner's address nor that of her son is available here.

Ohio Auditor Confesses $28,100 Estate Fund Theft

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Sylvester A. Grote, deputy county auditor for ten years, was under police guard in his home tonight after Auditor George Guckenberger announced he had confessed the theft of more than $28,100 in bonds from safe deposit boxes of estates. Federal agents detected the defalcations through an investigation of a bond stolen from a Crestline, O., bank which they traced from New York to Grote.

MAINE AND VERMONT IN STEP, IT'S VOTED, BUT NOT OTHER 46

Augusta, Me., Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Maine house of representatives today passed an order, amid laughter and applause, inviting Vermont to join Maine "in the perpetuation of the Declaration of Independence, the preservation of our constitution, and a return to the United States of our forefathers."

Introduction of the order by Representative Fred B. Eveleth [Dem., Portland] was occasioned by the fact that Maine and Vermont were the only two states to vote Republican in the presidential election.

The order said that "in our mature judgment these 46 vassal states have traded their birthright of self-government, have committed a veritable act of secession."

It added that "46 of the 48 former sovereign states of this allegedly inseparable union have indicated their wish to depart from the principles of self-government."

SINGING MOUSE SCORES TRIUMPH IN RADIO DEBUT

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Minnie, the singing mouse of Woodstock, which was discovered last week in the basement of the Chicago Industrial Home for Children in that town, triumphed last night. She sang as scheduled over the radio, after which she was applauded by 300 fans who filled a studio in the Merchandise Mart to see and hear her. Carried out in her little home made cage, she thoughtlessly continued warbling long after the broadcast.

MINNIE, THE SINGING MOUSE.

It was the first time a mouse ever has sung over the radio, and it was solemnly heralded as Minnie's world première by Don McNeil, announcer. He explained at the outset that her impresarios were not at all sure she would sing, however.

Minnie Takes the Spotlight.

But Minnie did sing, and when she did the rest of the program featuring her immediately gave way. Announcer McNeil was discussing her with Herbert O. Gensch, superintendent of the children's home, when suddenly a door to the studio opened and Minnie entered in her cage, carried in the arms of O. A. Allred, manager of the home. He had been coaxing her offstage and his face was wreathed in smiles.

As he held the cage containing Minnie up to a microphone, the tiny mouse's song was plainly heard. Observers agreed it resembled a duet by a pair of cooing love birds, although some persons compared it to the sound of little birds warbling dreamily at dawn when they first think of getting up.

After a minute or two the orchestra began playing at a signal. Later, however, McNeil announced the mouse would again sing, he hoped. She did, before another microphone. McNeil thanked "Mickey, the mouse."

Minnie, Not Mickey.

"I beg your pardon, but Mr. Bean of Brookfield [Robert Bean, assistant director of the Brookfield zoo] was out to see the mouse, and says she is Minnie," interrupted Mr. Gensch.

In an anteroom Minnie was photographed. Here Mr. Allred revealed the cynical secret of her success.

"She sings when she is disturbed," he said blandly. "See this little wire? I simply prodded her with it when she was announced, and I don't think I've ever heard her sing better."

Minnie, her heart beating visibly, apparently still was a little unhappy, and occasionally made her distress vocal in the most musical and dulcet of warbles.

CHANGE VENUE IN SUIT BY SISTER OF MARY MINTER

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—A change of venue to Orange county, California, today was granted in the case of Mrs. Margaret Shelby Fillmore, sister of Mary Miles Minter, against their mother, Mrs. Charlotte Shelby.

Mrs. Fillmore, who recently won a suit here in which her mother sought to have her declared insane, sued her parent for $48,000 which, she contends, her mother wrongfully removed from a safety deposit box in which mother and daughter had both kept funds.

The legal proceedings note that the name of the older woman is Mrs. Pearl Miles Reilly, although she had been known here as Mrs. Shelby. The funds involved in the legal case are supposed to have originated from the screen earnings of Mary Miles Minter fifteen years ago.

CHICAGOAN GIVEN SUSPENDED TERM ON FRAUD CHARGE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Guy S. Burtis of Chicago was given a suspended sentence of imprisonment for four months to one year and granted probation in federal District court today. He entered a plea of nolo contendere to charges of conspiracy to defraud the government.

Burtis, former NRA employé, and Warren L. Heap of Chevy Chase, Md., former internal revenue bureau employé, were indicted for an alleged attempt to advise W. A. Ellis, president of a mining firm at Denver, Colo., in connection with a proposed tax assessment of $208,000 against the concern for 1932. Similar disposition was made of the charge against Heap.

DENY ROOSEVELT PLANS EXTENSIVE CABINET SHAKEUP

No Resignations Offered, It Is Indicated.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—To silence buzzing rumors of wholesale changes in the cabinet after inauguration day next Jan. 20, the White House today announced President Roosevelt expects few, if any, changes in his advisory council.

Through a spokesman, deep in the confidence of the President, it was stated that Mr. Roosevelt has not dropped the slightest hint to any cabinet member that he would like some one else to occupy the member's chair. Nor has any member submitted even a verbal resignation to date, it was added.

Shortly before the election it was rumored that there would be but one or two members of the present cabinet at the heads of the regular departments after the inauguration. Since the election there has been considerable speculation as to selection of new cabinet officers.

To still this speculation, which has been distasteful to Mr. Roosevelt, the White House position was revealed today. The announcement was not, however, made as a complete vote of confidence in every member of the cabinet.

It has been generally known that Mr. Roosevelt has been dissatisfied with the performance of several members of his cabinet. It is believed that he would readily accept several resignations should they be offered but has no intention of stirring up trouble for himself by demanding resignations. Several members spoke of resigning before the election but these have been silent since November.

The situation as far as the cabinet is concerned was given by one cabinet officer with "It would take wild horses to drag some of them out of their jobs."

There is one vacancy in the cabinet, although the body is intact on paper. Harry Woodring is secretary of war by virtue of a recess appointment and it is generally understood that the post will go to Paul V. McNutt, former governor of Indiana and former national commander of the American Legion, who has presidential aspirations for 1940. Woodring, former assistant secretary, was given the post temporarily after the death of the late Secretary George H. Dern.

Another vacancy is expected in the chair of the postmaster general, as James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has long declared his intention to desert the cabinet for more lucrative fields. He is expected to get the $150,000 a year job of czaring the movie industry now held by Will Hays, postmaster general in the Harding cabinet.

Mr. Roosevelt has little need of the cabinet jobs to pay deserving Democrats.

TREASURY ACTS TO MAINTAIN ITS GRIP ON DOLLAR

Debt Climbs Above 34 Billion Mark.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today moved to pave the way for congressional reenactment of the New Deal's emergency powers over dollar devaluation and the stabilization fund. At the same time the national interest bearing debt crossed the 34 billion dollar mark as a result of new borrowings. This was an 11 billion dollar boost in the debt burden in the last three years.

Support of President Roosevelt for an extension of the monetary powers in their existing form would be solicited, Morgenthau said.

The President used the authority to devalue the gold content of the dollar by 40 per cent, and has power to cheapen it an additional 10 per cent. Through its monetary manipulations and an artificial high price for gold, the treasury obtained 2 billion 800 million dollars profit through which the stabilization fund was created.

Supports U. S. Securities.

This fund has been used to support the government's securities when they slumped and also to steady the dollar on foreign exchange. The fund has been functioning actively of late because of the "gentleman's agreement" betwen this country, Great Britain, and France to stabilize each other's currencies.

Secretary Morgenthau discussed the legislative situation with Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] at length yesterday. It is understood that Glass, who is the recognized money and banking authority of congress, told the secretary that he would support extension of the stabilization fund, inasmuch as it was required because of the tri-partite monetary agreement, but he would oppose continuation of the devaluation power.

If congress balks the administration plans the devaluation authority will expire on Jan. 30. The stabilization fund lifetime also runs out on the same date unless extended.

Up 4 Billion in Year.

The public debt soared from 33 billion 902 million dollars to 34 billion 229 millions, or an increase of 327 millions. This was the direct result of a new bond flotation on Dec. 15. The new funds will go toward deficit financing, which is the treasury's way of saying "spending beyond income."

The debt a year ago was 30 billion 555 million dollars. With the exception of about 1¾ billion dollars borrowed to pay off the soldiers' bonus, the remainder of the bonds, notes, and bills sold by the treasury have been for the purpose of financing the colossal spending program of the New Deal.

The government has spent more than 3 billions so far this fiscal year which is only five and a half months old and has run a deficit carried at $1,297,286,871. The figure is placed lower than last year, but this is a bookkeeping operation by the treasury that masks the true picture of the government's fiscal position. Repayments of all the lending agencies are now being used for spending purposes and public debt retirements are lower than last year, both of which make total expenditures appear less than they actually are.

Balancing of Budget Soon Doubted.

even express a "hope" that the budget could be balanced before the 1939 fiscal year and he gave only a "fighting chance" to accomplish the task that soon.

The congressional leaders were equally skeptical about any appreciable retrenchment by consolidating and reorganizing the government burocracy during the next session of congress. Senators and representatives both declare that their patronage mail is heavier now than it ever has been. The thousands upon thousands of New Deal job holders are alarmed about the talk of wiping out commissions, agencies, and bureaus and demanding to be kept in their present positions or else placed under civil service where their tenure will be secure.

Discuss House Problems.

The job of organizing the house on a working basis that will survive disruptions caused by blocs and combinations was Speaker Bankhead's particular object in calling upon the President. The speaker is known to be apprehensive about the task ahead of him with a Democratic membership of four to one. The majority of these Democratic members was swept into the house by successive waves of radicalism—1932, 1934, 1936—and the question now being pondered by administration leaders is whether the New Deal can slow up if it wants to.

Speaker Bankhead also said he discussed with President Roosevelt the various New Deal laws and agencies that soon expire by limitation, including the lending powers of the RFC, the Public Works administration, the Resettlement administration, the Civilian Conservation corps, presidential authority to revalue the dollar, the neutrality act, etc. He expressed the opinion that the President would ask extension of the RFC for one year.

Favors CCC Extension.

The President told Robert Fechner, director of the CCC, that he would recommend to congress that this organization be made a permanent agency of the government. The organization is due to expire next July 1. Fechner also discussed the question of funds to run the CCC through March 31 and was told that the money, estimated at $65,000,000, would be made available.

ARCHITECT WHITE COLLAPSES WHILE WALKING IN LOOP

Howard Judson White Sr., a member of the architectural firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, collapsed yesterday as he was walking in Wabash avenue near Madison street. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital and later to the Presbyterian hospital, where his physician, Dr. Wilbur Post, said Mr. White apparently had fainted as the result of excessive fatigue. His condition was reported to be improved last night. Mr. White is 66 years old. His home is at 31 Linden avenue, Wilmette, and the office of his firm, with which he has been associated since 1917, is at 80 East Jackson boulevard. Ernest Robert Graham, head of the firm and a famous Chicago builder, died last Nov. 22.

FORCES GIRD FOR OPEN HEARING IN DR. FRANK FIGHT

University Head Presents Report to La Follette.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Battle lines were forming today for the open hearing of the University of Wisconsin regents at which charges of incompetency will be heard against President Glenn Frank and where Gov. Philip La Follette will be defended against the charge that he is removing Dr. Frank for political reasons. This hearing is expected to take place early in January, and the issue is expected to be taken into legislative consideration.

President Frank appeared today for the board of regents, which is expected to displace him next month, as their spokesman before Gov. La Follette in the budget hearings for the next biennium.

There was harmony on the surface and matters of disputed policy were subordinated to the discussion of the financial needs of the university, which is expected to have 12,000 students by 1939. Matters of housing, restoration of salary cuts, and operating expenses were under consideration.

Legislature to Get Budget.

The governor will present the budget to the legislature before Jan. 20, and in the meantime there is every prospect that President Frank will be ousted by the board of regents, which the governor controls.

With yesterday's session of the board of regents, at which the charges against Dr. Frank were made public, and the reasons for previous secrecy disclosed as resting on consideration for Dr. Frank and at his request, there appeared to be a lull in the attacks on the governor for his supposed drastic methods of removal and a disposition to await the full disclosures before the board.

Gov. La Follette maintained his silence on Dr. Frank. He is awaiting a more suitable time, perhaps an appearance before the legislature, to give the reasons for his active interest in university affairs and to explain the actions which have aroused educators throughout the country to the defense of Dr. Frank.

Frank Faction Accused.

If there has been any politics in this affair, according to the governor's friends, it has come from the Frank faction. They are represented as having been active for the last year in building a fire against the governor in this situation, which, when it is analyzed, comes down to the question of the right of the regents, with the advice of the governor, to remove a man as president of the university whose usefulness to the state has ended, in their opinion.

Dr. Frank came to the university as a great administrator and as a liberal in 1925. It is said for him that he sacrificed an offer of $25,000 a year from Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant and philanthropist, to come here. The most damaging evidence presented against him by Harold M. Wilkie, president of the board of regents, is that he ran up his incidental expenses and cash equivalents here to $35,000 or $40,000 a year. Dr. Frank insists that much of this money was expended on official business and had nothing to do with his personal affairs or income.

Changing Attitude Cited.

Gov. La Follette's reactions to Dr. Frank were represented as being extremely favorable and friendly when he first came into office in 1930. His reactions from that time to the present are said to have been a progressive disillusionment, an evolution of failing trust and failing respect for Dr. Frank's competency.

Instances of this are given. Dr. Frank presented a fine program before the legislature in 1930. He sold them to the extent of a million dollars' increase in appropriations. He was to cut out much of the "dead wood" on the faculty, bring the university up to great heights. He failed to do this. The seeds did not flower.

Gov. La Follette was defeated in 1932, but when he came back to office in 1934 the seeds had still failed to blossom into action. Both the governor and the members of the legislature were in frequent dispute with the president as to what he had said, and there was a gradual loss of confidence in his promises. The university was subjected to much unfavorable publicity and there was a "bad press."

Other Factors Enter Case.

Gov. La Follette most emphatically disclaims any politics, in the ordinary sense of that word, is his growing distrust of the president. It is said that social factors entered in, that the feminine members of the Frank and La Follette families did not get along, that Gov. La Follette was jealous of the national fame of the university president and wanted to "keep La Follette famous." Organizations were always calling on Frank to make speeches and radio talks. He conducted a newspaper column. He was a national figure. In the meantime, according to the governor's friends, the university was "slipping."

Dr. Frank is a Republican, but nevertheless the University of Wisconsin was made a subject of attack by Republicans, such as John B. Chapple of Ashland, on account of the supposed "red" teachings there. William Randolph Hearst conducted an intensive research on the campus and much unfavorable publicity resulted. Gov. La Follette regards this all as an effort to "get" him. His own relations with the university have remained not only those of an alumnus, but of one who has to live in the university atmosphere.

Trouble Long Brewing.

It is regarded as significant by the governor and his friends that in this recent upheaval the faculty of the university has made no protest to him. They should know, it is argued, whether unfair and detrimental action is being taken here. In the last election the governor received a larger vote than ever in the county of Dane and the city of Madison.

Here, then, is a long standing affair coming to a head. Severe criticism of Dr. Frank as an administrator is said to have been growing since 1927, two years after he took office.

The chief criticism which has been directed by old La Follette Progressives against the recent action in this case has been directed against the secrecy of the methods employed. Even the Capital Times of Madison, long a La Follette supporter, demanded a showdown and an open hearing. With this accomplished, the paper says today:

"The Capitol Times believes that if full publicity had been given to the present controversy before the regents from the time of its inception, the press of the nation would not be filled today with heated charges concerning the present dispute."

Regents' Report Read.

Dr. Frank read to the governor today a report of the regents in which several policies are stated with which he has not agreed, and several criticisms are made that reflect on his own administration.

"The regents feel that improvement in undergraduate instruction is particularly vital; also that encouragement must be given to the instructional force by way of promotions and reasonable advances in compensation," the statement said. "Improvement in the quality of undergraduate teaching, encouragement to morale, better methods of ascertaining unit costs, are all necessary.

"In the noninstructional force reclassification is vitally necessary in many cases; restoration of reasonable levels of the income to faithful employés is essential. We are unalterably opposed to any increase of fees payable by the student body."

Saved from Fumes

Mrs. Frederick Burtis and her daughter, Donna Mae, two of those rescued.

Fire department officials yesterday were investigating the cause of a leak early in the day in a compressor for a basement refrigeration system which spread fumes through an apartment building at 6340-42 North Artesian avenue. Six persons were rescued and nearly a score of others fled to the street. The fumes were discovered by Frederick Burtis, who awoke coughing in his second floor apartment. He aroused a neighbor who called the fire department. Inhalator squad No. 4 responded. Firemen donned gas masks and after warning other residents in the building, shut off the refrigeration system.

FEAR PUBLICITY BAN ON LAWYERS OF N. Y. WILL HIT NEWSPAPERS

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Fears were raised in legal circles today that the Appellate division's ban on lawyers giving advice through any kind of "publicity medium" would prohibit them from commenting for the newspapers or expressing themselves through other forms of publication.

Although the ruling was directed primarily against the radio "good will court," its wording is felt to be so broad as to outlaw, among other things, daily newspaper columns by attorneys answering income tax and other technical legal questions.

Other forms of legal advice some attorneys believe it would prohibit are the published statements issued by American Liberty league lawyers advising the public on New Deal legislation. In one instance the league's committee of 7 lawyers advised employers throughout the country to ignore the Wagner labor law.

At the same time the opinion was expressed that the ruling might seriously restrict such organizations as the American Civil Liberties union.

MOTHER OF THREE JAILED AS FRIEND OF SLAIN ROBBER

CRIMINAL COURT.

Leroy Preston, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Rudolph Desort.

Mrs. Bertha Tobias, 33 years old, the mother of three children, was held by the police yesterday after a search of her home at 423 West 66th street produced $1,000 in burglar's loot. The burglar was Francis Hogan, 29 years old, a former convict who was shot to death on Wednesday by Sidney Davies, 41 years old, 6553 South Morgan street, a milk wagon driver.

Mrs. Tobias, who said she had been deserted by her husband, Robert, admitted that she had been living with Hogan for three weeks. She denied that she knew he was a burglar. He told her, she said, that he had been playing the races. She said that a divorce suit against her husband was pending, and that she had intended to marry Hogan.

Mrs. Tobias' three children are being cared for by her mother, Mrs. Lydia Jacobs, 659 West 63d place.

Singer Divorces Former Leader of Cossack Choir

Mrs. Nadeyda Z. Sokoloff, 35 years old, 6105 North Claremont avenue, a concert singer, was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Donald S. McKinlay in Superior court from Capt. Serge G. Sokoloff, 42 years old, of New York City, leader of the disbanded Kuban Cossack choir. The couple was married Dec. 18, 1924, while touring in separate musical organizations in Mexico. They separated a year ago. Mrs. Sokoloff charged desertion. She was granted custody of their son, Alexander, 6 years old.

EDITH MAXWELL FOUND GUILTY AS SLAYER 2D TIME

Jury Fixes Punishment at 20 Years in Prison.

Wise, Va., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Edith Maxwell, comely 22 year old former school teacher, was convicted today for the second time of the "slipper slaying" of her father, Trigg Maxwell, 52, in their mountain cottage in July, 1935.

A Wise county jury, after deliberating only an hour and 20 minutes, found the girl guilty of second degree murder and fixed her punishment at 20 years, the maximum for that charge.

Her first conviction brought a 25 year sentence for first degree murder, but the Virginia Supreme court ordered a new trial on the ground that the evidence had not justified a first degree murder verdict.

Weeps as Verdict Is Read.

Miss Maxwell burst into tears when she heard herself pronounced guilty the second time, and sobbed with her head on the shoulder of her brother, Earl Maxwell. Other members of the family, including Edith's 13 year old sister, Mary Kathryn, the only one of them to testify to events in the cottage when Maxwell died, also wept.

"This sure knocks out my Christmas," the convicted girl said bitterly when she regained her composure.

Judge Ezra T. Carter fixed bail at $15,000 for Miss Maxwell's release pending arguments on a defense plea to set aside the verdict. He said the motion would be heard not later than March 1.

The judge continued until the March term the case against Mrs. Ann Maxwell, mother of Edith, who was indicted jointly with her for the killing of the blacksmith-miner.

The defense contended Maxwell died of natural causes and not as the result of blows Edith struck him with a slipper. Her attorneys also maintained that even if she did fatally injure him she struck in self-defense when he sought to whip her for staying out late.

M. J. Fulton of the defense counsel employed by the National Woman's party emphasized in his address to the jury that four physicians had testified the man's death resulted from natural causes.

warning. The pool players dropped their cues.

"Hands up and into the back room," commanded the leader. Meanwhile, he and his aids were swiftly scanning the white faces of their victims. The fourteen were nervous. None, however, had any other idea than that the incident was a holdup. Altogether they probably would not have yielded more than $4 or $5. Some of them were WPA workers.

Crowd Into Small Room.

The fourteen men marched towards the rear, and past a hot blast stove. The rear room, about 15 feet square, was dimly lighted and far too small for such a group. Scaduto was at the end of the line.

They huddled inside uncomfortably. Right behind them were the three gunmen. Except for the heavy breathing of several of the men, all was silence. This silence was broken by the curt command: "Keep your hands up, and face the wall."

The fourteen men, Scaduto included, obeyed. But suddenly one of the three men—police could not learn which one—motioned Scaduto with a wave of his hand to stand to one side. Scaduto hesitated.

Three Fire on Victim.

The man motioned again. Then Scaduto stepped to the left against a wall, away from his thirteen companions. Simultaneously the assassins raised their guns. Then they let loose a blast of hot steel into Scaduto's head and left side. Both pistols sounded split seconds after the loud blast of the shotgun. Scaduto fell.

The thirteen men remaining alive, some of them yelling for mercy, fell to the floor. But the killers had no intention of harming them. They turned calmly, looked back once to see that the man they wanted was dead, and then walked out. They didn't run.

Fail to See Getaway.

Whether the assassin trio fled on foot or in an automobile was not established. People on the street neither heard nor saw the getaway of a car. Catalino, the pool hall owner, notified police. When they arrived only Catalino and two other witnesses were on hand. They were Samuel Bonadonna, 33 years old, 516 North Carpenter street, and Daniel Persico, 31, of 1037 Grand avenue, a junior tool clerk for the WPA. Their stories were the same.

"We thought it was a robbery," said Catalino, "but the men did not try to search us. And they didn't say much. None of us had ever seen them before."

Rate of Pay High.

Catalino was unable, he said, to tell much about Scaduto. He hired him last Saturday as a racker at $2 a day. Police said this is a high figure for that kind of work in such a pool hall as Catalino's. Catalino said he hired Scaduto at the request of the latter's relatives. Scaduto lived with an aunt, Mrs. Josephine Lamantia. A cousin, Samuel Ebbole, lives at 1373 Grand avenue.

The slaying of Scaduto's brother, Joseph, was as mysterious as his own. Joseph Scaduto was getting a sidewalk shoeshine at 4th avenue and Union street, Brooklyn, July 11 when an unidentified man shot him in the abdomen four times. The gunman then ran into a subway station near by, mixed with the crowds of passengers, and escaped. His victim died the next day without making a statement. He had no police record.

"There isn't any question that Scaduto's murder was inspired in New York," said Lieut. McLaughlin. "He came here to hide. He got himself a job in an obscure poolroom. And they found him. The way they killed him showed organization of some sort."

IDENTIFIES BATTERED BODY OF HER SISTER IN SLAYING MYSTERY

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—The battered body of a woman found in the sage brush of a dry river bed here last Nov. 17 tonight was identified as that of Mrs. Ruby Harris, 40, of Gadsden, Ala., who when last seen was accompanied by her 6 year old son, William Harris.

Sherif's deputies fear the child also may have been slain or kidnaped. No trace has been found of Mrs. Harris' slayer. Identification was made by her sister, Mrs. Bessie Cochrane, who telegraphed a full description of Mrs. Harris' appearance, together with data on birthmarks. Mrs. Harris and her son were seen in Fresno, Cal., shortly before her disappearance.

MADRID FORCES CAPTURE GERMAN TROOPS IN BATTLE

MADRID, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The first capture of "German troops" during fierce fighting west of Madrid was announced today by the loyalist junta of defense—at the close of the fifth month of civil war.

The Germans, said a spokesman, were captured in a battle around Baodilla del Monte, 7 miles west of the capital, and commanding a secondary road to the west.

[The insurgent headquarters at Salamanca announced officially the town had been taken by the Fascists, and that an international defense brigade had left 83 dead on the battlefield.]

"Some Germans were killed, some were wounded, and several were taken prisoner," said the junta spokesman. "I can't give you the figures now.

Battle On Again.

"The fighting has started there again and the insurgents are obviously trying desperately to extend their flanks and take the road to El Escorial. "But the Germans seem to find the government lines as hard to smash as did the Moors."

Apparently the Boadilla action is part of a wide offensive by Gen. Francisco Franco, the insurgent commander. Other fighting was in progress in northwestern University City, and from the northeast Fascist troops were moving toward Madrid.

63 Dead in Air Raid.

Madrid counted 63 dead and more than 200 wounded as the result of yesterday's air raid, which ended in a spectacular aerial battle between scores of Fascist and loyalist planes. Four enemy pursuit planes and one bomber were shot down, the government command asserted.

The government at Valencia, in a new note to Great Britain and France, charged Germany, Italy, and Portugal are continuing to "send planes and gases with which to murder women and children in Madrid."

It termed Franco-British proposals for international arms control in Spain "unjust and impracticable," but offered to accept the project under the Spanish government's own conditions.

The note said the conflict was between a legally constituted government, "supported by the popular will," and "a handful of traitors who are unwilling to abide by the decision of that will." Hence, the note added, "to give the Burgos government the same consideration of the powers would be one more indication of the low level to which international life now has descended."

To Italy, Germany, and Portugal, the note continued, Spain "owes the prolongation of the civil war, and on them falls the responsibility for the torrents of blood being shed."

Moscow Gains in Catalonia.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BARCELONA, Spain, Dec. 17.—The Catalan government crisis was settled today by the formation of a bourgeois proletarian ministry and the elimination of the P. O. U. M., or Marxist United Workers' party. Pressure from Moscow is understood to have counted largely in its removal because it is a communist party hostile to the existing soviet régime and professing open sympathy for Leon Trotzky, soviet exile.

The new government consists of three members of the Catalan esquerra or left Republican party, representing the small bourgeois elements, four members of the Anarcho-Syndicalist labor union, three members of the Socialist labor union, and one member of the Rebassaires, or peasant bloc. José Tarradellas remains as premier.

Given Maximum Power.

Ventura Gassol, Catalan poet, minister of education since the formation of the first provisional government in 1931, is replaced by Antonio Sbert, member of the Republican tribunal of constitutional guarantees. Only a few days ago Sbert returned from Russia.

In view of a statement by President Luis Companys that the new government is vested with maximum authority, it is considered to have plenary powers for law enforcement.

Just before the recent Catalonian cabinet crisis Companys issued an ultimatum that this would be his final effort to establish the government's authority over numerous revolutionary bodies that have been acting independently.

Calls Madrid Chances Slim.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Border, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Spanish government's lone hop for victory lies in European war, uncensored reports from Madrid said today.

These advices said the Madrid-Valencia government, unable to control the anarchistic elements within its defense, now knows its cause is hopeless unless there is a general conflagration.

Intelligent Spaniards supporting the government have come to feel they cannot depend upon Russia alone; that Italo-German recognition of the insurgents was a deathblow; that there is only disappointment in hoping for help from the Socialist government of France in the present circumstances.

GERMAN NOBEL PRIZE WINNER REMOVED TO PRIVATE SANITARIUM

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Carl von Ossietzky, recent Nobel peace prize winner, was asserted by a friend today to have been moved from Berlin's West End hospital to "a little private sanitarium."

Meanwhile his Nobel prize money of about $39,000 will be held in Oslo, Norway, until he is able to collect it himself, intimates of the German pacifist said. They said this arrangement was made to prevent the possibility of his running afoul of the German law making the surrender of foreign exchange obligatory on pain of punishment by death. It was understood the money is being held in trust for him until his future is clarified.

[Von Ossietzky was held in a concentration camp for nearly three years and only recently was released. He then entered the Berlin's hospital.]

Von Ossietzky's wife and daughter, the pacifist's friends said, accordingly continue to be dependent upon the charity of foreign friends. Frau von Ossietzky, they said, is permitted to visit him whenever she desires. Their 15 year old daughter is attending a school in Sweden.

His move from the West End hospital, a friend said, was made because "his health has improved sufficiently for us to take him from the public hospital.

HAILE SELASSIE'S COUSIN CAPTURED IN ITALIAN DRIVE

ROME, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Italian press dispatches from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, reported today that Ras Imeru, former governor of Gojjam province and cousin of former Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, had been captured.

The Ras was said by Italian commanders to be the last of the major chieftains still resisting Fascist occupation of the East African kingdom. Hundreds of miles of new Ethiopian territory was said to have fallen under Italian control in the so-called "second campaign."

Dejaz Uonduossen Kassa, son of Ras Kassa, who led the resistance to Italian aggression in the Tembien district of Ethiopia, was reported to have been shot by an Italian firing squad on Dec. 14 for fomenting a counter revolt in the Gojjam district.

NEW DRIVES AND BEACH PLANNED IN LINCOLN PARK

Officials Ask WPA Funds for 1937 Program.

BY HAL FOUST.

The Chicago park district yesterday announced an addition to its 1937 construction program that will unsnarl Lincoln park trafic and provide a new bathing beach and bath house at North avenue. The construction is contingent on federal approval of an application for a grant of $1,100,000 from the Works Progress administration. Park officials are optimistic.

From a trafic viewpoint the plan contains two important elements. Lake Shore drive is to be carried north from North avenue for a half mile as two 50 foot pavements laid in the bed of the south end of the lagoon, which is now being filled. La Salle street is to be extended east from its present terminus at Stockton drive to connect with the new section of Lake Shore drive.

Plan Breakwater for Beach.

For the new beach a breakwater is to be built 1,500 feet into the lake from the shoreline at North avenue. Sand will be pumped to make the beach and the site for a bath house, bus terminal, and parking lot, all north of the breakwater.

The North avenue grade separation is to be reconstructed, so there will be no conflict between express trafic and bathing beach trafic. Another grade separation will eliminate trafic friction at the intersection of the La Salle street extension and Lake Shore drive.

A section of the present beach [outer] drive north of North avenue will be converted into a service drive for the beach. The section of the present Lake Shore drive north of North avenue for a little over half a mile will be removed, increasing the park's recreational area.

Relieves Congested Area.

Ralph Burke, chief engineer for the park district, pointed out that the plans will remove La Salle street trafic from the narrow and winding Stockton drive that is now sorely congested especially in the evening rush hours when it carries all the south bound Lake Shore drive trafic as well as the north and south bound La Salle street trafic.

Otto K. Jelinek, trafic engineer for the park district, pointed out that with the new stretch of Lake Shore drive there will no longer be the necessity for detouring south bound trafic to Stockton drive in the evening rush hour. Lake Shore drive between North avenue and the La Salle street extension will carry both north and south trafic.

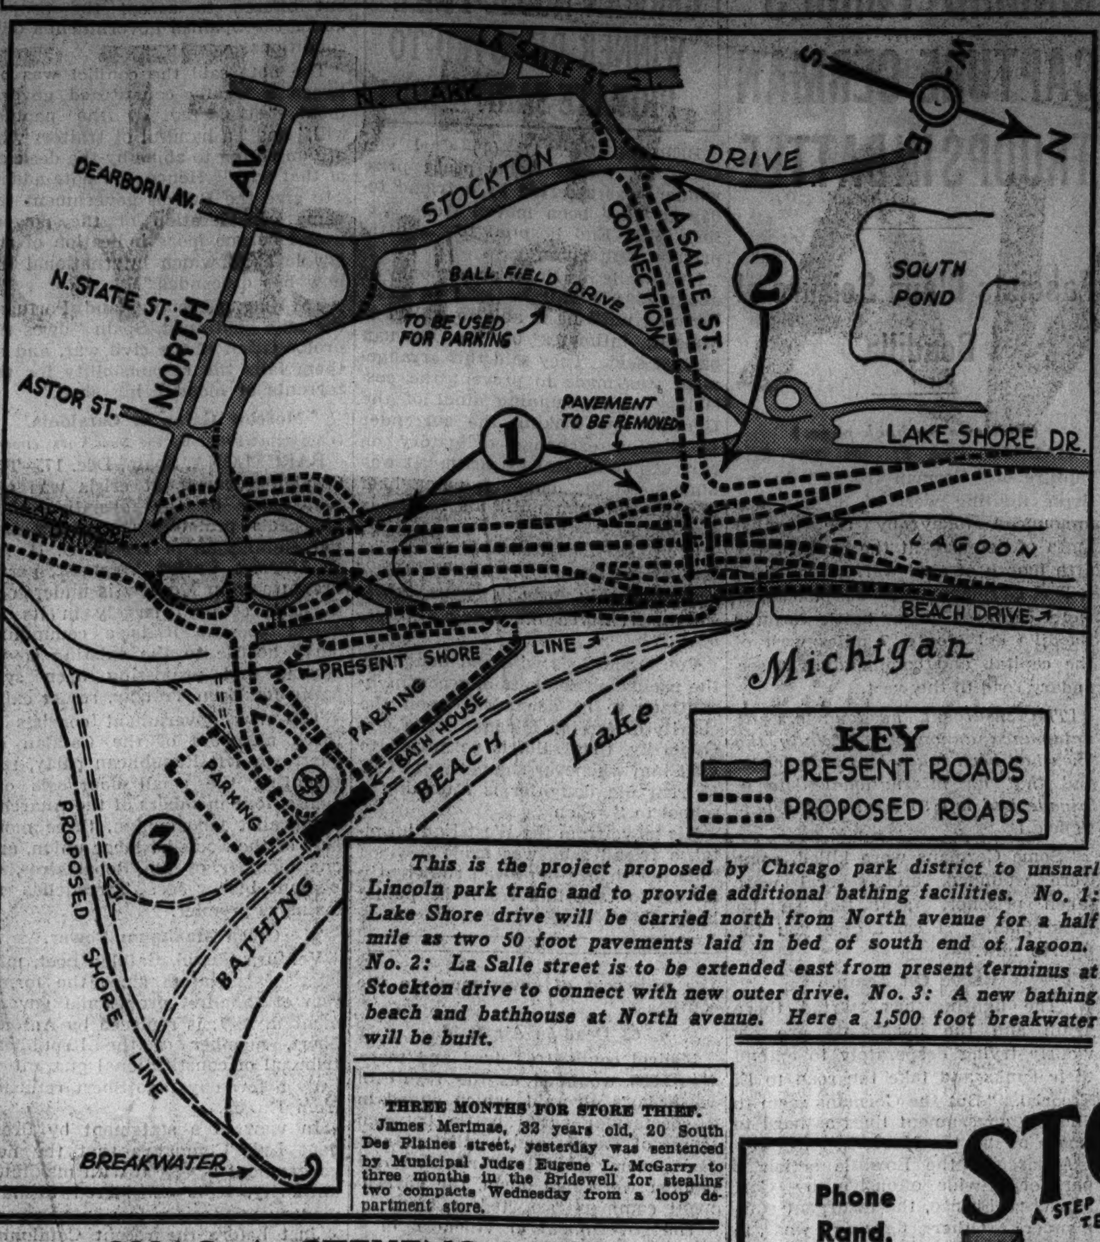
North from the La Salle street extension, the present beach [outer] drive is to be used for northbound trafic only while the southbound movement will be handled by the existing Lake Shore drive.

Augments General Program.

This Lincoln park project is part of a general program for improvement of Chicago's lake front artery. Mr. Burke said that steam shovels will probably start work today or Monday in excavating for the new express pavement on the waterfront south from North avenue to Ohio street for the connection with the outer link bridge, which is to be finished next June.

On the south side, the reconstructed outer drive between Roosevelt road and 23d street will be opened to trafic this morning after having been closed since A Century of Progress started in 1933. From 23d to 31st street, the outer drive has also been rebuilt, with a center curb separating opposing streams of trafic and with a reconstructed grade separation at 31st street.

PROPOSED LINCOLN PARK TRAFIC AND BEACH PROJECT



This is the project proposed by Chicago park district to unsnarl Lincoln park trafic and to provide additional bathing facilities. No. 1: Lake Shore drive will be carried north from North avenue for a half mile as two 50 foot pavements laid in bed of south end of lagoon. No. 2: La Salle street is to be extended east from present terminus at Stockton drive to connect with new outer drive. No. 3: A new bathing beach and bathhouse at North avenue. Here a 1,500 foot breakwater will be built.

THREE MONTHS FOR STORE THIEF.

James Merimae, 33 years old, 20 South Des Plaines street, yesterday was sentenced by Municipal Judge Eugene L. McGarry to three months in the Bridewell for stealing two compacts Wednesday from a loop department store.

FIND RECEIVER'S BOOKS TANGLED; COSTS HIM $3,956

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday ordered Samuel Pancoe, former state court receiver for the Park Beach hotel, 5327 Cornell avenue, to pay $3,956 to J. H. Southman, permanent trustee of the property which is now in bankruptcy. The money Pancoe must pay is to be used to cover amounts expended to ascertain the state of his accounts while he managed the property. Judge Barnes held that Pancoe had "willfully and maliciously" commingled funds of the hotel with those of other properties he managed. In addition, the court charged, he kept confusing and misleading books and accounts.

5-Tube AC-DC AETNA Radio

With Clear-Vision Oval Dial!

Complete with guaranteed tubes including ballast 11.95

Just compare this AETNA with other models of its type. See if you don't agree that nothing like its richness of tone and power can be found ANYWHERE for so little money! Its new Clear-Vision Illuminated Oval Dial makes accurate, precise tuning an easy job. New inverted speaker throws the sound UP, spreading the tone evenly—no harsh blare! Beautifully finished cabinet that adds beauty to rooms of any type or period.

A New AETNA Model AC-DC Full Super-heterodyne

Nothing like it at this price!

Complete with 6 Tubes including ballast 16.95

Just think! This smart new AETNA gets FOREIGN STATIONS on the 49 meter band, police calls, airplanes and amateurs, as well as all domestic stations . . . yet it costs you no more than many sets having only domestic range. Amazingly rich, full tone; full super-heterodyne circuit. You'll like its compactness, its smartly-styled cabinet and the extra-large, 3-color dial.

AETNA RADIO FACTS!

. . . Now you can buy a quality radio at a moderate price. All parts that enter into the construction of every AETNA are the very finest obtainable. This in itself is a guarantee of quality. But AETNA craftsmen go farther. They impartially test each of these many parts for their own satisfaction. Just to make doubly sure.

These various parts are then assembled with the skill and patience of a violin-maker. More tests follow as the work progresses—climaxing with a most complete test of the assembled sets.

Now comes the most important test. As AETNA Radios leave the assembly line many sets are selected at random and shipped to all parts of the country. They are tested in homes under the most adverse circumstances. We demand that even under unfavorable conditions AETNA Radios shall perform brilliantly. And they do!

So no matter where you buy an AETNA or where you take it afterward, you are certain to experience UNUSUALLY FINE RECEPTION. That has all been proved beforehand. AETNA Radios are high quality, durable musical instruments—dollar for dollar the finest you can buy.

For best Foreign reception results—install Aetna short wave aerial—complete set, 1.98

LOOP BANDSMAN AND TROUPE JOIN GOOD FELLOWS

Roger Pryor Will Help Entertain Needy.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

A bandmaster as master of ceremonies, lovely dancers, adept jugglers, and musicians will unite to bring joy to 50 Good Fellow families on Christmas eve.

The bandmaster is Roger Pryor, ringmaster of the theatrical "circus" now playing in the College Inn of the Hotel Sherman, and his assistants will be from among his merry troupe of entertainers. Young Pryor, who recently married Ann Sothern of the movies, welcomes the chance to be a Good Fellow in THE TRIBUNE's campaign to bring happiness to unfortunate homes.

"You see," he said, "Ann will be in Hollywood at Christmas time and maybe some of the joy I'll find in helping poor children will alleviate my own lonesomeness."

Many Lands Represented.

Many lands are represented in this cast of Good Fellows. There are André and Steve Calgary, the funny fellows who dance and do pantomimes—they celebrated their first Christmas in far away Hungary.

And there's London born Alphonse Berg, coutourier; there's Mercedes Aragon, of the dancing troupe, from Chantilly, in northern France, and Bruno and Enrico Mangini, modern Atlases, from Italy. Some of them may even bring interpreters so that they may converse with the Good Fellow family and realize more fully the joy they will take to boys and girls who otherwise would not be visited by Santa Claus.

Now to you who are far away from home at this Christmas time as every one in this troupe will be: don't you want to join them in doing something for unfortunate families at Christmas time?

A Cure for Loneliness.

There must be hundreds in Chicago who find it impossible to be with their loved ones at Christmas time. We know of no better cure for loneliness than to be a Good Fellow and make some family happy on Christmas eve or Christmas morning.

That is the purpose of the Good Fellow bureau. There, either by filling in the accompanying Good Fellow coupon or calling Superior 0100 you will be given the name and address of an investigated family. To them you are asked to take a Christmas basket. It will cost only about $5 and, believe it or not, you will find that that small investment will be one of the happiest you have ever made.

Dr. Binstock Speaks.

Speaking in behalf of Good Fellows last night over station W-G-N, Dr. Louis Binstock of Temple Sholem, said: "Those who would truly find and greet and worship the Prince of Peace, let them understand that they must hearken to the cries of the bruised and beaten in our community . . . let us all be Good Fellows and bring the Prince of Peace into the life of every member of our community."

A galaxy of stars performed yesterday afternoon at the first Trafic club of Chicago Good Fellow luncheon which netted enough money for the purchase of nearly 200 Good Fellow baskets, which will be delivered by the members of the club the day before Christmas.

800 Applaud Show.

Held in the grand ballroom of the Palmer house, 800 men and women attended it and applauded a two hour program which featured Olsen and Johnson, now playing at the Palace theater; Benny Fields, Chez Paree; Lulu Belle and Scotty of WLS, the Old Heidelberg Octet from the Old Heidelberg inn, Prof. Kaltenmeyer of NBC, Mari Barova, Chicago City Opera company soprano; little Davy Schwartz, the Rail Express Glee club, Harry K. McEvoy, magician, and a Good Fellow play, directed by Richard Kross of WGES.

Dr. John Timothy Stone, president of the Presbyterian Theological seminary, spoke briefly on the "Spirit of Good Fellows," stating that "love, joy, and peace come from giving." John W. Bingham, president of the club, said that he hoped succeeding officers of the club would make the Good Fellow luncheon an annual affair. A. H. Schwietert, chairman of the club's public affairs committee, presided.

FINED $25 FOR COAL THEFT.

James Robinson, 29 years old, 2215 Fulton street, colored, was fined $25 yesterday by Judge Justin F. McCarthy in the Des Plaines Street court for stealing coal.

BAND LEADER IS GOOD FELLOW

HOLIDAY KETTLE DRIVE PUSHED BY SALVATION ARMY

The annual Christmas kettle drive of the Salvation Army will continue through Christmas eve, Commissioner William A. McIntyre, commander of the central states territory, announced yesterday. More than 50 cadets from the Salvation Army training college are out now beside their kettles at business corners. Through this method the army raises funds to purchase Christmas baskets and toys for destitute families and children of Chicago. In addition to the baskets, which will be delivered on Christmas eve, some 20 Christmas parties will be given for others.

W-G-N WILL BEGIN YULETIDE CAROL PROGRAMS TODAY

School Parties to Mark Start of Vacation.

Beginning this afternoon a week of Christmas music will be heard from Tribune Tower through a public address system and broadcasts from W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE radio station.

This is the fifth year that the Christmas concerts have been presented by THE TRIBUNE. Loud speakers audible for several blocks are mounted on Tribune Tower to carry the voices of singers from the W-G-N studios. Widely known choirs and choruses will be heard on these programs. They were selected from several hundred singing organizations of schools and churches in the city.

Holiday and sacred music will feature the programs, with all of the old familiar carols listed for one or more of the concerts.

Plan Good Fellow Programs.

In addition, four other W-G-N broadcasts during the coming week will present Christmas music and appeals to Chicagoans to join in THE TRIBUNE's Good Fellow club to distribute Christmas baskets to the neediest families of the city.

The first Christmas carol program on W-G-N will be broadcast from 5 to 5:15 p. m. today. The program will be presented by the De Paul university a cappella choir under thed irection of Dean Arthur C. Becker, with Margot Rebeil, soprano, as soloist.

The broadcast program also will be heard over the loud speaker system by passersby on Michigan avenue. From 5:15 to 6 p. m. the De Paul choir will be joined by the W-G-N concert orchestra, directed by Henry Weber. The last 45 minutes will be aired only over the public address system.

Carols were heard in many Chicago schools yesterday as pupils prepared for classroom parties and assembly hall programs that mark the start of a two week Christmas vacation today.

At the Montefiore truant school at 14th street and Union avenue yesterday 500 boys joined in carols after they had eaten 400 pounds of turkey. The feast, complete with all the trimmings, was the gift of the Central Lions club. Members of the Chicago Woman's club educational committee provided gifts and candy.

Sixty young patients of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, 2211 North Oak Park avenue, were guests at a Christmas party sponsored by Joan Winters [Mrs. Frank Bering], radio actress. Miss Winters led her trick horse, Peter Pan, into an improvised theater at the hospital and put him through his routine.

Other entertainers were Walter Matz, clown magician; Carl Marx, comic policeman; the Three Aristocrats, musicians; George Marko, impersonator; Miriam Bondy and her puppet show, and Ben Beri, juggler.

Christmas Mail Volume Here Well Ahead of 1935

A decided increase in the volume of Christmas mail this year as compared to 1935 was noted yesterday by Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen. He reported that 10,266,808 pieces of first class mail were handled on Wednesday, as compared to 9,865,865 pieces for the corresponding day last year.

HOW LONG IS A YARDSTICK?

What was advertised to be a debate before the Investment Bankers' association on the government's power program proved to be something very different. There was no debate because the representative of the government and the spokesmen for private ownership were talking about quite different matters.

The speeches did serve, however, to bring out one point which cannot be stressed too much. Mr. C. W. Kellogg, president of the Edison Electric institute, charged that the accounts of the TVA were rigged with a view to concealing the real costs of the government's power program. The government, he said, had grossly understated the capital cost of its power plants. It had done so by a variety of bookkeeping devices. The favorite method was to charge a maximum share of the cost to navigation and a minimum share to power. By this device, he charged, it was possible for the government to show a profit from extremely low rates. He maintained that the much advertised government yardstick, by which the fairness of power rates was to be judged, is therefore grossly inaccurate.

Mr. Kellogg offered illustrations of his point. The Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, he said, had cost just short of 47 million dollars when it was built during the war. The government's engineers first assigned 37 million dollars of the cost to power and the remaining 10 million to navigation. When the property was turned over to TVA the 37 million dollar charge was cut almost in half, to 19½ millions.

Even then the share of the cost charged to power was 41 per cent of the total. Mr. Kellogg contrasts that figure with the 6½ per cent share which he finds was allocated to electricity in the projects undertaken by TVA in recent years.

Unfortunately, no defense against Mr. Kellogg's charges of falsification in the accounts was made by a spokesman for the government. That omission emphasizes the need for an impartial accounting. It is true, of course, that no two men are likely to agree to a penny upon the precise shares of the cost of a particular project to be assigned to navigation, flood control, and electric power, but an independent board of accountants and engineers could reach an approximation which would serve all practical purposes.

Stress of course must be laid upon the word "independent." If the government's power projects are to serve as a yardstick for rates charged by private companies the financial setup of TVA must be honest. The nation must know that the government's yard consists of 36 inches, no more and no less. If the books of the TVA are audited by men who are impartially interested in an accurate accounting of capital costs and operating and maintenance charges, there is some hope that the nation may learn which method of power production and distribution is less costly.

The administration has asserted repeatedly that it is interested only in producing an honest comparison of costs. The sincerity of that claim will be questioned as long as the present arbitrary method of accounting is retained. Much of the criticism of the government's entry into the power business would disappear if the government would set up a board of accountancy which would command respect by reason of the competence of the members and their independence from either political or private influence.

DARKENING SKIES IN CUBA.

President Gomez of Cuba has taken a bold stand against Col. Batista, the head of the Cuban army. He spoke on the radio, explaining to the people why he would veto a tax on sugar supported by Batista, whom he rebuked for meddling too much in civil affairs. The president said the tax would be oppressive and anti-democratic. It was proposed by organizations of farmers, cane field workers, and sugar growers, whose cause was adopted by the army staf.

Batista for several years has been the virtual ruler of Cuba, having brought the army to a high state of discipline and efficiency and sealed its loyalty to himself by the highly favorable treatment given the men. Mendietta, the predecessor of Gomez, was rather the window dressing of government than its head, and the United States played ball with Batista.

It would have been folly for Mendietta to have opposed the army chief whose protected barracks in Havana controled the situation. Gomez may have assurances that the powerful chief can be put in his place and the government may have confidence that the army will obey constitutional authority. If these assurances are well founded, constitutional government in Cuba may be on a firmer footing than it has been for a number of years.

If Gomez is playing a dangerous hand without full knowledge of the support he will receive, another period of disorder and dictatorial government may be opening up for the island. The new president's purposes are well thought of and he is believed to be quite sincere in his desire to make Cuban democracy a reality.

The showdown may come in a day or two. Present reports would indicate that Batista has the popular side. If he has and plays his hand through it would mean military rule with a puppet in the presidential palace.

CRISIS IN THE FAR EAST.

Our readers are now and then reminded in our comment on international affairs that what happens in China is not infrequently more important than events in the Europe on which our gaze is usually fixed. The Chinese number, perhaps, a quarter of the human race. They occupy a vast region of the globe, and it happens to be situated on the great sea which not only washes our own shores but is certain to be the arena of events more and more fateful in the course of human history. But a strange language and ways not easily understood by occidentals turn back our attempts to follow Chinese affairs while our ties of race, of language, of culture are with Europe. It is true that the far east, especially China and Japan, in recent years has been forcing itself upon our indifference, but we have not yet established a true proportion.

We are moved to these remarks by the capture of Chiang Kai-shek last week. We were then in the midst of our excitement over Wally and the British king. Our interest was justifiable, but not our lack of concern over the event in China. For that even might have meant and may yet mean war; not merely war in China, where there has been war after war since the fall of the Manchus, but war in the world, war even for us. That possibility remains. We might better call it a probability. We do not know enough of the inner forces at work to hazard a prediction. We may recall Sarajevo and our failure to grasp its significance. We may speculate upon the part played in this action by Tokio and Moscow. But we know that the tinder is laid and sparks are flying.

The latest reports encourage the hope that Chiang Kai-shek has not been removed. As we said the other day, he seems the chief factor of stability and peace in the far east. What if he has been killed or is to be killed? We cannot ascribe such an extremity to the ambition or envy of a rival war lord, especially to Chang Hsueh-liang, if what we have read of him is even approximately true. What is suggested is something more sinister. Is Moscow in the background, or Tokio?

We doubt that Moscow wishes to precipitate war at this time. It is more plausible that the influences in present control of Japanese policy are ready to gamble with a conflict. Chiang has been building up Chinese strength and resisting successfully whatever influences in or out of China would force a premature collision. He has been playing for time. So has Russia. It is Japan that must take such advantage as she can of present conditions in the east and west. Her military strength will not greatly increase. Her material and financial resources will not improve. Her expansion is draining the latter and increasing the responsibilities of the former.

We do not allege that Tokio is back of Chang Hsueh-liang or his capture of the Chinese generalissimo. Latest reports give some hope that Chiang may be saved; on what terms we cannot know. But it may prove that the masterful men in control of Japanese policy have decided that they must put her fate to the test now before it is too late to save their program of imperial expansion.

If so, we are in for a world crisis. We can only hope it is not so, for the sake of China, of Japan herself, and of the world, not forgetting ourselves.

AIR FREIGHT.

Some years ago when it became evident that the rapid progress of aviation engineering must eventually produce huge fleets of perfectly good airplanes, outmoded by evolution for passenger service, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE suggested air freighters. In due time the General Air Express company placed a number of flying "box cars" in service, to prove that American industry can find use for any special service that the transportation companies will place at its disposal. Now comes an announcement from the Railway Express agency that the demand for airplane merchandise space has made the operation of special freight planes imperative. Within a year the public requirements for air carriage of commodities have increased 133 per cent.

A relatively small part of the air freight has been taken away from other forms of transportation. It consists of items of commerce nonexistent before the incipiency of aviation because the time element stood as a barrier. And we haven't seen anything yet! Aviation will continue to furnish surprises—and conveniences—while mankind is slowly learning that science has conquered another element.

IN ABSENTIA.

[Peoria Transcript.]

The Peoria alderman who was denied his $10 fee because he was absent from a weekly meeting of the city council has cause to feel abused. It may be that he had in truth labored diligently for his constituents during the seven days, but even if he had been slothful and had neglected duty he could complain that the mayor defied a national trend in opposing payment of his wage.

Frank Murphy held on to his job as high commissioner of the Philippines while running for governor in Michigan. With the exception of a two month payless leave, he continues to draw his salary.

In the Illinois general assembly it is not necessary for members to be present even to vote on a bill. When the house passed the sales tax extension three Chicago members were recorded in favor of the measure, though the men were far from the state capital.

The prize, though, goes to the Ohio legislature which accomplished a neat bit of legerdemain Tuesday, crowding 140 days of official session into two hours in order that members might garner $30,000 in state funds.

On July 22 the legislators declared a five minute recess. Reconvening on Dec. 8, they had to bring their session up to date before they could proceed to business. This was done by voting 40 mythical recesses, two a week for the period they had been away.

The Ohioans could have adjourned from July 22 to Dec. 8 instead of for five minutes, but in that case they would have been deprived of weekly mileage allowances to and from their homes.

With ghost trips in Ohio, ghost votes in Illinois, and ghost administration in the Philippines, government in absentia is sweeping the world. Why should Peoria quibble over the accustomed technicality of marking a man present when his chair is empty at one little meeting?

HOMOTYPE FROM HOMETOWN.

Willie Jones, the good boy of Hometown, lived at the extreme edge of the village, and just beyond the house was a hill wonderful for coasting. Long after I was grown I revisited the old town and learned Willie was just as good as he had been as a child. This is the way I did it. . . . It was winter and I gathered a bunch of live ones to go coasting. It was great. On the last trip down, one of the bobs went out of control and sideswiped a haystack by the fence. We picked ourselves up, laughing, and dusted off the snow. Willie, who was then 24, surveyed the scene for a while and said, quietly: "Well, I s'pose a feller's got to sow his wild oats some time." BEAN SOUP AND FAIRYLAND.

The real symbol of Christmas is not stuffed Santa Claus; it is the wistful child begging for a little slice of the fairyland that tradition and the store wndows have quite explicably painted over Christian philosophy. Peace, good will, merry—only words to the hungry-eyed kids that will have to eat bean soup the afternoon of Dec. 25. Grows tiresome, bean soup. It is not too difficult to build a couple of fairyland hours for the children of the poor. A Good Fellow can do it by unburdening himself of a basket and a few 10 cent toys—altogether the cost is about that of a bottle of good whisky. And his own cocktails will taste better for the addition of the ingredient kindness.

WHO SHOT ELMER?

Elmer was shot at a party which had gone on so long that everybody was feeling fine and gay. Elmer started to show his guests A, B, and C his collection of firearms. But he forgot to unload the guns before passing them out and then rather foolishly began pointing his own weapon at the visitors. This alarmed them all and they pointed on Elmer. C did not fire. He was not sure of Elmer's purpose. B fired, but too late to score on Elmer, who had been struck already by A's bullet. Detectively yours. Sid Peterson.

GLANDS THAT KEEP ENLARGING.

SOME of these days we will find the cause of Hodgkin's disease—which today presents a baffling problem to medical science. During all the years that the disorder has been studied since it was so clearly described by Thomas Hodgkin, no answerable agent has been discovered. Certain factors point to tuberculosis, others to a diphtherialike bacillus, and still others to tumor growths simulating cancer.

One observation in particular, however, is of considerable moment—namely: that the majority of those who are afflicted are victims of bad oral hygiene. Many will exhibit defective teeth, abscessed tonsils, infections, ulcers, etc., in this vicinity. We know that foul mouths can pour streams of poison into the lymph channels and even into the general circulation; and it is entirely possible that the oral cavity in these cases has contributed to a reduction in resistance that opens the gateway for this stubborn malady. Unquestionably decayed teeth, badly fitting crowns, pyorrhea, and other sources of pus are found generally in this connection.

Fortunately the affection is not common, although it occurs twice as often in men as in women. Its greatest incidence will be in the two decades between the ages of 18 and 38.

The symptoms come on as a rule without much fuss. In most of the cases the enlargement of the lymph glands [nodes], which is characteristic of the ailment, is painless. The patient may observe a gradual increase in size of one side of the neck. After a time the glands on the opposite side may begin to grow. Sometimes lumps will be felt beneath the arm in the early stage, although many other causes may be responsible for the appearance of tumors in this location. There is no reddening of the skin and when gently pressed or squeezed the areas are not tender.

The swelling may progress for many months without producing any symptoms. Itching, however, is common and may be persistent and severe. After a time the glands will become visible in other parts of the body. It is only when hidden structures around the esophagus or the bronchi increase in size that difficulty in breathing or swallowing becomes noticeable.

What to do is the burning question. Medical science must admit at the outset that there is no specific remedy that can be considered curative. First of all, infections anywhere in the body, especially those about the mouth and teeth, should be removed. Both X-ray and radium have a powerful effect upon the enlarged glands and under treatment with these forces they will recede in size and many pressure symptoms may thus be relieved.

The only drug that seems to be of value is arsenic in some form. Just why this acts in so beneficent a manner is not clear, but at best only temporary relief is possible. While the disease does not progress rapidly, the life expectancy is definitly curtailed and, with careful management, five or six years is the average outlook.

Some of these victims are found to be sufferers from tuberculosis. In others, infection with the tubercle bacillus may become manifest subsequent to the identification of the original disease. Is this merely a coincidence or are we overlooking a positive relationship between the two?

We must not assume that every gland that we can feel indicates Hodgkin's disease. Most of us have had the experience of detecting hard lumps beneath the jaw or on one or the other side of the neck, and we have associated them accurately with a sore tooth, tonsilitis, or some inflammation within the mouth. While these are relatively harmless, disappearing within a week or two, it may be wise to subject them to X-ray should they persist.

The point of this discussion is that good mouth hygiene is the price of safety.

SHAKING PALSY.

J. L. writes: Is there any cure for shaking palsy or anything that will quiet down the nervousness?

REPLY.

Shaking palsy [Parkinson's disease] is incurable, but much can be done to relieve the condition. The general resistance must be built up, fatigue must be avoided, and quiet surroundings are necessary. Massage, given by an expert, often helps. Electric baths may be beneficial. Certain drugs are useful, such as hyoscine, atropine, etc. We have some suggestions for physicians, which we will be glad to send on request accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope.

LIAB'LITY FOR JUDGMENT.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A [landlord] is owed two months rent by B [tenant]. A sues for $200 and also gives a five day notice to B and B moves out within the five days. A puts a judgment against B for $85, two months' rent at $37, total of $74 plus $11 court charges. B paid $4 per month on this judgment and made five payments, last payment made on April 1, 1936 [the transaction referred to taking place in 1935].

1. B was told by a lawyer friend that he did not have to make these payments at all because A gave him a five day notice to vacate. B stopped making payments and A's lawyers have written letters to B threatening to garnishee his salary, which is only a drawing account, for he is working on commission.

2. Does B have to make these payments?

3. Can they garnishee?

4. Can A take any piece of value such as furniture?

5. Does a judgment hold good until paid in full regardless of time? C. E.

1. We doubt if any lawyer really advised that a judgment from which no appeal has been taken was not binding on the judgment debtor.

2. Yes, if there is a judgment standing on the point.

3. Yes, if they can find a person who owes money to the judgment debtor. The exemption to the head of a family is $20 per week.

4. Yes, subject to exemption of $400 worth to the head of a family.

5. The limitation period is twenty years.

SUBSTITUTE FOR THE DOLE.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—My work often takes me to the poorer sections of the city and as I see the misery and suffering I often wonder if it wouldn't be both cheaper and more satisfactory for the government to put some of these people on small tracts of land in the south, where they could be self-sustaining and live happier than they do here. You can buy ten acres of that land for less than a year's relief dole amounts to.

I was raised on such a place myself. We had ten acres in eastern Tennessee—about four acres in vegetables and cotton, and the rest pasture. We raised almost everything we ate, and sold enough to buy clothes, etc. We kept a cow and pigs and chickens enough for our meat. We used to raise the steer calves and use them as oxen to do the plowing, cultivating, hauling, etc. Each winter we would butcher one of them for meat.

Not much money to spend, but you don't need much when you raise your own food and live where the winters are mild. Many of the unemployed I have talked to originally came from the farm and would be glad of an opportunity to get back. D. S.

THE OTHERS ARE STILL TO COME.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—There are a number of things wrong with Mr. Parrish's pictorial interpretation of the latest clash in Anglo-Irish relations. I just want to mention two errors. I have no doubt whatever that the others will be covered in some of the several thousands of letters which the cartoon will undoubtedly inspire.

1. The recent incident in Ireland did not arise from Ireland's dislike of monarchical rule. It was simply the latest manifestation of Ireland's age old struggle against English rule. That struggle would exist regardless of what form of government existed in England, monarchical, republican, or any other.

2. Mr. Parrish is decidedly wrong in symbolizing England's relation to Ireland by a figure labeled "Mother Britannia." The symbol would fit if Ireland were a British colony. Ireland, however, is not and never was a British colony. Ireland is a separate nation endeavoring to sever the last bonds imposed upon it by England, a more powerful neighboring nation. A real mother does not obtain children by an armed raid on another mother's nursery.

SEVEN MILLIONS A DAY.

Wichita, Kas., Dec. 14.—A dispatch from San Francisco telling of the landing of 37,000 Japanese soldiers and the destruction by them of block after block of that city's finest property with an average loss, day after day, of 7 million dollars would create the greatest excitement everywhere, and the invaders would be quickly driven from the country. But that very thing has actually been taking place for many weeks, excepting that the damage of 7 million dollars daily is being inflicted not by foreign enemies but by labor unions which have ordered their members to quit work and by the equivalent of military force have prevented others from taking their places. Also, while the city of San Francisco is not being destroyed, the loss and consequent suffering is being widely distributed.

Here we have a distinction without an essential difference. This enormous loss willfully inflicted by a domestic enemy is exactly as reprehensible as though it were inflicted by a foreign enemy and should be treated accordingly.

The numerous strikes in industrial centers are the logical result of encouragement given to union labor during the past few years by legislation at Washington. For the first time in our history labor unions were prostituted to partisan politics. The Federation of Labor alone, between 1932 and 1935, increased its membership by 621,652. As advocated by ex-Senator James A. Reed, the department of labor should be abolished. This step should be followed by others.

HENRY WARE ALLEN.

THE RIGHT TO DIE.

Creston, Ia., Dec. 14.—An effort is being made by certain members of the medical profession and others to legalize euthanasia. THE TRIBUNE of Dec. 5 contained a frank and concise editorial on the question under the caption "The Right to Die."

I am forced to disagree, however, with the stand which THE TRIBUNE takes on the subject. I quote the last sentence of the editorial: "Our own opinion is that in extreme cases of unbearable suffering a human being should not be denied the relief humanity affords to every lower animal." Are we to place human life on a level with that of the beast?

I realize that nothing is done without the consent of the suffering individual involved, but his consent still does not make the act justifiable. It occurs to me that one who submits to an easy death of this type is merely committing another form of suicide. Being too weak to end his own life, he hires a physician to kill him.

Although a physician were permitted by civil law to administer euthanasia there is another law which he should contemplate seriously before sending a patient into the great beyond. This particular law has been written on the conscience of mankind since time immemorial, and it is No. 5 of the Decalog which was written on stone and given to us amid the thunder of Mount Sinai.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland.—Inspector General Edward Rydz-Smigly's decision to change his name coinciding with his appointment as marshal of the Polish army has been greeted in Poland as a symbol. All public institutions and the press have been ordered to call the new marshal Smigly-Rydz instead of Rydz-Smigly as he has been known since his first association with the late Marshal Pilsudski. Poles frequently change names, adopting, preferably, one which some ancestor distinguished. Like the marshal they sometimes retain both.

Since the death of Pilsudski last year Smigly-Rydz has been regarded as his successor. The marshal's policy has been to win popularity before assuming responsibility.

In appointing Smigly-Rydz as marshal, President Ignacy Moscicki hopes to halt the unending intrigue for power and position among the many factions in the government camp and strengthen it against the opposition which still has the great majority of the population with it. In his speech the president emphasized to the marshal that today, as second in authority in Poland, he has responsibilities.

Although repeated suggestions have been made that President Moscicki resign and leave the president's post open to one of the generals, he has refused to consider this step. He believes his retirement from political life would lead to a serious internal crisis and encourage the opposition to become more active. Although he cannot claim much popularity, the president-professor has the respect of the Poles, who do not doubt his patriotism, though they disagree with his methods.

Three important generals with large personal followings, Sikorski, Haller and Korfanty, were not present in the courtyard of the Warsaw castle during the ceremony which created Smigly-Rydz marshal. Gen. Kazimirz Sosnkowski is also said to have left before the ceremony was concluded. He has been created second in command of the army with the title general of armaments.

Although it is officially denied that there was opposition to the appointment of Smigly-Rydz, it is learned from an authoritative source that both Sosnkowski and Gen. Zeligowski claimed this honor. Personal pride in Poland is admitted here to be a national weakness and perhaps more than any other national characteristic has influenced the history of the country.

Like his rivals in generals' uniforms the new marshal has a distinguished military record. He conducted the campaign which freed Dvinsk, now Daugavpils, Latvia, from the bolsheviks and later successfully overcame the Red army led by Gen. [now Marshal] Tuchatchevski. But his greatest service to Poland was his success in organizing and leading the POW [Polish Military society] during the critical months of 1918 when Pilsudski was imprisoned by the Germans. The POW was in reality a nucleus of the national Polish army which later won Poland her independence.

The new general of armaments, Sosnkowski, like Smigly-Rydz, was one of the oldest collaborators of Pilsudski. In Pilsudski's military memoirs there is scarcely a page which does not link the names of Smigly-Rydz and Sosnkowski. The first was the determined and capable soldier, the second the chief of staf. The fact these two men have been working together for 25 years is thought to preclude the possibility of discord today.

Gen. Sosnkowski is regarded in Poland as the logical successor of President Moscicki and his election is believed only a question of a few years.

TREES TO SHADE MICHIGAN AVENUE IN SPRING, IF--

They Weather Winter's Smoke and Gas.

Upon the virility of the American "vase" elm tree depends the arboreal fate of Michigan avenue from Randolph street to Roosevelt road.

This was learned yesterday when Robert Moore, landscape architect for the park board, predicted—prefacing his predictions with a large "if"—that Chicagoans will wake up some morning next spring to find elm trees budding into leaf and tulips and lilacs blooming in Grant park.

The "if" is whether or not the elms, tulips, lilacs, and hyacinths set out in the last four months can withstand the smoke and gaseous fumes of Chicago.

Recalls 1916 Failure.

As long ago as 1916, Mr. Moore said, the city planned to border Michigan avenue with luxuriant shade trees. The trees were set out with great care. They were nursed tenderly. Yet they languished and died.

Since then Chicagoans have protested from decade to decade about the lack of shade, both on the boulevard proper and in Grant park. To meet this protest, the park board again has planted trees, a double row of the classical vase elm—so termed because it grows in the shape of a Grecian urn—up and across the length and breadth of Grant park.

"In 1916," said Mr. Moore, "they planted oriental plane trees, the European sycamore, up and down Michigan avenue. Their death may have been caused by gas or soil conditions. We don't know, but we started out to find some tree which would stand up. The vase elm, planted in various areas of Chicago as a test, has done very well."

Shrubbery Cleared Away.

Chicagoans for many years have wanted flowers in Grant park. They have termed the area around the Grecian peristyle near the Randolph street viaduct an "eyesore," because of the dense shrubbery growth, and a "menace" because of the rats which lurked in its recesses.

Now, after four months of work by WPA laborers, Grant park is ready for spring. Formal gardens, laid out on either side of the Art institute, already have tulip and hyacinth bulbs in their soil. The shrubbery behind the peristyle has been removed in favor of elm and thorn trees, plain and severe green, "a proper background," Mr. Moore said, "for a classic arch."

"The only trouble is what will the soot do to our flowers," Architect Moore sighed. "We'll probably have to go out and sponge off the dirt every day."

Mishawaka, Ind., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—John W. Rhodes, 29, of South Bend, Ind., is in a critical condition here as a result of injuries received when he drove his automobile into the side of a Grank Trunk train. Rhodes has not regained consciousness.

1937 COUNTY FEE OFFICES' BUDGET INCREASES JOBS

The Circuit judges' committee on help yesterday recommended that the county government appropriate for 1,680 jobs in the county fee offices in its 1937 budget.

The judges' recommendation was for a slight increase over 1936 appropriations, 15 jobs, but the fee office job schedule now stands 15 per cent higher than it did in 1933, when the county made its most serious attempt at an economy budget.

The judges' committee disallowed the majority of requests by elective county officials for job increases, but failed to heed the warning of Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, that the county's revenues next year will be 20 per cent less than they were this year, and that the county budget should be pared all down the line if serious deficits are to be avoided.

Judges' Decision Mandatory.

Under the law the judges of the Circuit court fix the number of employés for all county offices which are supported, theoretically, by fee collections. The judges' recommendations as to number of employés are mandatory on the county board, which makes the county budget, but the board has the right to fix pay for the jobs. Theoretically, at least, it could cut the job totals by appropriating dollar a year salaries.

The recommendations of the help committee, consisting of Judges Joseph Burke, William V. Brothers, and Cornelius J. Harrington, will be submitted today for approval of the full membership of the court, which is usually a formality. The employés allowed for 1937, with the number allowed the same offices in 1933 and during the present year, follow:

Clerk, County court	32	32	30
Clerk, Circuit court	86	82	69
Clerk, Superior court	77	74	63
Clerk, Criminal court	49	49	43
Clerk, Probate court	63	63	61
Sherif [general office]	310	307	202
Sherif [county jail]	147	147	133
Sherif [Criminal court]	66	66	68
Sherif [custodian county building]	137	137	137
County treasurer	175	175	172
Coroner	52	51	38
Jury commissioners	11	10	15
Public defender	7	7	....
Juvenile court	157	156	140
Adult probation office	27	25	25
Recorder	284	284	265

Total Pay Rolls Increase.

Fee office employés constitute a little less than one-half of the county pay rollers. Total county pay rolls have increased steadily with each county budget since 1933. Between 1933 and 1936 appropriations for pay of regular employés rose from $6,672,965 to $7,969,315.

Of this increase of $1,296,350, approximately $500,000 is represented by pay cut restorations, the remainder by increase in the number of county employés.

The help committee turned down requests of elective county officials for a total of 156 jobs. Of these the largest increase was sought by Recorder Edward J. Kaindl, to prepare for "returning prosperity and improvements in real estate." His request for 58 additional jobs was rejected with the recommendation that the increase be delayed until prosperity has manifested itself.

SEEK $900,000 PWA GRANT FOR PARKS BUILDING

An application was filed with the federal Public Works administration yesterday for a $900,000 grant to be used by the Chicago park district in constructing of a $2,000,000 park administration building and outdoor theater at the north end of Soldiers' field. Robert J. Dunham, president of the district, in announcing the action, said that $665,000 of park funds is now available for the project.

That sum remains from a bond issue passed in 1933 by the former south park board and designated solely as a fund to be used in constructing a new administration building, Dunham said. The PWA money, if granted, plus the bond funds on hand and $435,000 of other park funds, will enable the district to erect a $2,000,000 structure.

Refunding Presents Problem.

"We wouldn't think of going ahead with this program unless we could get the PWA grant," Dunham said. "I am of the opinion that grants from the Public Works administration will not continue more than six months. It has been suggested that instead of constructing a new building the $665,000 be rebated to taxpayers.

"The money was paid by taxpayers who lived within the old south park district, but it would be harmful to rebate only to taxpayers now living in that district because of the consolidation of all the old districts. The money would have to be rebated to the city as a whole."

Experts are of the opinion, Dunham said, that this would be illegal since most of the taxpayers sharing in the rebate would not be eligible because they had not been assessed by the south park board.

Use World Fair Building.

The present park district headquarters are housed in the old Century of Progress Administration building in Burnham park. When park officials moved in two years ago engineers said occupancy would be safe for only five years due to the temporary type of construction. Less than $25,000 was spent on the building at that time, Dunham said.

"The offices are overcrowded now," Dunham said. "The present building contains about 80,000 square feet of floor space. We need 125,000 square feet as planned in the new building. If the offices were moved into existing administration buildings in the west, south, and north parks the total floor space would be less than 60,000 square feet. Under such an arrangement, offices would be scattered in three sections of the city."

Girl's Plea Wins Leniency for Youth Who Beat Her

Last Oct. 30 Robert Cervenka, 19 years old, 2411 South Trumbull avenue, was arrested after he beat and severely injured Miss Marion Herbeck, also 19, of 3352 West 19th street, with a blackjack during a jealous rage. Yesterday Cervenka appeared before Judge Stephen Adamowski in Boys' court to ask probation on a charge of assault. "Marion couldn't be in court," the girl's mother, Mrs. Mary Herbeck, spoke up, "but she still loves him and asks leniency for him." The youth was placed on probation for a year.

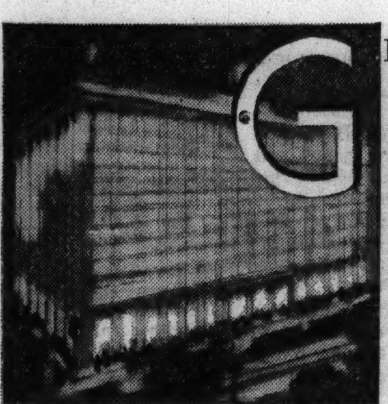
MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY
THE STORE OF THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT



GENERATIONS of Chicagoans are responsible for the oft-repeated phrase: "Don't miss Field's at Christmas time."

A whole world of gifts is concentrated in this great treasure house—thousands of them are new, exciting, unexpected discoveries from all over the globe.

And now, the year-'round splendor of Field's is emphasized by the color and cheer of Christmas decorations. Our sixty windows are ablaze with holiday persuasions. Inside the store, holly and wreaths and bells are mirrored in regal jewels, gleaming silver, lustrous fabrics, rich materials, shining crystal—memorable suggestions for wary or limitless budgets.

The Toy Floor, the fourth, is an animated nursery rhyme, a dream come to life. Enthusiasm is rampant. And, of course, you'll want to meet Santa Claus, an assuring old saint, whose very presence makes every wish come true.

As you wander through the store, you will hear Field's carolers singing the familiar songs that have always endeared Christmas to everyone. In the Walnut Grill inviting tables surround one of the hugest trees you've ever seen, star-topped, and loaded with ornaments.

"Don't miss Field's at Christmas Time!"

"Delighted with results from Tribune Want Ads"

S. J. Newman, Pres., S. J. Newman, Inc., 2652 W. Madison St.

"Our new car sales had been exceptionally good and we had built up quite a stock of used car trade-ins. It was becoming increasingly hard to dispose of them in the customary manner. So we began advertising in the Chicago Tribune used car columns.

"To say that we were delighted and pleased with the results is putting it mildly. The important thing to us was not the number of inquiries, but the type of persons replying. They practically all were of the substantial class who are able to buy on reasonable terms.

"We will certainly continue to use the Tribune as the basis of our used car advertising and merchandising plan."

CUT USED CAR SELLING COSTS!

More people read the Tribune than read any other Chicago newspaper. The Tribune reaches not only the cream of the Chicago automotive market, but the entire market. For more sales at decreased advertising cost, concentrate your used car advertising in the Tribune.

JAPAN TO TRY 54 'GOD-SENT' MEN IN ASSASSIN PLOT

Charges Group Conspired to Massacre Cabinet.

TOKIO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Fifty-four fanatical patriots who called themselves "god-sent soldiers" today were ordered tried by the Supreme court on charges that three years ago they plotted wholesale assassination of the cabinet by airplane bombs.

Their purpose, it was charged, was to clear the way for Emperor Hirohito to rule the nation directly as the mikados are believed to have done in the mythological "age of gods."

The plotters were arrested July 10, 1933, and have been in prison since while the judicial authorities investigated all ramifications of their conspiracy, some details of which were disclosed for the first time today in a statement by the ministry of justice.

Sent Directly to High Court.

That the case has been sent directly to the Supreme court indicates how seriously the government views the plot, for never before has the highest tribunal been made a court of first instance.

Some of the accused were army and navy men, but most are civilians belonging to the ultra-patriotic groups which have flourished in Japan since the Manchurian conquest began in 1931.

The ministry of justice statement said the "god-sent soldiers" wanted to change the existing system of government and society because they believed it had been poisoned by liberal, materialistic, and individualist ideas imported from the occident. It said they intended, therefore, to wipe out the cabinet and destroy the machinery of government by armed mass insurrection and reëstablish a primitive form of direct imperial rule.

Planned to Bomb Cabinet.

Commander Saburo Yamaguchi, a naval aviator, was charged with the task of flying over the official residence of the prime minister the morning of July 11, 1933, at a time the entire cabinet would be in session there, and destroying the building by bombing. Commander Yamaguchi since has died in prison. This was to be a signal for a general rising.

The "god-sent" soldiers" planned to burn the residences of all cabinet ministers, headquarters of all political parties, the Industrial Bank of Japan, and residences of other political leaders in one great conflagration.

All this was to have been carried out July 7, but was postponed until July 11 because some of the plotters were wavering. The night of July 10, however, the "god-sent soldiers" were seized by police as they assembled to march to the Meiji shrine to pray for the national gods' blessing on their enterprise.

NAZI AX MAN QUITS AFTER 23 YEARS TO HELP WIFE IN LAUNDRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—Prussia's executioner, Max Groepler of Magdeburg, who for 23 years has wielded the ax in the name of justice, today resigned his grim office. He will henceforth help his wife run her laundry.

Groepler inherited his job from his father. He is passing it on to an outsider. After the Nazis assumed power Groepler's activities increased many fold. Two of his victims were Baroness Benita von Berg and Renate von Natzmer, executed as spies.

Groepler is convinced that the hand ax is the most humane method of execution. According to regulations, Groepler always was clad in dress suit and white kid gloves when swinging the ax, which he carried in a case that looked like a violin case. He was paid $72 for each beheading.

1½ Per Cent Sales Tax Becomes Alabama Law

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 17.—(AP)—A one and a half per cent gross receipts tax on retail sales and amusements, the object two weeks ago of a march of protest on the capitol, was written into Alabama's laws under Gov. Bibb Graves' signature tonight. Signing the measure within a few hours after the senate passed it, 19 to 14, the governor commented that "this is a happy moment."

BAR ASSOCIATION SUES ON 'OUTSIDE' LEGAL SERVICES

The Chicago Bar association filed two suits yesterday in the Superior court, asking injunctions to restrain an individual and a corporation from supplying legal services in violation of the law. Joseph M. Larimer, assistant secretary of the association, said the suits are the first of a series to be filed in Chicago, and are part of a national campaign by bar associations.

One of the suits is directed against John G. Zelezny, a real estate dealer at 3856 West 26th street. According to the bill he is not a lawyer, but is giving legal advice and is drawing wills and other legal instruments contrary to law.

The other suit was filed against the Tax Service Association of Illinois, 228 North La Salle street. This corporation, the bill asserts, is soliciting business on tax matters, and is representing property owners in legal proceedings in violation of a law specifically forbidding legal practice by corporations. The suits were filed by the bar association's committee on the unauthorized practice of law, of which David J. A. Hayes is chairman.

Indiana Woman Driver Ends Up in a Cemetery

Mishawaka, Ind., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Mrs. Theodore Roussey landed in the city cemetery tonight, but she wasn't dead. In an attempt to escape a headon collision with two other cars, she crashed her auto through a concrete wall and shattered two tombstones. Although the car was demolished, Mrs. Roussey received only bruises.

Syracuse U. Gives Medal to Goudy, Type Designer

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—A bronze medal, symbol of distinguished achievement in one of the branches of journalism, was awarded tonight to Frederick W. Goudy of Marlboro, N. Y., foremost living type designer, by the Syracuse university school of journalism.

HOLD UP CAR; GET $175.

John Seaman, owner of a photographic studio at 1953 East 71st street, reported to the Woodlawn police that two colored gunmen in an automobile stopped his car at Marquette road and the Inner drive in Jackson park last evening and robbed him of $175.

ESTRANGED MEMBER OF PROMINENT FAMILY FOUND DEAD OF BURNS

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Frederick M. Dunn Jr., 36, member of a socially prominent family from which he was separated, was found burned to death today in a downtown lodging house.

His clothes appeared to have been ignited from a cigaret spark while he was wrapping Christmas gifts. The fire burned itself out leaving other lodgers unaware of the accident.

This afternoon Dunn's mother, Mrs. Frederick M. Dunn of Chestnut Hill, and her son-in-law, David Newhall Jr., an official of the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust company, arrived at the rooming house with gifts to surprise him. Climbing to the fourth floor room they received no response to their knocks at the door, which was locked.

The door was forced open and Dunn's body was found on a fire blackened rug. His attire was in ashes.

Mr. Dunn separated about three years ago from his wife, the former Edith Lindell Gibb, according to friends.

FIND WOMAN DEAD IN HOTEL.

Mrs. Theresa Kaplan, 31 years old, was found dead yesterday in her room in the 14th West Elm street apartment hotel. An envelope which apparently had contained sleeping tablets was found near her body.

FOUR INJURED AS CRANE SCOW UPSETS IN RIVER

Four men were injured late last night when a steam crane on which they were working at the mouth of the Chicago river tipped over. One of them was hurtled into the icy water, but was rescued by fellow workmen.

Those hurt were William Perkinson, 50 years old, 2629 Gladys avenue, engineer; Mario Bilardello, 30, 800 South Loomis street, oiler and fireman; John Cannon, 50, 3145 Flournoy street, laborer, and James Loftus, 59, 8616 South Carpenter street, laborer. Bilardello was the man thrown into the river. He and Perkinson were taken to Alexian Brothers hospital.

The men, employed by the Frazier Davis & G. L. Carlston Contracting company, were removing mud in connection with the new locks at the mouth of the river. Apparently one load was too heavy. It tipped over the crane carriage and also the scow. The men were saved from possible death. Help was summoned from the nearby Old Chicago coast guard station.

South Bend Woman Killed When Train Hits Her Auto

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lottie Piechocki, 65, was killed here tonight when a New York Central passenger train struck her automobile. The car with the woman at the wheel was carried more than seven blocks before the train could be stopped.

Tumanskaya, Soprano, Is Dead After Taking Poison

PARIS RIGHTISTS AND NAZIS MAP COLONIES DEAL

Offer to Back Berlin in Return for Anti-Red Aid.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—A French Rightist delegation of industrialists and newspapermen headed by Marcel Knecht of the Paris Matin has been negotiating in Berlin for closer Franco-German relations.

The delegation reported that Col.-Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, director of Germany's four year plan, and the second most powerful man in Germany, gave them a document "which may prove the basis of a Franco-German accord."

Since the question of colonies and raw materials is uppermost in the German mind today, Knecht and his friends have been assuring Germans that France strongly favors the return of former German colonies to Germany but that England is opposed to that action.

Close to Tardieu.

The Knecht group is close to Andre Tardieu, former French premier, and industrialist circles which are violently opposed to the government of Premier Leon Blum.

In talking with foreign diplomats in Berlin they claimed to be in Germany with the knowledge and approval of Blum. In talking to French friends, however, they denounce him vigorously. In conversations with Germans they sound almost more Nazi than the Nazis and are bolstering the feeling in official circles that the day is near when the Fascist forces of France will rise and seize power.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and economics minister, is among those entertaining the Frenchmen, who are discussing means of helping Germany to obtain needed raw materials. To date the French have not formulated their own demands except that they are "eager for German help to undermine Red forces working in France.".

Hitler Talks to 500 Leaders.

The question of German raw materials and the four year plan was to the fore today with Reichsfuehrer Hitler addressing 500 Nazi leaders on that subject in the former house of lords. No word of Hitler's address was reported.

After Dr. Schacht last week first sounded the German cry for "adequate space and colonies and sources of raw materials," all Germany again has become colony conscious. An official statement asserts: "We cannot tolerate efforts to sidetrack German demands for colonies with cheap slogans and unthinking references to world trade and world business."

Dr. Schacht, who formerly advocated the creation of trading companies similar to those with which England started her colonial empire, now demands that Germany be granted territories which she can administrate as she pleases and finance with German marks. He sees in colonies the "only safety valve for European peace."

Court Frees Woman Held After Suicide of Fireman

Judge Joseph B. Hermes in Women's court yesterday dismissed a charge of disorderly conduct against Mrs. Lillian Whipperman, 32 years old, 2710 North Harlem avenue, Elmwood Park, who denied she had entered into a suicide pact with Leonard Hall, an Oak Park fireman. Hall was found dead from poison on Dec. 2 in a west side hotel, where he had registered with Mrs. Whipperman. In court yesterday with Mrs. Whipperman was her husband, Harry. "Everything is going to be all right," she assured the court. "This has been a lesson I'll never forget."

Meets Women Bar Flies; Now He's Out $85 Watch

H. Seaver Jones, 53 years old, of New York City, president of a steam fitting supply concern, was robbed of his watch valued at $85, a pair of eye glasses, and a key ring yesterday by two attractive young women whom he and a companion, William Dunderdale, met in a loop bar. Jones told police the four later went to his room in the Hotel Sherman where they had several more drinks. He noticed the theft after the young women had gone.

FRANCE DENIES WAR DEBT PLAN TO GET U.S. LOAN

Budget Deficit Laid to Red Influence.

PARIS, Dec. 17.—(AP)—France's finance minister, Vincent Auriol, flung back a prompt denial today of Rightist charges that the government is reconsidering the war debt to the United States in order to get a new American loan and stave off inflation.

Opposition deputies raised the question in the chamber while the Socialist government was attempting to drive the 1937 budget through to approval.

Auriol was visibly angered when the Rightist Jacques Duboys-Fresney asked him: "What about an American loan?" The finance minister already had denied he is reconsidering the debt question in order to get more money in the United States.

Budget Attacked.

"I already have said no," he snapped.

"From your lips that is equivalent to a 'yes,'" Duboys-Fresney remarked.

The question of such a loan arose in part from Rightists' attacks on the budget, which they said overestimated receipts and underestimated expenses.

Joseph Denais, a Rightist, said France's total national debt is 400,000,000,000 francs [about $18,680,000,000 at the current rate of exchange]. The Rightist Jean de Tinguy said the budget deficit is 13,000,000,000 francs [about $607,100,000] "as a result of the government's enslavement to communist influence."

Hoped for New Agreement.

France, in her recent semi-annual war debt note, informed Washington she was defaulting her scheduled payment but hoped to open negotiations for a new agreement "acceptable to both" parties.

At a night session of the chamber Paul Reynaud, for long almost the lone champion of French devaluation, declared France is the only country in which devaluation had not succeeded. The nation, he said, showed few solid signs of recovery.

Auriol, defending the government, asserted, "We want to create riches before distributing them." The finance minister cited figures showing the indices of wholesale prices were up 35 per cent since the beginning of 1936 while retail prices were up 15 per cent.

GIRLS IN PAPUA DEMAND MATES WHO ARE KILLERS

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

CANBERRA, Australia, Dec. 17.—Sir Hubert Murray, lieutenant governor of Papua, today reported to Prime Minister William A. Lyons on native wedding customs. The report says the girls in some communities in the hinterland will not accept a suitor unless he has killed a man. As proof he must bring a dead man's finger, which the girl wears smoke dried and suspended from her neck.

One suitor seeking a finger became lost in the wilderness and nearly starved to death. Rescued by villagers and restored to health, he continued the search. He was almost caught by an alligator when crossing a river. Arriving in a large village he concealed himself in the grass and waited for his victim who soon arrived. The would-be victim gave the attacker a severe beating, leaving him for dead. A good Samaritan nursed the suitor to recovery, after which he returned home begging the girl not to insist on killing a man. She was adamant and dismissed him. Lieut. Gov. Murray says the crucial test will come when the government asks girls to accept men who are not killers.

WIFE OF POLICE SECRETARY GIVES BIRTH TO TWINS

Mrs. James McSweeney, 3031 Polk street, wife of the secretary of the police department, gave birth to twins—a boy and a girl—in her home yesterday. The McSweeneys have two other children, James Jr., 7 years old, and Marilyn, 3 years old.

CANTOR HIRES A BODYGUARD; BLAMES NAZIS

Calling on Chicago's Jewry to present a united front in opposition to the Nazi movement's growth in America, Eddie Cantor yesterday declared that he had engaged a bodyguard because of threats by anti-Semitic groups. The comedian addressed a luncheon gathering of almost 1,000 Jews associated with the Community Council of Jewish Charities at the Standard club. Mr. Cantor is said to have aroused the antipathies of Nazi propagandists because of his public utterances against Hitlerism and his interest in removing Jewish children from Germany to Palestine.

Mr. Cantor told the welfare workers that in Los Angeles Nazi organizations expended more than $5,000,000 last year to promote their cause. He also claimed that the nation's air channels are being flooded with pro-Nazi propaganda by so-called news commentators paid with Nazi funds.

ANOTHER LIMERICK IN TOMORROW'S DAILY TRIBUNE

THE RULES:

1. Every week-day until further notice a new, unfinished Limerick of four lines will appear in the Daily Tribune. Two cash prizes of $100.00 each will be paid each day for the best last lines submitted.
2. You may write your last line on a postcard, any sheet of paper, or on the coupon. Send as many last lines as you wish.
3. Mail your answers to "Limericks," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. Mark the number of the Limerick on the outside of the envelope. All answers must be in not later than 6 p. m., three days following the publication of the unfinished Limerick. Prize winners will be announced one week after publication. For example, the winners of today's Limerick will be published one week from today.
4. This offer is open to everyone except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. It costs you nothing.
5. Limericks will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Originality, cleverness and neatness will count. Contestants agree to accept the judges' decision as final. In case of ties duplicate awards will be paid.

AUTO INDUSTRY HIT HARDEST BY 11 BIG STRIKES

Estimate 75,000 Idle in Allied Trades.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Strike tension increased today in the automobile industry, now beset by walkouts of glass, wheel, body, cushion, and upholstery makers, as rumors were renewed of a possible sympathy tie-up between 13,000 idle glass company employés and fretting automobile workers.

Heads of the automobile and flat glass workers unions are on their way east for a conference in Washington with John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for industrial organization. The meeting, arranged for today, was postponed until tomorrow because bad weather delayed the union leaders.

Trade observers in Wall street, who estimated that 75,000 workers are out in eleven major strikes in the country, said the automobile industries was one of the fields most seriously affected.

One Strike Settled.

Stanley Novak, organizer for the United Automobile Workers of America, said a strike at the National Automotive Fibers, Inc., plant temporarily has been settled. The 1,300 workers will return to work tomorrow with an hourly wage increase of 5 cents for all persons earning up to 70 cents an hour, Novak said, and other union demands will be negotiated. The Fibre company manufactures floor pads, cushions, and upholstery for automobiles.

Although automobile companies were said to be stocked with glass for at least a month in advance, the industry would be hampered seriously if the strikes at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libbey-Owens-Ford plants, now apparently deadlocked, were prolonged for some length of time.

Neither company nor union officials indicated today they saw any hope for immediate settlement of the differences that resulted in 7,000 Libbey-Owens employés going on strike at plants in Ottawa, Ill.; Toledo, O.; Charleston, W. Va., and Shreveport, La.

Long Shutdown Seen.

Evidence that a long siege is expected was seen today when sand graders and pot men at the Toledo plant were ordered to cease keeping equipment ready for resumption of work. If the pots are permitted to cool it was said that four or five weeks would be required before operations could be resumed.

The Libbey-Owens company, with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass, which has 6,000 workers idle at five factories, manufactures about 85 per cent of the automobile industry's safety glass and 93 per cent of the nation's plate glass.

Hundreds in Plant.

Meanwhile, picket lines have been doubled at the wheel plants of the Kelsey-Hayes company here, where a "sit down" strike involving 5,000 men has been in progress since Monday. Union officials contend there are 700 workers inside the plants, but company officials put the figure at about 200.

At the Kelsey Wheel company, Ltd., in Windsor, Ont., where a brief strike occurred yesterday, company officials announced the plant had resumed operations with about 25 per cent of the strikers returning to work.

In Kansas City operations were tied up in a Fisher body plant and an adjacent Chevrolet factory by a "sit down" strike. Fisher employés were ordered on strike yesterday when a worker in the affiliated Chevrolet plant was dismissed for jumping across an assembly line in violation of a plant rule.

MARITIME TIEUP BELIEVED NEAR TO SETTLEMENT

Sailors' Leader to Ask a Vote Today.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Maritime peacemakers took another step today toward settlement of the shipping tieup, and Harry Lundeberg, sailors' union spokesman, said he expected to put the terms of a complete accord before his followers tomorrow.

Lundeberg indicated he and his conferees, representing the marine firemen and the shipowners, had reached an agreement on all major issues involved.

Report Wage Increases.

T. G. Plant, shipowner negotiator, remained noncommittal. J. E. Ferguson, spokesman for the marine firemen, conceded that "considerable progress" had been made.

It was reported the shipowners had offered "substantial" wage increases. The Plant-Lundeberg-Ferguson conference previously reached a tentative accord on the two main issues of the forty-nine day walkout—hiring hall control and a system of penalties for enforcing working contract terms. The principal issues the remaining were wages and hours.

The sailors and firemen formerly received a minimum of $62.50 monthly and asked $90. The shipowners offered $70 at the outset of negotiations.

Lundeberg said he planned to put the new accord before his union membership for ratification or rejection tomorrow and that thereafter his group probably would put into writing an agreement previously reached with coastwise ship operators giving sailors in that branch of the industry a $10 raise to $80 monthly.

Sailors Had Agreement.

The sailors reached an agreement with the coastwise operators before the strike developed, but walked out with the other maritime workers in line with their "solid front policy."

At least one major obstruction remained. The Masters, Mates, and Pilots' union has asked preferential hiring agreements as well as substantial pay boosts. The operators have held out firmly for the right to choose their own ship's officers, not all of whom are union members.

Observers said negotiations with the masters, mates, and pilots would be in order soon in the event agreements were completed with the Sailors, Firemen, and Cooks and Stewards unions.

AMERICAN PEACE PARLEY UPSET BY IDEA OF A LEAGUE

Faces Redden, Caustic Words Fly.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Inter-American peace conference delegates wrangled in a committee session today over a subcommittee's recommendation for creation of an American league of nations and finally postponed action on the plan.

Faces reddened and caustic words flew as the Argentine and Brazilian delegates led the opposition to the idea during a meeting of the committee on peace organization.

The subcommittee, in its report, advocated establishment of an association of American countries on lines recommended by Colombia and the Dominican Republic.

Oppose Study of Plans.

Max Henriquez Urena, a Dominican representative and chairman of the subcommittee, proposed that the conference name five jurists to meet by May 1, 1937, to study the two projects and prepare a report for the regular Pan-American parley slated for Lima, Peru, in 1938, but even this suggestion met strong opposition.

Argentina's bemustached foreign minister and Nobel peace prize winner, Carlos Saavedra Lamas, who is chairman of the whole conference, and Hildebrando Accioly of Brazil led the attack on the suggestions for a league.

They assailed not only the idea of an American league, but the appointment of a committee to study it, declaring establishment of such an organization at present would not be feasible.

José M. Cantillo of Argentina called the league proposal "immature." This brought the remark from Lleras Camarago of Colombia that the idea had existed for a century and was in reality first broached by Simon Bolivar, northern South America's liberator whose memory the committee honored today on the 106th anniversary of his death.

"Child with a Crown."

Maximiliano Patricio Brannon of Salvador entered the spirited debate by saying: "The consultative system we set up by the new peace maintenance pact [approved by the full conference yesterday] is a child with a crown. This child needs regents to form an American league and an American court."

Francisco Castillo Najera of Mexico and Felipe Barreda Laos of Peru tried to halt the wrangle. Eventually the committee adjourned, returning the report to the subcommittee to study the possibility of sending it to Washington, D. C., to be considered by a law codification group to assemble in April under a resolution passed yesterday.

The arms limitation committee, in a quieter session, adopted a Chilean resolution urging general or bilateral arms limitations agreements, "within the necessities of their [the signatories'] internal order and of justified defense."

Use of Poison Gas Assailed.

It deferred action on a Uruguayan resolution assailing the use of poison gas and bacteria in warfare and the bombings of unprotected cities when Brazil offered a counter proposal declaring the Uruguayan plan would require detailed study for definition of some of its terms.

Heated debates marked the meeting of the committee on intellectual coöperation, which approved, among other measures, a Brazilian resolution recommending that all the American republics acknowledge the citizenship rights and duties of women.

The United States delegation won approval of the economic committee for its recommendation that governments of the twenty-one American republics establish equality of treatment in international trade. Along with a United States resolution proposing reduction of excessive trade barriers, which was passed by the committee yesterday, the measure will go before the next plenary session for final approval.

BRITAIN GETS U. S. PERMIT TO KEEP 5 OLD CRUISERS

World Unrest Averts Junking of Warships.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 17.—With the approval of the United States government, Great Britain has decided to retain five cruisers doomed to be scrapped at the end of this month under the London naval treaty. Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, announced the decision tonight in the house of commons. Japan, a co-signatory to the treaty, also is expected to acquiesce.

Seriousness of the international situation is given as the reason for the government's action. Recent Italo-British tension in the Mediterranean and the critical Spanish situation are the chief contributing factors which the first lord declared "made the present obviously no time to scrap serviceable vessels."

Use Loophole.

Hoare disclosed that Britain recently exchanged views with the United States and Japan on utilizing a loophole in clause 21 of the London treaty so as to retain the old rruisers as "essential to British naval security."

The first lord expressed the greatest appreciation for "the sympathetic and helpful attitude" of the United States. In the tribute he included also Japan, confirming the belief that Tokio will follow the line of the United States.

Building Programs Unaffected.

The British decision will not affect the naval building programs of the United States and Japan, although it might affect their scrapping schemes, said Hoare, answering questions from Laborites. There were derisive shouts from opposition benches when Winston Churchill, on behalf of the big navy group, formally congratulated Hoare and the government on "this considerable achievement."

The cruisers affected are the Cardiff and Ceres [each 4,190 tons] and the Caledon, Calypso, and Caradoc [each 4,120 tons], all built in 1917 under the war program. The Cardiff and Ceres have a speed of twenty-nie knots and carry five 6 inch and sixteen smaller guns and eight torpedo tubes. The other ships are similarly armed.

Britain now has a cruiser strength of fifty-three ships and tonnage of 359,000—20,000 above treaty provision.

Col. Gowenlock to Recall War Activities at Luncheon

Col. Thomas R. Gowenlock, war hero and former intelligence chief of the 1st division, will talk on his war experiences at a luncheon today of the Methodist Men's club of Glen Ellyn in the Eitel restaurant in the Field building. Col. Gowenlock's stories on military intelligence activities in the world war which appeared recently in the Graphic section of THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE are being published in book form.

HAMM GETS BACK PART OF RANSOM SEIZED IN BANK

William Hamm Jr., St. Paul brewer, is entitled to most of the $8,000 found in Waukegan that was allegedly part of the $100,000 ransom paid to kidnapers for Hamm's release in 1933. This was the ruling made yesterday by Judge Ralph J. Dady of the Lake county Circuit court in Hamm's suit to attach the money.

The money was seized last July from a safe deposit box in the First National bank of Waukegan which was held in the name of Mrs. John Vioski, 124 South Martin avenue, Waukegan. Mrs. Vioski admitted that the money had been given her to keep by Mrs. Belle Born, a friend of Charles J. Fitzgerald, one of the kidnapers who is now serving a life sentence for his part in the crime. Mrs. Vioski was exonerated.

Of the $8,000, Hamm will receive $5,500 and Mrs. Born and Fitzgerald's attorney, Thomas J. Newman of Minneapolis, will share the remaining $2,500.

EMILY LAMBERT WINS $1,600,000 ALIMONY AWARD

Also Gets Sole Custody of Two Sons in Divorce.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Gross alimony of $1,600,000 was awarded Mrs. Emily Milliken Lambert when she received a divorce today from J. D. Wooster Lambert, multi-millionaire and former secretary treasurer of the Lambert Pharmacal company. She also won sole custody of their two children.

Mrs. Lambert's petition was filed only an hour and forty minutes before the decree was signed by Circuit Judge Eugene J. Sartoris after a hearing in chambers. Lambert was not present but filed an entry of appearance.

Mental Cruelty Alleged.

The petition alleged mental cruelty and charged the internationally known sportsman absented himself for long periods without cause and maintained an indifferent attitude toward his wife, creating an "atmosphere of manifest and constant unhappiness" in their home.

Mrs. Lambert, daughter of the late John T. Milliken, wealthy chemical manufacturer, was Lambert's second wife. They were married Sept. 26, 1925, at Denver, Colo., about a year after the millionaire was divorced by the former Julia Marion Turner.

The terms of the divorce decree provided that Mrs. Lambert is to receive $1,600,000 in "money value" to consist of properties selected by agreement between her counsel, Daniel N. Kirby, and Lambert's attorney, George C. Willson.

Gets Sum for Children.

In addition to the property selected she is to have the furnishings and town car at their home at 17 Beekman place, New York, where they lived until their separation Nov. 27.

Sole custody of the children, J. D. Wooster Jr., 10, and Jarvis Winn, 7, was granted their mother, but it was agreed their father may visit them at reasonable times.

For the maintenance of each child Mrs. Lambert is to receive $100 a month until they are 12 years old and then gradually increased amounts up to $400 a month at the age of 18. The payments are to be discontinued when each child reaches 21.

U. S. HELP SOUGHT IN DRIVE AGAINST FLOG TERRORISTS

Southport, N. C., Dec. 17.—(AP)—A threatening note signed "K. K. K." lead Brunswick county officers today to hope for federal assistance in breaking up sporadic activities of a band of hooded night riders, reported to have capped off their floggings by joining in prayer.

Sherif J. A. Russ said he had asked government agents to investigate the sending of the note by mail to Jarvis Inman, 22 year old Freeland filling station operator, a cousin of William Inman who reported that he and a neighbor, Jesse Cox, had been lashed and warned to "mend your ways" by twenty-five or thirty men, who then held a "prayer meeting."

The note, Russ said, told Inman there were certain "things you must do" or "we will get you." It was postmarked at Freeland, he added, although the note paper was headed "Little River, S. C."

Previously Russ had expressed the opinion that the night riders had headquarters across the state line in Horry county, South Carolina, although most of their alleged nocturnal raids have been reported from Brunswick and Columbus counties in this state.

The note to Inman, Russ said, was dated Dec. 5. On the same day, he continued, a message of similar import was left on the door of Herby King, another Freeland man.

Russ said he assumed the signature "K. K. K." was intended to make the potential victims believe the warning had come from the Ku Klux Klan, although no activities of that organization have been reported in this vicinity in recent years.

Inman's account of his and Cox's flogging Thangsgiving night was the first to be publicized since a series of whippings in Columbus county early in the year. Four women, who later were sentenced to prison for prostitution, were the victims in those instances, along with two men relatives. No arrests ever were made on flogging charges.

NAMEPLATE MAKER DIES.

NORWOOD PARK FOSSIL IS FOUND TO BE SEA LILY

A fossil found in his back yard by Charles W. Gindele, 5934 North Harlem avenue, Norwood Park, has been identified as a "geode" by Dr. D. K. Roy of the Field museum. This, said Dr. Roy, means it was a sea animal known as the brinoid, or sea lily, many millions of years ago.

Gindele said he planned to give it to the Field museum or the Rosenwald museum. He thought it was a petrified cabbage when he found it.

The fossil is round and hollow, and if broken would be found to contain quartz crystals, Dr. Roy said. It is about 6 inches in diameter, larger than most specimens that he has seen.

BEG YOUR PARDON

George C. Fritz, who says he is a part owner of a motor sales agency at 4114 Irving Park boulevard, denied that James A. Schellenberger is a part owner of the agency as stated in an item yesterday. The information in the item was supplied by Attorney Harry J. Busch, counsel for Mrs. Schellenberger, who is seeking separate maintenance.

Romance Begun on Campus Is Ended in Divorce Court

Mrs. Alice Rodgers Ozment, 23 years old, 6909 Crandon avenue, was granted a divorce by Judge Joseph B. David in Superior court yesterday from Lowell Vernon Ozment of St. Louis, to whom she was married on June 2, 1934, while both were attending the University of Illinois. The couple separated on Oct. 2, 1935.

BANDIT GETS $500 IN GRILL AS MEN DINERS STAND BY

More than a hundred men were dining yesterday in the men's grill on the sixth floor of the Marshall Field & Co. men's store, Washington street and Wabash avenue. Ten men stood in line before the cashier's desk waiting to pay their luncheon checks. Suddenly one of the ten displayed a pistol and demanded money from the cashier, Miss Ivy Patton, 4434 North Damen avenue. She shoved about $500 across the counter. The robber stuffed the money into his pockets and entered a nearby elevator.

Miss Patton screamed and diners rushed to her aid. Only then were they aware that a robbery had taken place and that the bandit had escaped.

During the day Marshall Field & Co. reported to the central police that $10,275 in jewelry was stolen on Dec. 9 from the sub-basement shipping room of the loop store. The jewelry had been sent here for repairs by a New York concern. Store detectives withheld a report of the theft while they conducted their own investigation.

HELD TO JURY FOR ROBBERY.

Martin Garrity, 25 years old, 2236 Washington boulevard, an ex-convict, was held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $7,500 by Judge Frank M. Padden in Felony court on a charge of strong-arm robbery.

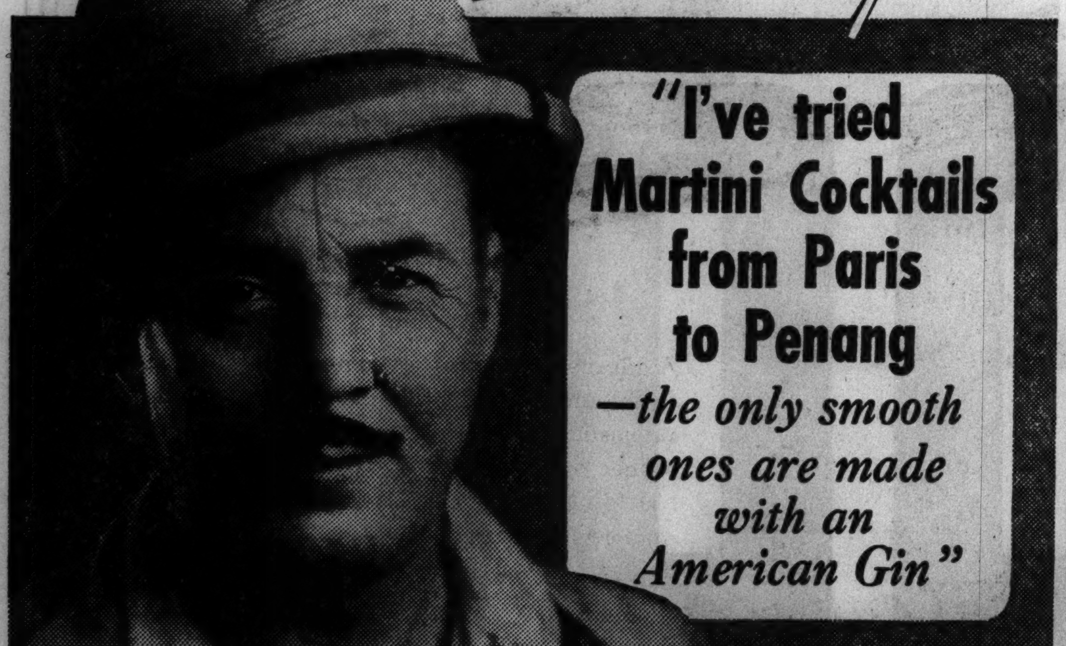
FRANK BUCK says



"I've tried Martini Cocktails from Paris to Penang —the only smooth ones are made with an American Gin"

"ALTHOUGH a mild drinker, I am fond of a Martini or two before dinner," says Mr. Buck. "America is the only place you can get them smooth. Some foreign gins are so strong they kill the delicate flavor of the Vermouth. American gin—Fleischmann's in particular—makes the best Martinis."

Use Fleischmann's Gin for your next cocktail party. It is distilled especially for mixing, from American grain, 90 Proof. The Fleischmann Distilling Corp., Peekskill, N.Y. Also Fleischmann's Sloe Gin, 65 Proof.

YOU who advertise know how necessary it is to plan ahead. You know, too, that this year the holidays will bring you one of the best opportunities for better business in years. Why? Because there is more money to spend in Detroit and a cheerier spirit at home than at any time since 1929.

Detroit has not had a holiday season such as this promises to be for many a long moon. AND DETROIT IS THE FOURTH MARKET OF AMERICA.

In the Detroit trading area which contains 47.80% of Michigan's people, The News has the largest circulation of any Detroit newspaper. It has one of the most remarkable advertising records ever achieved. During the last 22 years its position nationally has been:

OIL WELL STOCK SALESMAN FACES FRAUD CHARGES

Minneapolis Man Sought on Milwaukeean's Plea.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—A warant was issued today charging George I. Brooks, Minneapolis stock salesman, with violation of the state blue sky law in connection with sales of stock in a California oil well.

Herman Eggert, 80, 1320 North 29th street, complained to Andrew Brunhart, assistant district attorney, that Brooks induced him to invest $4,000 in the worthless stock July, 1935. Brooks told Eggert, he said, that the stocks would pay him $25 to $30 a month dividends. When the dividends were not forthcoming Eggert consulted Attorney Charles Erasmus. Investigation showed the stock to be worthless, Erasmus told Brunhart today.

Brunhart said that on Dec. 23, 1931, Brooks had his license to sell bonds and securities in Wisconsin revoked by the public service commission.

Minneapolis authorities have been asked to find and hold Brooks, the district attorney's office said tonight.

The district attorney's office was informed late today that two stock salesmen, alleged to have sold $2,500 worthless oil stock to Miss Elsie Ihlenfeld, secretary and bookkeeper for a downtown concern, had been found in New York. Authorities of that city said the men would be held if Milwaukee requested such action.

A warant for their arrest was issued in January of this year after Miss Ihlenfeld had complained to the late District Attorney William A. Zabel. The present district attorney's staf had not decided tonight whether the warant will be pressed. Further investigation was desired, it was announced.

The oil stock was sold to Miss Ihlenfeld in 1929, but it was not until 1936 that she discovered it was worthless, she said.

Swiss President

[Acme Photo.]

Dr. Motta was elected by a secret vote of both chambers of the Swiss federal assembly, which gave him 157 out of 201 ballots. The nominee is selected each year from among the seven members of the federal council, on which Dr. Motta has served for a quarter century.

Nathan M. Stein Heads Jewish Center Campaign

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Nathan M. Stein was named general chairman for the Jewish center membership campaign today at a meeting of team captains and executive committee members at the center. I. B. Padway was elected associate chairman, and Mrs. Simon Kander honorary chairman. The campaign will run for two weeks beginning Jan. 7.

SHUT OFF TAVERN PERMITS.

Sheboygan, Wis., Dec. 18.—[Special.]—The council today voted to grant no more liquor licenses. There now are 139 licensed taverns in the city—one to every 300 inhabitants.

WHITE COLLAR WPA MEN FIGHT WAGE SLASHES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Representatives of several thousand white collar workers on WPA projects here made known tonight that they had protested to Gov. La Follette and Martin W. Torkelson, state WPA administrator, against pay cuts as high as 30 per cent in some instances. They also had demanded the removal of Maj. George H. Boyer, WPA administrator in Milwaukee county, it was stated.

Many Workers Reclassified.

The protests were taken to Madison personally by a committee headed by W. C. Reimer, representing workers in the division of tax enforcement and other projects here, and by Dr. James K. Robinson, Progressive candidate for governor in the September primary.

The action was decided on after a series of seven meetings held recently at which representatives of workers on 22 white collar jobs registered their complaints.

It was asserted that many workers had been reclassified, with pay reduced from $100 to $70 per month. Workers declared it was impossible to support a family on the reduced amount.

Points to Red Agitators.

Reimer asserted tonight that qualifications of workers to fill particular needs have been ignored, and that Boyer's office at the National Soldiers' home virtually is inaccessible to the average WPA worker who has a grievance. He had demanded of state officials information as to whether the pay of Boyer and other high administrative officers had been cut, Reimer said.

Communistic agitators are endeavoring to take advantage of the present discontent among the workers, the committee said.

"We have asked for a complete readjustment of projects, with appointment of separate personal directors for the county and city, with power to reclassify workers into higher paid jobs where it is justified," said Reimer.

BEAVER DAM LEASES HOSIERY PLANT TO WEYENBERG SHOE CO.

Beaver Dam, Wis., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—This city today leased the factory building of the Bear Brand Hosiery company to the Weyenberg Shoe company. A check of $30,000 was paid the Paramount Realty company, former owners. The rest of the purchasing price, $20,000, is to be paid March 1, 1937. In order to settle legality of the purchase, those interested instituted a friendly suit in Circuit court. This was disposed of Saturday when the court ordered dismissal of the injunction suit.

The Weyenberg firm signed a 10 year lease with privilege of renewing provided that prior to Dec. 31, 1946, the company shall have paid $1,000,000 or more in wages. Work on buildings will begin at once. Expenditure not to exceed $35,000 will be paid by the city. The plant will be ready for operation Feb. 1. More than 700 applicants for jobs have been received up to date. The annual pay roll is expected to reach $350,000.

POLICE AND FIRE CHIEFS' POWERS TO OUST CURBED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—New methods of procedure in demotions in the police and fire departments, made necessary by a recent state Supreme court decision, were discussed tonight at a meeting of the police and fire commission. Police Chief Joseph T. Kluchesky and Fire Chief Peter Steinkellner were present.

For 25 years the power of demotion has been exercised by the chiefs, with no filing of complaints with the commission, or no listing of charges against the men affected in some instances. The Supreme court held this method illegal, and that the men demoted had the right of a hearing on specific charges. The issue had been appealed to the Supreme court by James McCarthy, a former district fire chief, who resigned, he said, rather than accept demotion to a captaincy. McCarthy had demanded a hearing before the commission on specific charges.

Max Grass, chairman of the police and fire commission, suggested the city attorney's office draw up a model complaint blank for both departments, in which the chief must specify charges in cases of demotion. The board adopted the suggestion. The complaint blanks must be presented to the commission for action.

The commission appointed Dr. Stephen Cahana as chief of the medical staf of the fire department.

The appointments of ten new policemen and two new firemen were confirmed.

ROBBERS LOCK CLERKS IN ICEBOX.

Two gunmen entered a National Tea company store at 6824 Fullerton avenue last evening, locked the manager, William Michalek, 2424 Ballou street, and a clerk, Miss Bernice McGrath, 2935 Natchez avenue, in the refrigerator room and escaped with $41 and checks for $56.64.

FOOD MERCHANTS READY FOR BUSY YULETIDE TRADE

Prices Appear to Favor Holiday Shopper.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Neighborhood retail food merchants are ready to aid in stocking pantries for the holidays. Markets are generously supplied with fresh fruits, vegetables, meats and foods.

The spirit of Christmas has hit the food shopping centers and prices seem to favor the buyer. The willingness of merchants to do their share of price cutting on foods that go into holiday dinners has resulted in many changes on the price tags. The majority of the changes are downward.

There are more than a score of staples, fruits, vegetables and meats reduced in price this week compared with last in some stores. In a few cases items have been advanced by some stores and reduced by others.

Coffee Prices Reduced.

Canvassing the neighborhood grocery stores and butcher shops will pay housewives this week-end. For example, in many stores several grades of coffee have been reduced as much as 3 cents a pound. Eggs are 2 cents a dozen lower. Flour is down from 2 to 6 cents or more for a 24½ pound sack.

Both cooking and eating apples are slightly lower. Cabbage is down. Bacon and pike are off 4 cents a pound less. Lamp chops and pork sausage in bulk are 2 cents a pound lower.

Other foods that have been cut in price in many stores and shops include head lettuce, lemons, pot and rib roasts, and porterhouse, sirloin, and round steaks. In other shops prices have been raised slightly on steaks and roasts, pike, herring, and haddock.

Other Items Are Up.

Several stores have put up the price of grapes, white potatoes, pork spare ribs, and cheese. The price advances have been small on the individual items.

Special Christmas foods are being featured in stores generally. These include figs, dates, citrons, plum puddings, fruit cakes, popcorn, and nuts.

Retail prices may be expected to go lower on many items on the green grocer's counters. The prices of fruits and vegetables on the wholesale market have had a tendency to decline in many cases this week. Cabbage, cauliflower, celery, and onions are lower this week than last on the central market, according to federal market reporters. Only a few products are higher on the wholesale fruit and vegetable market.

New Potatoes Come In.

The first new potatoes of the season reached Chicago this week. They are coming from Florida, Texas, and Louisiana. These new potatoes are considered high in line with the upswing in potato prices generally.

There seems to be plenty of high grade meat ready for Christmas. Prize winning carcasses from the International Live Stock exposition will be on the retail butchers' blocks within the next few days.

Federal market men report good and choice steers are 25 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher in price than a week ago. The top for the week was $12.75 a hundred.

Dressed beef is reported to be about 50 cents a hundred pounds less than a week ago.

CHARLIE BROWN, LONDON'S NO. 1 CARVER, RETIRES

Tells Secrets Learned in 58 Years.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Charlie Brown, best known carver in the world, has retired on pension after fifty-eight years behind the joints at Simpson's-in-the-Strand, London.

Doyen of London's carvers, he wielded the knife on his first saddle of mutton at the famous Strand chop house on Aug. 28, 1878. Since then there has scarcely been a day on which he has not carved at least fifteen saddles of mutton or loins of beef, not to mention turkeys at Christmas time, and it is estimated that in his fifty-eight years he has carved more than 375,000 joints.

Tells of Famous Friends.

When he can be caught in a mood of reminiscences, Charlie Brown will tell stories by the hour of famous friends. He will talk casually of Sir Henry Irving, Jem Mace, and Bill Terriss—the last named on the night before his murder ate from a joint carved by Charles—and of London in the leisurely days of the hansom cab and the "growler"; days when Queen Victoria was celebrating her diamond jubilee, and when "the war" meant the Boer war.

"The carver should decorate the plate—just as an artist plans his picture—by putting the best slice in the middle and the smaller pieces around it.

"People are inclined to eat less at lunch time than they did half a century ago, but they do not eat so quickly.

"People linger over their meals more than they used to.

"Roast beef and mutton of Old England are more popular today than ever they were.

"London life has speeded up, and people are recognizing more and more the value of a fortifying meal."

Serves King and Queen.

Highlight of Brown's career was when he carved for King George and Queen Mary at Hoghton Tower in Preston, Lancs, in July, 1913. James de Hoghton was entertaining their majesties during their tour of the north of England, and Brown, lent by Simpson's for the occasion, carved a sirloin of beef for them. The luncheon was served at the historic table at which James I. knighted a loin of beef, creating it "Sir Loin."

During his fifty-eight years Charlie Brown collected an armory of carving knives. Until his retirement he still occasionally used one which had been in use near all that time. It is no thicker than a penknife blade.

Many an American visitor has tried to lure Charlie to the United States. Ten years ago he had a handsome offer to go to Philadelphia and perform twenty minutes' work with his blades at a civic banquet, but he declined the offer.

In recent years Brown has appeared in several films and has also spoken over the radio. His immediate junior and successor as head carver is Arthur Carter, who has served for fifty-two years at Simpson's. Until two years ago, Carter, Brown, and Walter Bruce, who retired in 1934, formed a triumvirate of the carving knife, who between them totaled 159 years of service—a record which no other tavern or chop house in the world could equal.

SUPT. JOHNSON TELLS WHY HE BARRED CONTEST

Superintendent of Schools William H. Johnson said yesterday the practice of conducting essay contests in public schools is not barred if the competition is conducted without interference to school time. His statement was made in response to a report that a contest sponsored by the Chicago city manager committee was prohibited in classes.

A notice was sent to principals recently notifying them the contest was not endorsed by the central office "and that school time is not to be given to it," Dr. Johnson said. "The teachers have enough to do discharging regular duties," he said. "Studies of the city manager plan, which include arguments for and against the system, are to be continued in the civics classes," he explained.

HOW TO GLAZE AND DECORATE A FRUIT CAKE

Fruit cakes are glazed and decorated like this:

About a week before you're ready to cut and serve the cake slip it out of its storage. Then you prepare a glaze as follows:

FRUIT CAKE GLAZE.

1 cup combined apricot juice and sieved pulp
1⅓ cups sugar

Boil to 240 degrees F. or until sticky but not too thick. If you haven't a candy thermometer, try this sirup and if it sticks a little, it it boiled enough. Brush sirup over cake with a brush while still hot. While this is still sticky you can decorate the cake as simply or impressively as you like with nut meats, poinsettias made from strips of candied fruit, wedges of glaze pineapple, etc. As soon as the first coat of glaze is fairly dry under the fruit add a second coat, still hot. After glaze is dry the cake is lightly wrapped, because it gets sticky away from the air.

Flavor . . . that makes strong men wistful!

● Set a bottle of Heinz Tomato Ketchup before a man and watch him grow pensive. For here is flavor—the haunting, tantalizing flavor of pedigreed tomatoes, plucked fresh from the vine; of sugar and spices; of aged-in-the-wood Heinz vinegar—all blended into a thick, rich, slow-pouring sauce of indescribable goodness! Just a fraction of a cent's worth flavors a whole dish! Order a few bottles right now!

Heinz TOMATO KETCHUP

You pay so little for so much more flavor...

● It's real wisdom to use Heinz Vinegars exclusively. You get mellow, vintage flavor that only aging in the wood imparts! Test any of the 4 kinds of Heinz Pure Vinegars as you would a fine wine. Breathe the delicate, aromatic bouquet. You'll never be satisfied with anything less than Heinz again!

BY MARY MEADE.

One week from now and fat Santa Claus will clamber back into his sleigh, and with a cheery "On Comet, on Cupid!" he'll be off to the northlands again.

Between now and then many a woman is going to take time out from routine tasks and from answering the perplexing Christmastime questions of her offspring ["Doesn't Santa ever get stuck in chimneys, mama?"] to bake an assortment of holiday cookies, some of them to be tucked into the toes of big and little stockings which will hang by the fireplace, others to go neatly into boxes for some family whose Christmas won't be very gay.

Any or several of the kinds of cookies mentioned here will be welcome almost anywhere on Christmas or during the holiday season.

German Christmas Cookies.

1 cup corn sirup
1 cup dark molasses
½ cup butter or other fat
⅔ cup brown sugar
Juice and rind of ½ lemon
5 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon soda
⅓ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup ground almonds.

Heat the sirup and molasses, add the butter and sugar, and then add the lemon juice and rind. Add gradually the dry ingredients, which have been sifted together, and the ground almonds. Blend well and chill the dough. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased baking sheet, and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees] for 10 minutes.

Honey Nut Brownies.

2 eggs
½ cup honey
2 ounces chocolate
¼ cup butter
½ cup sugar
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
1 cup chopped nuts

Add beaten eggs, honey, and sugar to the butter and chocolate, which have been melted together. Sift the flour with the baking powder and add with the nuts. Bake in a well greased pan lined with wax paper, for 45 minutes in a slow oven [300 degrees.]

Dutch Cream Cookies.

½ cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
¼ cup sour cream
¼ teaspoon soda
3 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon lemon extract

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg and beat well. Dissolve soda in cream and add to mixture. Add flour a little at a time. Pat into a roll and chill until firm [overnight]. When firm, slice thinly. Bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees] for 10 minutes.

Peanut Cookies.

¼ cup butter
¾ cup sugar
2 unbeaten eggs
¾ cup all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup peanuts

Cream the butter and sugar, beat in the eggs, and beat the mixture thoroughly. Sift the dry ingredients and add them alternately with the milk. Fold in the chopped peanuts and drop by spoonsful on a greased baking sheet, leaving several inches between the cookies. Bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees] until browned on the edges.

"Famous Yuletide Cakes and Cookies," a booklet containing recipes for fruit cakes and foreign Christmas cookies, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

CHRISTMAS TURKISH DELIGHT.

4 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1½ cups boiling water
4 cups granulated sugar
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Red coloring
Green coloring
Mint extract

Soak the gelatin in the cold water 5 minutes, then dissolve in the boiling water. Stir in the granulated sugar and salt until dissolved and boil slowly 15 minutes, removing the scum as it forms. Divide mixture in half. To one-half add lemon juice and red coloring, to the other half add mint extract [few drops] and green coloring to give the desired shade. Pour to 1 inch depth into shallow pans, which have been rinsed in cold water. Let stand until firm, unmold onto breadboard which has been dredged with confectioner's sugar. Cut in squares, and roll in sugar. One cup chopped nuts add variety to the gelatin mixture. Or one cup finely chopped fruit may be added.

UNCOOKED FRUIT AND NUT CANDY.

1 lb. figs
1 lb. walnuts
1 tablespoon orange juice
4 tablespoons honey

Wash fruit well. Put fruit and nuts through meat chopper, using fine knife. Mix together well. Add the fruit juice and honey. Chill for 24 hours. Then shape and roll in chopped nuts, coconut or chocolate. Slice for serving. Confection may be rolled flat and put under a weight and then cut in fancy shapes.

GLAZED SWEET POTATOES.

6 sweet potatoes, boiled
2-3 cup brown sugar
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons butter

Boil sweet potatoes in jackets until nearly tender. Make sirup of brown sugar, water, and butter. Peel skins from the potatoes, cut in half, lengthwise, and cook slowly in the sirup. Keep basting the potatoes until they have a rich glaze.

SWEET POTATOES WITH PINEAPPLE.

6 large sweet potatoes
½ cup shredded pineapple
Pineapple juice
3 tablespoons butter
Marshmallows

Boil the sweet potatoes until tender, peel and mash. Add the butter, salt, and pepper to taste. Add pineapple and enough juice to moisten well [½ cup to 1 cup]. Place mixture in greased baking dish, cover with marshmallows and bake in a fairly hot oven until marshmallows are puffy and brown.

These hot puddings sauces adapt themselves well to festive hot puddings:

PARTY PECAN ROLLS.

1 yeast cake
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 cup scalded milk, cooled
3 cups sifted bread flour
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup melted butter
2 egg yolks
½ teaspoon salt
Butter, brown sugar, pecans

Crumble the yeast cake in the lukewarm water, add the cooled milk and 1½ cups flour. Set in a warm place and, when light, add the sugar, melted butter, slightly beaten egg yolks, and salt, and remaining flour. Knead until smooth and elastic, then cover closely and let rise. When doubled in bulk, turn on board and roll into a rectangle about 10 by 20 inches. Spread with softened butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and pecans, chopped, and roll as a jelly roll. Cut into pieces an inch thick. Place each cut side down, in muffin pans, which have been buttered generously, sprinkled with two teaspoons brown sugar and four pecan halves. Let rise until again double in bulk, then bake at 375 degrees Fahrenheit 15 to 20 minutes.

HOT PUDDING SAUCE.

1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1¼ cups boiling water
1½ tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix dry ingredients thoroughly. Add boiling water gradually and boil 10 minutes, stirring constantly. The sauce should be clear. Add butter and flavoring. Serve hot.

HOT LEMON OR ORANGE SAUCE.

Substitute 3 tablespoons lemon juice or 4 tablespoons orange juice for vanilla of above. Also add grated rind of 1 lemon or 1 small orange.

EDEN PUDDING.

[Serves 6.]

1 cup heavy cream
½ pound marshmallows, cut finely
1 package dates, cut fine
3 bananas, diced
¼ pound walnuts, chopped
8 rolled and sifted Graham crackers

Whip the cream. Fold in other ingredients except cracker crums. Shape the mixture into a roll three inches thick. Roll in the cracker crums which have been spread upon waxed paper. Chill for three or four hours. Slice in pieces about one inch thick. Serve in sherbet glasses, topped with whipped cream and maraschino cherries.

ORANGE RAISIN MUFFINS.

2 cups all purpose flour
¾ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup sugar
½ cup raisins, seedless
1 egg
1-3 cup orange juice, strained
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
2-3 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1-3 cup butter, melted

Sift flour, then measure. Sift three times with other dry ingredients. Add raisins. Beat egg well, add orange juice, orange rind and sour milk. Add the melted butter. Add liquid ingredients to the dry ingredients and stir just enough to blend. Fill tins 2-3 full. Bake in 425 degree Fahrenheit oven for about 25 minutes.

Smoothness is insured in the ice cream when sweetened condensed milk is used. Here are standard vanilla ice cream recipes for use in hand turned freezer and automatic refrigerator. Note that ice cream made in the refrigerator uses whipping cream, while the freezer ice cream is made with coffee cream.

VANILLA ICE CREAM.

[Refrigerator Frozen.]

2-3 cup sweetened condensed milk
½ cup water
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 cup whipping cream

Blend sweetened condensed milk, water, and vanilla thoroughly. Chill. Whip cream to a foamy, fluffy thickness [not stiff] and fold into the chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. When mixture is about half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth but not melted. Replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

VANILLA ICE CREAM.

[Hand Turned Freezer.]

1 can sweetened condensed milk
2 cups coffee cream
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon vanilla

Thoroughly blend the condensed milk, cream, cold water and vanilla. Freeze using 8 parts ice to one of salt. Remove dasher when frozen, and pack in ice and salt for one hour or more after freezing to "ripen."

DOES SHE COOK OR BAKE? THEN HERE IS THE PRESENT FOR HER

Gentlemen, attention! Here's an excellent idea for a gift for mother, sister, wife, or even sweetheart! A set of cooking thermometers!

These are nothing new, but they're luxuries which comparatively few women possess and for which every woman yearns. One thermometer is for making candy and cake frostings; another is for roasting meats; still another is for use in deep fat frying.

You'll make a hit with this gift selection, which eliminates the guesswork from cooking.

BUNDESEN WARNS OF INCREASE IN INFLUENZA CASES

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the city board of health, warned yesterday of the spread of influenza and issued instructions on how to treat it. During the first fourteen days of December, he said, eleven cases of flu were reported, with no deaths, but during the last seven days 40 cases and three deaths were reported.

"Since the upper respiratory infections may develop into pneumonia, if neglected," he said, "it is advised and urged that the person who develops one of these head and chest colds, with temperature and general aching of the back and leg muscles should go to bed immediately."

Dr. Bundesen urged that the victim of a heavy cold call in the family physician at once, remain in bed, take plenty of liquids, including fruit juices, and stay in bed until his temperature has been normal for at least two days.

DIRECTIONS FOR STEAMING YULE PLUM PUDDINGS

Every year there are questions of doubt as to just how to steam the Christmas plum pudding. This is the procedure:

Grease molds, and turn in the pudding mixture. Have molds not more than two-thirds full. Use covers or double thickness of wax paper which is fastened over the top with rubber bands or heavy string.

Use a regular steamer equipped with a trivet. Place the molds on the trivet in the kettle containing boiling water. Let the water come halfway up around the molds. The water must be kept at the boiling point and more boiling water should be added as evaporation takes place.

Puddings are usually steamed about 5 or 6 hours, depending on the size of the mold. Sometimes they are steamed for several hours, and then baked in a slow oven [275 degrees F.] to dry out slightly. Puddings may be stored to await use.

3 SUGGESTIONS FOR ROASTING XMAS TURKEY

Notes on roasting the Christmas turkey:

1. One of the most satisfactory ways of roasting is to cover the bird with a single thickness of cheesecloth which has been saturated in melted shortening. Do not use butter for this as it burns easily and the salt tends to blister the skin. Use a vegetable shortening or lard. This covering protects the turkey from the drying heat of the oven, and keeps the skin oiled. A roaster cover is not needed when this method is used.

2. Lightly salt inside before stuffing.

3. Roast at 350 degrees F. [no higher] for approximately 20 minutes per pound.

Home Cooked Delicacies Rank High as Yule Gifts

Housewives who delight in preparing holiday delicacies should not overlook the possibilities of giving them as Christmas gifts. When wrapped in attractive packages, such homemade foods as jellies, preserves, fruit cakes, plum puddings, cookies, brandied pears, and glazed fruit and nuts make splendid Christmas remembrances.

BLACK MESSIAH FACES CONTEMPT OVER HIS HOARD

Affidavits Roll In Fast on Heels of Dollars.

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—"I paid all this money," said an affidavit filed in Supreme court today, "in the belief that unless I did so I was doomed to everlasting misery, and that by giving this money to Father Divine I was depositing it in his heavenly treasury and was in that way assured of eternal life and peace."

The affidavit was made by a middle aged colored woman, Mrs. Verinda Brown, who said that her "spiritual name" as a follower of Father Divine, Harlem "Messiah," had been Rebecca Grace. She said that his hold upon her and her husband had become so great that they had given him their jewelry and most of their furniture. Finally, she said, they gave him at one time all their remaining possessions, amounting to $5,317. Of this, she said, she handed $4,016 directly to Father Divine.

Basis of Contempt Citation.

The affidavit was used by William W. Lesselbaum, an attorney, in obtaining an order from Justice Samuel I. Rosenman. The order directs Father Divine, who is known as god to his followers, to show cause Monday why he should not be punished for contempt for contending that he does not know where the money for his peace mission comes from or whether it has any.

The order also requires the Evangelist to show cause why he should not be required to pay $50 a week on a judgment obtained against him by Mrs. Nina I. Bayless of Aberdeen, Md. She was injured two years ago when her automobile was hit by a bus carrying a load of Father Divine's angels. In court proceedings Father Divine has been trying to avoid paying the judgment by contending that he handles none of the money of his peace mission.

Explains Their Submission.

"If these facts seem improbable in this enlightened age," Mrs. Brown's affidavit continues, "I can only explain my submission to Father Divine's influence by indicating that I am a colored woman of middle age with unlimited faith in divine providence and a quickness and readiness through highly impressionable and emotional mentality to believe in human perfection and the brotherhood of man. My husband has always sought relief from an inferiority complex resulting from the color of his skin in the consoling thoughts of a blessed hereafter."

The affidavit frequently shows traces of a lawyer's influence in drawing it, as in the above paragraph, but the facts are simple. The Browns first visited Father Divine's old headquarters at Sayville, L. I., and were astounded by the sumptuous meal served there.

In the court proceedings over the judgment Father Divine contended that he knew nothing about the payments or receipts in connection with his automobiles, his promised lands near Kingston, his headquarters heaven, and his extension heavens and stores.

But Arthur Hasbrouck, a Kingston real estate man, said in one affidavit that Father Divine had paid him personally $8,000 in cash for one of the promised lands.

CUBAN PRESIDENT FACES OUSTER IN SUGAR TAX ROW

Batista's Aids Move to Impeach Gomez.

BY GUSTAVO RENO.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Dec. 17.—A committee of senators and representatives today discussed for three hours behind closed doors the possibility that the senate might soon impeach President Miguel Mariano Gomez.

Earlier 127 members of the house of representatives and supporters of Col. Fulgencio Batista, army chief of staf, had adopted a resolution to the effect that should Gomez carry out his threat to veto the bill establishing a 9 cent tax on each bag of sugar produced on the island for the support of civil military schools, tuberculosis sanitariums, and other army sponsored educational and sanitary projects the house would demand the president's impeachment by the senate. The resolution further said the house would demand Gomez be tried on charges so grave that his ouster would be mandatory.

In an address to the nation, Col. Batista assailed Gomez's announced intention to veto the $1,500,000 sugar tax bill which already has been approved.

"No one person or persons, no matter how powerful, shall prevent the army from fulfiilling its duty and carrying out its promises to Cubans," he said. "I shall act energetically.

"Why should not the army accomplish rapidly and efficiently what Cuba most needs and clamors for—health and education work? The civilan administration has demonstrated it is unable to accomplish this. Instead the administration has shown inefficeny, inertia, and lack of individual and collective courage and social discipline. The army's program shall be accomplished and the army will carry it out despite whatever obstacle is thrown in its path."

KIDNAPER SEIZED IN G-MAN RAID GETS LIFE TERM

And a Sixth Deputy Gets His Ears Burned.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—In a hearing today lasting only ten minutes, Harry Brunette, ex-convict and bank robber captured in a furious gun battle in New York Tuesday, pleaded guilty to participation in the kidnaping of State Trooper William A. Turnbull and was sentenced to life imprisonment in a federal penitentiary.

Brunette appeared composed as he stood, flanked by four deputy marshals, before Federal Judge Phillip Forman. The judge asked him if he understood a plea of guilty might mean life imprisonment. The felon replied in the affirmative. Sentence was then immediately imposed.

Indicted Two Hours Before.

Two hours before his arraignment Brunette, his wife, and the fugitive Merle Vanderbush were indicted in a fast moving special session of a federal grand jury at Newark for the abduction of the trooper near Somerville on Nov. 11.

It was the second time in as many days the trio had been indicted for the kidnaping. The Somerset county grand jury named all three on kidnaping and concealed weapons charges and the men on a robbery count.

The federal indictment, returned under the Lindbergh law, recited that Turnbull had been carried across a state line and dumped near Freemansburg, Pa., after being robbed. It said the kidnaping was for the purpose of preventing arrest.

Battle on Over G-men.

Meanwhile, in New York the controversy between police and federal agents over credit and tactics of the Burnette raid continued without much direction except that it established the identity of the police official who fired his revolver in the battle.

It was learned that when Rhea Whitley, rising to the defense of his chief, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, said that a "high police official" was the only person to fire from the street, he referred to youthful Byrned MacDonald, sixth deputy police commissioner.

When the rumor spread through the police department shortly after the raid that young MacDonald, in a spirit of derring do, had emptied his revolver into the window of the apartment in which Brunette was trapped, Police Commissioner Valentine, already plenty sore over the whole business, hit the ceiling in earnest.

Called on the Carpet.

He was so incensed that he called Sixth Deputy Commissioner MacDonald down to police headquarters forthwith. MacDonald was "on the carpet" for some time.

Just what Commissioner Valentine said to his young deputy is a matter of conjecture, of course, but at any rate, MacDonald appeared considerably chastened after his conference with the commissioner.

STORY OF KIDNAPING IS TOLD TO U. S. JURY BY JUNE ROBLES, 9

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Nine year old June Robles, who was held captive by kidnapers for 19 days in the spring of 1934, told a federal grand jury here today of her experience.

She entered the chambers alone. Federal agents said it was the first time she ever had been permitted to tell her story without prompting of relatives.

Little June spent about forty minutes with the jury. Several times during that interval John Dougherty, assistant United States district attorney, came out to obtain pictures and other exhibits.

Most of the pictures were those of the sheetiron box in which June was chained when found May 14, half buried in the desert nine miles from Tucson.

OTARD

Ogden Nash

O IS FOR OTTO

Everybody laughed at Otto,
Always absolutely blotto.
Buying nameless drinks in haste,
He gulped them down to kill the taste.
He thus missed half the fun in life,
And what is more, annoyed his wife.
"I do not love you when you're blotto,"
Said his wife, "Try Otard, Otto."
Otto did, and thanks to her
He's now a temperate connoisseur.

Guy Murchie's Ink Drawings Receive Praise

Scenes of Foreign Lands Are Fascinating.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There are few things as exciting as discovering new talent. Guy Murchie Jr. is a newcomer to the world of exhibits, for his first exhibition has just opened in the Quest galleries, 810 North Michigan avenue, but his work has all the aplomb of one who spends his life showing pictures in celebrated places.

His delicate pen and ink sketches reveal none of the weaknesses of the amateur; he is the master of his technique.

Probably in the twenty odd sketches which fill the gallery the most fascinating is the running column of scenes from various countries. Mr. Murchie, apparently, has been something of a traveler and he has kept records of his impressions of Mexico and the orient. The half a dozen countries in the column are dealt with with an understanding pen.

China receives special notice in various other pictures, probably because it lends itself readily to an artist. There are a million and one quaint details to Chinese living. The "Goose Market" and "Chinese Sampan" are full of character and humor and charm.

Mr. Murchie shows two water colors, which are beautifully composed and brilliant in color. As he does more with this medium undoubtedly a certain tension, obvious in these, will lessen. The chief delight in this exhibit, however, is the pen and ink work and for this we have nothing but the warmest praise.

In the Christmas exhibit at the Hoosier gallery, 211 West Wacker drive, one of the most appealing items is a pencial drawing of John T. McCutcheon's birthplace and early home in Indiana. It is by Frederick Polley. Mr. Polley has executed it with simplicity and beauty. The old farm house rambles in utter content in the lea of a grove of trees at the moment stripped of their leaves by the winds of winter.

The exhibitions will continue through December.

Teacher of Famed Twins to Wed by Marriage Contract

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Dr. Myrtle Bryan McGraw, research psychologist at the Babies' hospital who has supervised the experiments with Jimmie and Johnny Woods, the neurological institute's experimental twins, and Rudolph F. Mallina, a research engineer, formerly of Vienna, will sign a marriage contract Saturday afternoon at the home of Dr. John Dewey, Columbia university professor, she announced today.

There will be no religious ceremony and only a short talk by Dr. Dewey will colemnize the contract the bride-to-be said.

As the research psychologist and assistant director of the normal child development clinic of the neurological institute who conducted the experiment on the twins, Dr. McGraw has on several occasions described the results of her experiments. Johnny was subjected to a strenuous routine of scientific exercises under medical supervision and Jimmie was left strictly to his own devices.

Dr. McGraw said she doubted whether Johnny was superior to Jimmie, but that the value of "stimulation, per se, remained unimpaired." In other words, she believed in an intensive child training program.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Pursuing its policy of putting pep into educational broadcasts, the University Broadcasting council has figured out a new slant on the man-in-the-street interview business. Under the title, "What Do You Think?" UBC is launching a unique experimental interview program at 9:30 p. m. next Monday over WIND and also the coast to coast CBS network.

The man with the microphone will set up on a loop corner and interrogate pedestrians on "vital" subjects. So far, it's the same old stuff. But here's the new wrinkle: Immediately after quizzing downtown passersby a switch is to be made to Northwestern university and students and faculty members will voice their opinions on the same questions.

Topic for discussion Monday will be "Must Machines Pay for Unemployment?" What will Mr. Zilch, just getting started on his Christmas shopping, have to say to that when a microphone is stuck under his nose? At Rogers house, psychology students are spending the week-end figuring out their brightest retorts. A secondary line of defense will be offered by Prof. John Eberhardt [psychology]; Prof. Ernest H. Hahne [economics], and Prof. Alpheus Smith [English]. What chance will the man-in-the-manhole, suddenly confronted with a microphone, have against such a united [and prepared] front of savants?

Mary Pickford's favorite radio program will reach the NBC airlanes on New Year's day. Buddy Rogers' band will be featured with Helen Broderick and Victor Moore as other headliners. It will be a regular 8:30 Friday night feature thereafter.

A. L. Alexander, who has charge of the Good Will Court, yesterday declared that the program will comply with the ruling of the Appellate division of the New York Supreme court which barred New York attorneys and judges from participating henceforth in the feature. Plans are not settled yet, but for the next show on Sunday several judges from New Jersey are likely to be called in.

Title rights to three radio features have been acquired by motion picture concerns recently. Town Hall Tonight has been bought by 20th Century-Fox and it plans to make a picture under this name shortly, featuring Fred Allen. Universal has just purchased Mutual's Melody Treasure Hunt, and Paramount recently bought One Man's Family, popular serial.

Horace Heidt's Brigadiers have been reëngaged by their Chicago sponsor for another full year of Monday evening programs on CBS. Heidt's crew recently opened an engagement at over W-G-N-Mutual.

Presbytery in Iowa Asks Court Action to Hold Church Property

Davenport, Ia., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—The controversy over withdrawal of Princeton Presbyterian church from jurisdiction of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America entered Scott County District court today.

Trustees of the presbytery of Iowa City, acting for the members of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America filed a petition to establish their title to the church property in Princeton, to obtain a writ of possession and to enjoin others from interfering.

Among defendants were six trustees of the property of the Princeton Presbyterian church and the Rev. Verne Wortman.

Soloist Is Ill; Stock Changes Program Plan

Concert Includes Salute to Christmas.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Frederick Stock had originally built last night's Chicago Symphony orchestra program around the scheduled harp soloist, Joseph Vito. When it became certain that the illness of the latter would prevent him appearing, Mr. Stock made an extensive revision of his plans and presented two standard symphonies instead of a miscellany of smaller things.

The two symphonies were preceded by the Christmas Oratorio's Pastorale [Bach] and the "Dance of the Angels" from Wolf-Ferrari's "The New Life." These are to constitute the orchestra's only salute to Christmas, for this afternoon's concert will conclude its Chicago activities until Dec. 29.

The "Dance of the Angels" has been considerably extended this year by the simple expedient of drafting the prelude to the cantata's second part and using it as a trio in the new arrangement. This increases to two the number of opportunities to enjoy the ethereal dance itself.

The two symphonies were evidently scheduled quite late in the week and put on with a minimum of rehersal. Even so, the orchestra's admirable routining carried it safely through the Beethoven Eighth and the Tschaikowsky Fourth, although there were a few things that might be criticized in the performances of both works.

The former seemed to lack something of the exquisite lightness which relieves this jocund symphony from any hint of the earthbound. Its four short movements certainly present some dreadful difficulties—those long sequences in the first movement's miraculous development section, for instance, where the composer displays his theme gleefully first in one light, then in another, as if to convince the skeptical that its cheerful first glint was no accident but a quality inherent in the tune itself.

There were some minor difficulties of intonation in the Tschaikowsky, difficulties which roughened the texture of two or three passages of the final movement and brought back to technical things a mind that should have been exclusively concerned with the drama of this always astonishing music.

When the orchestra resumes its concerts on Dec. 29 Gregor Piatigorsky, the great Russian cellist, will be soloist. On New Year's eve and New Year's day John Weicher, young principal violin of the orchestra, is to play a Suk Fantasy.

The violin recital by Libero Filippo, scheduled for Orchestra hall tonight, has been canceled. There may be an announcement later setting another date.

Crosby Asks Court Ban on Station's Use of Records

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Accusing radio station KGFJ of broadcasting his records without authority and of conveying the impression that he was singing in person, Bing Crosby, movie crooner, today sought to enjoin Ben S. McGlashan, owner of the station, from further broadcasting of the songs. The actor sued under his legal name of Harry I. Crosby Jr.

Senator Neely's Son Licensed to Marry; Declares It's Joke

Reno, Nev., Dec. 17.—(AP)—John C. Neely, 22, son of Senator Matthew M. Neely of West Virginia, who was divorced by and then divorced Mary Kathryn Faust Neely of Fairmont, W. Va., last month, obtained a marriage license today, but said it was "just a joke."

Jocelyn Jo Morris, 22, pretty blonde Reno stenographer, named by Neely in the application, said, "I don't know what it's all about, but I certainly don't intend to marry any one."

Neely spent most of his required legal divorce residence in Reno as a dishwasher in a night club and later became a bartender.

Holiday Music for Children Is Easy to Obtain

Adviser Suggests Special Collections of Songs.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Do you wish you knew where to obtain Christmas music for the children? And have you perhaps in addition a vague feeling that you would like to plan a simple pageant for them, or costume the small singers and have them march with lanterns on Christmas eve or early Christmas morning? Or have you a young pianist for whom you would like to find a child's arrangement of accompaniments for carols?

It is not too late to make these wishes materialize, if you have definite titles in mind when purchasing music. Here are some books and booklets I know and have used:

There are many reasonable collections of carols in pamphlet form, obtainable in music stores and music departments this time of the year—12 cents or 15 cents a copy is the usual price.

Among these collections you will find the familiar and popular carols or groups of the less well known but quaint and charming ones, old French carols translated and the same with some additions, all in French. G. Schirmer and Oliver Ditson publish many popular collections of Christmas songs and carols.

A most reasonable little book is "Fifty Favorite Songs for Girls and Boys," easy to sing and easy to play, from original tunes compiled and arranged by Mary Nancy Graham and published by the Whitman Publishing company. A few Christmas carols are contained therein.

Of equal simplicity is "Ye Christmas Piano Book," Christmas carols made easy to play or sing, by Mary Bacon Mason. The price is 75 cents and Oliver Ditson is the publisher in Boston, Lyon & Healy in Chicago.

Quite different in every way is "The Saintons Go to Bethlehem," by Helen Hill and Violet Maxwell. It has a descriptive introduction of great interest and adaptations of picturesque provençal folk songs with accompaniments. Published by MacMillan company. $2.00.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Clinic Patients Want Toys.

A worker in a clinic of a south side hospital has been hearing a lot about Santa Claus from the children who are patients, and wonders if some reader can supply some of the youngsters' wishes.

Norine, 4, is one of 6 children and longing for a doll and some dishes. Brother Tommy, 2, would like building blocks or a ball. Dolores, 8, wants a doll and buggy. Little Sam, 6½, wants toy soldiers.

If you have any of these articles on hand, we'll be glad to furnish the addresses.

Asks Tree Trimmings.

Perhaps some reader who has surplus Christmas tree trimmings would give some of them to Mrs. L. for her little boy. The youngster is crippled and because his father is unemployed had no present or tree last year. This year they hope to manage a tree, and the boy would be delighted to have some of the famous old "Wizard of Oz" books which some other child has discarded.

Spanish Consul to Speak.

Luis Perez, acting Spanish consul in Chicago, will speak on "The Spanish Situation" before the Woman's Club of the Chicago Ethical society at 8 o'clock this evening in suite 1618, 203 North Wabash avenue.

Proper Attire Often Conceals Excess Weight

Heavy Woman Should Choose Clothes Wisely.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Here follow a few solid tips on resculpturing the overweight figure with dress aids.

The first and most vitally important rule is, "DON'T wear clothes that fit tight!" Dressmakers and saleswomen tell me that the hardest thing to make a large woman accept is a garment that fits "away from the figure," as the expression holds. They cling to the delusion that the tighter the sleeves fit the tighter the bustline, the tighter the hipline, the thinner they'll look, when the opposite is true. Every lump, bump, and additional pound is silhouetted more sharply with the tightly fitted garment.

By clothes that fit "away from the figure" is not meant loose and bulky things. This is just as much a mistake as wearing them too tight. There is a world of difference between ease in clothes and loose, bulky fitting.

A third suggestion is not to clutter up the neck with fussy accessories and trimmings. This is commonly done by the woman with weighty, bulky shoulders and bust, which simply adds heft to the scene. Too, it adds thickness to the neckline, which isn't wanted either.

The extra heavy woman has to be more or less of a magician to fool the eye, but a great help is to choose both dresses and coats in dark colors in their season, and by wearing white or soft gray at the other extreme of the color palette. And choose dresses all in one color. Never break the dress silhouette with a strong, contrasting color. A small bit of extra color at neckline and wrists is all right, but large splashes of white, a practice too common among the heavy women who obviously believe that white, no matter how large the splash, is good, should be avoided like the plague.

The sleeves of the dress become most important. If you're one who thinks the tight armhole your need and you're greatly overweight, you're wrong. That tight armhole plays the very mischief with the fat around that particular area. Let the plain, easy sleeve widen from the armhole to the wrist, the latter tight as you please.

This year the temptation to "belt" one's self handsomely is hard to resist, but it is wise to compromise, letting the buckle be the only decorative note. Ordinarily, however, you'll find the sash, belt, or girdle at the waistline, in the same color as the dress, to be the better choice.

Wear skirts long enough so that when you sit down they will fall gracefully. The short ones are apt to pull up, giving unnecessary bulk to the hips and abdomen.

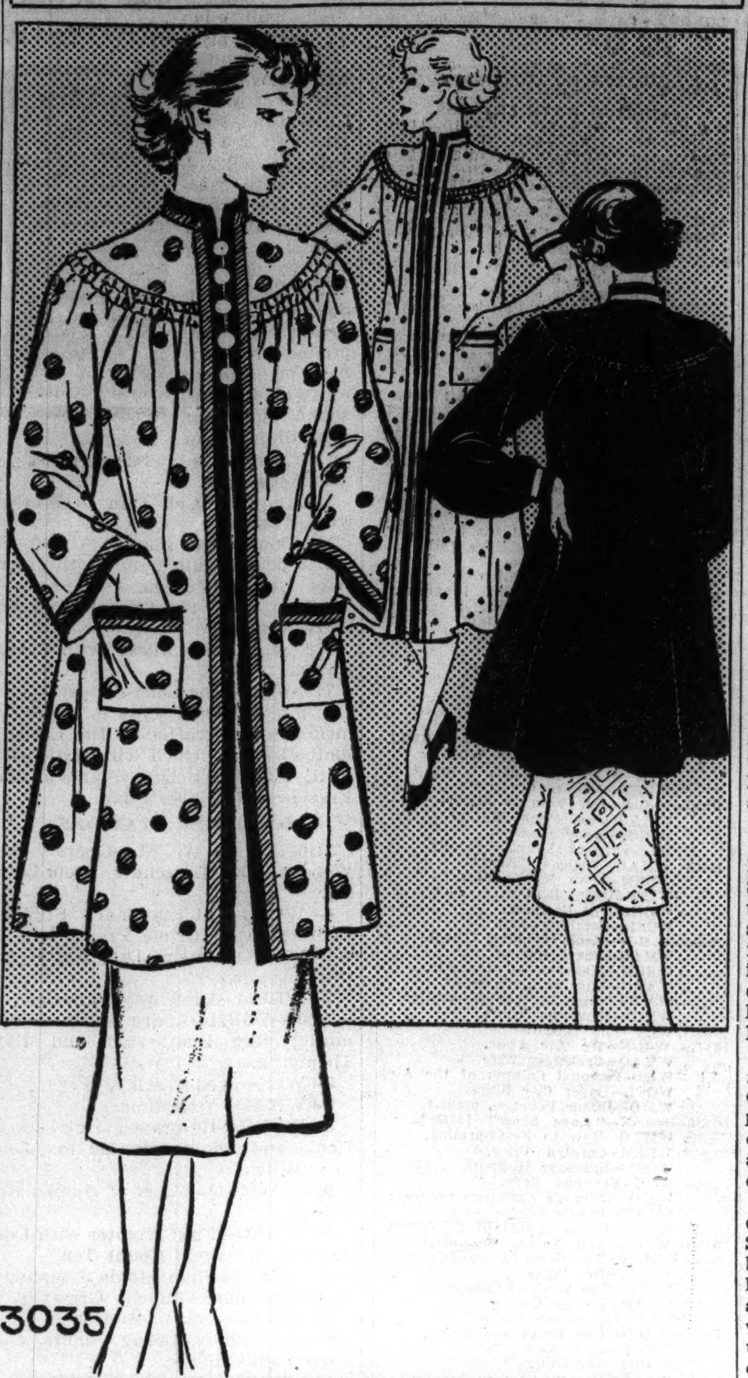
Appearing with the singers will be Marian Butler, pianist; Dorothy Cunningham, soprano; Charlotte Zimand, violinist; Leo Mahan, boy soprano, and Charles Weeks, piano accordionist.

Smock Is Practical Garment



MISS' SMOCK.

Artists have no monopoly on the smock fashion. Business girls, co-eds, and the woman in the home all find a great many uses for this delightful garment, and when it is colorful as well as comfortable, it is a boon to the busy person. The model illustrated today is designed on mandarin lines. It has a tiny stand-up collar, the binding of which is repeated down the front of the garment, on the roomy patch pockets and on the sleeves. The yoke is plain and the body of the garment is shirred softly into it.

There are three types of sleeves possible. They may be the bell type, long and full, they may be long and gathered into wrist bands, or they may be short and tailored.

Sturdy cottons, linens, and piqué are washable and, therefore, extremely practical for this smock. The more colorful the fabric, the better. If you wish you may make the garment of rayon or wool challis print and wear it as a negligee. Of course, the skirt should be longer for this version.

Style No. 3035 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years. Size 16 requires 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅜ yard of 39 inch light and ⅜ yards of 39 inch dark contrasting.

Orphans Share Yule Thoughts of 'Our Gang'

Child Actors Hope to Raise Fund of $100.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—At Hal Roach studio in Culver City we found the six contract artists of "Our Gang" and some twenty odd extras of ages ranging from 2 to 8 dividing their time among three pursuits.

First and foremost was the big Christmas activity led by Carl [Alfalfa] Switzer.

Second was the debate as to which one should pull a coaster while seven or eight other kids climbed aboard as passengers.

Third was the hubbub about the ice cream truck which the studio permits at the "Our Gang" sound stage. The excitement about the ice cream truck had as its loudest exponent 3-year-old "Porky" Lee, dressed in a tiny gray cadet suit with gold epaulets and soldier cap of the kind worn at West Point.

The "Gang" with the exception of Porky at the ice cream wagon and Spanky McFarland, 8, bossing the trips of the low wheeled coaster, seemed a good deal concerned about its special Christmas venture. This involves raising $100 for toys for children at the Los Angeles orphanage located two blocks away from RKO-Radio studio.

Alfalfa Switzer, 7, Paris, Ill., suggested the kids and their mothers ought to do something for the orphans after the "Gang's" school teacher, Mrs. Fern Carter, had told them about the poor children without parents and without toys.

"I've been saving up for poor children for a long time," the freckled Switzer said. "I want to save up and buy 100 goats," Carl said. "I already have 28." [He really had 28 goats on a farm near Hollywood.] "The goats will give a lot of milk and I'll give the milk to orphans and they will get enough to eat."

With the suggestion of the school teacher, Mrs. Carter, to help them, the "Gang" decided each would contribute the contents of his individual bank.

The three Abbe children, who wrote "Around the World in Eleven Years" and who are in Hollywood looking over the kids and adults of the screen colony, came out to visit "Our Gang" and contributed a triply autographed copy of their book to be auctioned off for the benefit of the fund. With this and other similar contributions to their fund the teacher said she did not believe that Alfalfa Switzer's goal of $100 for the orphans' Christmas was too high a goal to be attained.

The Switzer youngster has one of the most infectious smiles in Hollywood. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Switzer, brought him and their other two children to Hollywood from a farm near Paris, Ill., not quite two years ago, and Alfalfa proved just the kid that the Hal Roach comedy scouts had been hunting

When this observer went over to shake hands with Alfalfa the latter was carrying an unloaded air rifle. "You know where I can get some bee bees?" Alfalfa asked with disarming casualness of Miss Kolma Flake of the studio staf, who was making the introductions to the young people. "No, I don't know about buying bee bees, and if I did know I wouldn't dare tell you," Miss Flake told Alfalfa, looking hard at his air-rifle.

Darla Hood, the good looking curly headed brunette ingénue of the "Gang" troupe, came walking over in her pink satin slippers and trimly cut little tweed overcoat with fur collar. Miss Hood, who is 4, held a string from which a big red balloon bobbed about. Mrs. Carter and Miss Flake sent Miss Hood and her balloon indoors away from the sharpshooter with the empty air rifle. No use tempting fate. Alfalfa might find a nail or small pellet of some kind that would fit his muzzle.

The Roach studio has ordered a large Christmas tree to be erected and secretly trimmed inside one of its sound stages for the "Gang's" annual celebration next Tuesday afternoon. Jack Roach, brother of the studio owner, will play Santa Claus because L. A. French, the studio production manager, who played Santa for the child actors for most of the fifteen years of "Our Gang's" consecutive history, has retired from active film work.

The six children in "Our Gang" and their brothers and sisters will be the guests and the only others to "crash" the Christmas party will be their fathers or mothers. The six kids now composing "Our Gang" are Spanky McFarland, leader, 8; Darla Hood, ingénue, 4; Alfalfa Switzer, character man and leading man, 7; Porky Lee, plump comedian, 3; Buckwheat Thomas, Negro comedian, 4; Baby Patsy May, leading woman and audience sentiment stimulator, 2½.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

A WISCONSIN woman — her name is Mrs. Mansfield and she lives in Two Rivers—just to prove we don't make these stories up, overheard one child in a friend's home say to another, "Let's play house." Mrs. Mansfield, pleased that children still played such a nice old-fashioned game, heard next, "I'll be the mother. I'll call the grocery store and do the ordering." There was a second or two of silence, and then she heard, "Please send up a loaf of bread and four packages of cigarets."

THAT children's games follow the times has been brought to attention several times in this space with examples given. Probably it always has been so, and Milton Waldman in his "Biography of a Family," speaking of the children of Catherine de' Medici, playing under the supervision of tutors and governesses in the palace at Vincennes, says "Even the games they attempt are modeled on the more weighty amongst their elders' occupations—Frenchmen gravely fighting Spaniards varied by Catholics soberly burning Huguenots."

Edward the Second, a kingly botch;
Edward the Third was France's foe,
Edward the Fourth brought Warwick woe.
Edward the Fifth was slain by his uncle,
Edward the Sixth died of a carbuncle;
Edward the Seventh, a gay old blade,
Edward the Eighth a duke was made.

ALAN K. BARLOW reports the plump woman in luxurious furs who stepped from her car on Michigan avenue and dismissed her chauffeur, saying, "You may call for me in about an hour, Charles. In the meantime you may take Miss Penelope"—indicating a fat, moth-eaten fox terrier which lolled in the rear seat—"for a drive through Lincoln park. And don't drive too fast! You know it makes her dizzy."

Kirsten Thorborg Arrives for Debut at Metropolitan

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Kirsten Thorborg, the new Swedish contralto of the Metropolitan Opera association, arrived here today on the Swedish-American liner Kungsholm accompanied by her husband, Gustaf Bergamm, director of the Gothenburg opera. Mme. Thorborg will make her American debut in the season's first presentation, "Die Walküre." Tall, brown haired and in her early thirties, Mme. Thorborg said she was glad that her first voyage to the United States had ended. She said the inclement weather at sea, which [illegible] dish liner a day, had made her seasick.

Family Scenes Being Used on Yuletide Cards

Chicagoans Individualistic in Greetings.

BY JUDITH CASS.

EACH year wishes for Christmas joy and New Year cheer are delivered from one home to another, across the continent and across the oceans, and already the postman is bringing daily reminders that one's friends, near and far, are thinking of us at this time.

The greetings come on all sorts of cards, rich gold or silver lettered ones, handsomely engraved ones, and others less handsome perhaps, but carrying just as sincere good wishes and just as welcome, with the signatures of the senders printed or penned.

Harold F. McCormick's friends always are delighted to receive his cards at Christmas time, for this clever and genial gentleman designs his own, and is the author of the verse that bears his Christmas message each year.

Thomas Elliott Donnelley's personal greeting cards usually depict a scene on his Lake Forest estate and the cards are among the handsomest received each year.

Mr. Donnelley's son and his wife, the Elliott Donnelleys, are among the large group who take advantage of the turn of the year to write personal notes to their friends whom they do not see regularly. The Rev. and Mrs. John Timothy Stone send their Christmas greetings in this way, too.

Mrs. James Ward Thorne Sending Floral Card.

One might think that Mrs. James Ward Thorne would send a card that had to do with her hobby, miniature rooms, but she feels that her friends have heard enough about her hobby this year, so, being very fond of flowers, she is sending greetings in a large and colorful bouquet of flowers, printed on a large white card.

The miniature Georgian library recently completed by Mrs. Thorne for the Victoria and Albert museum in Kensington Gardens, London, is being moved from the Art institute to the Chicago Historical society so that more persons can see it before it is taken next spring to England. It will go on view at the Historical society tomorrow.

One might think also that Dr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Stock's Christmas cards would have a musical angle since he is conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, but instead it bears a picture of their charming home in Wisconsin, where they spend as much time as possible, summer and winter.

The junior Mrs. W. Clyde Jones always designs her cards and this year she has one that is particularly original and jolly. She has used a red plate and a green one and covered them with cellophane so that at first glance the cards seems to bear Christmas tidings and four candles of different sizes. When the cellophane is lifted, however, the candles are revealed as the figures of Mr. Jones, Mrs. Jones, Mary Helen Jones, and Emily Jones.

Mrs. Morris Johnston Selects Colored Etching

Mrs. Morris Leidy Johnston and Mrs. Walter R. Kirk are among the most enthusiastic Christmas card devotees in social circles, and every year they take joy in sending beautiful cards and in receiving them. Mrs. Kirk got hers off to Europe on the Queen Mary last week; hers are less formal and more personal this year because Mr. Kirk is in mourning. Mrs. Johnston's stunning card is a colored etching of a snow scene.

The Angus S. Hibbards for years have sent the same card, a silhouette of themselves, one knitting, the other reading, with a library lamp between them. Last year the Joseph T. Ryersons' cards were designed by their daughter, Anne, but this year they did not get started in time to have a plate made from one of artistic Anne's drawings.

Many of the younger people are not sending cards, which we hope is not an ill omen for the custom, for

Movie Theaters Will Hold Yule Parties on Tuesday Morning

Next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock the annual Christmas parties, sponsored each year by the combined organization of movie theaters, film exchanges, and film producers in Chicago, will take place at some 250 neighborhood theaters.

Admission will be by donation of non-perishable foodstuffs. These will later be basketed and distributed to the deserving needy in each theater's individual neighborhood. Charitable agencies will coöperate in seeing that every poor family in every neighborhood is taken care of.

A special program will be given at the theaters, including a feature picture and short subjects not included in the regular show.

Allendale Bradley Club Elects Officers Tonight

The election of officers of the Bradley club of Allendale will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight in Thayer's Thornbury hall, 32 South Clark street. More than 1,500 former students of the Allendale school in Lake Villa are members of the club. The school was founded forty years ago by Capt. E. L. Bradley. The present director is Raymond A. Thompson. Officers of the club are Robert A. Canon, president; Mark H. Hanna, vice president; Peter De Sario, secretary, and Matt P. Lowman, treasurer.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A rather small but extremely choosey group of women in this country know all about the true floral perfumes made by a southern woman and sold in a few shops here. Her honeysuckle, gardenia, lilac, and wild rose are like no others on the market, they're standouts for fidelity to the flower itself and for sheer, breathtaking beauty. They're neither terribly high priced nor elaborately packaged, but they're tops in their field, as perfume experts know.

Now, for the first time, this woman who, it is said, makes use of three thousand gardenias to create one ounce of the floral essence in her gardenia perfume, has brought out a blend. Just as we expected, it's divine.

It's the sort of perfume we love for several reasons. It's a scent for the well bred woman, the woman who loathes the very thought of a perfume that's obtrusive or knock-downish or the least bit flamboyant. But while it's eminently aristocratic it isn't the least bit dull or dowagerish.

It's a floral blend, as might be expected from this lady with a flair for capturing the fresh fragrance of actual blossoms, but it's just about impossible to identify. The woman who wears it will find it as baffling as it is beautiful.

This is rather a sweet perfume, but not sugary or piercingly so; there's a dustiness or murkiness of tone that doesn't mar its lilt, but does gives it a quality of haunting softness. We are, you can probably gather, just insane about it and we rather think a great many of you will be, too.

As a perfume gift, this is simply swell. The perfume will suit women of all ages, from school girls to great-grandmothers—and the woman who owns it will have the comforting knowledge that not many other women know about it. It's exclusive, that's what—and awfully, awfully beautiful.

The Sunshine Slipper Styles Win Acclaim

Designers Set a New High in Smartness.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Because the stuff that is packed in southbound baggage gives high fashion hints of what will play return engagements next summer up north; because footwear is tremendously important to any costume, and because the deliciously colored new collections are well worth all the excitement they're causing, we detour the Christmas buying long enough to describe a few of the newest ideas.

The sunshine fashions are compelling showings. They give you a mad desire to throw everything aside to buy a ticket for the south. Dresses, swim suits, beach outfits and the like are getting attention, but the most seductive lures are the new slippers.

Open at toe and heel, but much more intricately fashioned than last year's straps and interlacings, the new models show much imagination and ingenuity.

Fine soft doeskin is combined with linen and with very fine kidskin. Sometimes as many as a half dozen colors are combined, making gypsy footwear to follow any trail away from reality.

Few low heels are found in this year's crop. Green heels, red heels and bright blue heels are the contrast for the newest of tiny printed faille slippers. And these slippers have fetching handbags to match. These combines will stop trafic. They are cleverly made. And what the designers have done in mixing and contrasting colors is little short of magic.

Crocheted slippers for evening come in lovely combines. They are made of fine firm twine, in pleasing circle effects which make a covering design for the toe section and a slight band across the back of the heel. The heels are colored to contrast.

Doeskin is perforated in extra large holes for swank and comfort, a disc of these perforations covers the instep and is held to the sole with cords. Bright red with French blue, yellow with sky blue, the stunning new green with yellow; these and many more are the effective new foot trickery sponsored by the slipper makers for the coming seasons.

Fashion photograph . . . printed faille ensemble of new daytime pumps and matching handbag. Heels, bag strap and clasp are of brilliant green, the pumps are cut out in front and at the heels, with additional cut-outs over the instep. Available in a Chicago shop.

Philadelphia Acts for Restoration of Betsy Ross House

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Disregarding critics of the authenticity of the story of Betsy Ross and the first American flag, Mayor S. Davis Wilson today forwarded to the city council an ordinance to wipe out thirty years of delinquent taxes on the property at 239 Arch street, popularly known as the Betsy Ross house. The ordinance also would make the property tax-free in the future.

This was the first step toward the preservation of the Betsy Ross house and adjoining property as a national shrine. The city property and service committee of the council approved an offer of A. Atwanter Kent to spend at least $25,000 in restoring the dilapidated old house to its revolutionary appearance.

Some Philadelphia historians have declared that Betsy Ross never lived in the house and that there are no records to prove she made the first American flag. Educators and heads of patriotic orders have sprung to the defense of the legend, contending that its factual truth is not important anyhow.

Isabel Gordon Is Married to E. M. Sullivan

Ceremony Takes Place at Cathedral Chapel.

The chapel of the Holy Name cathedral was decorated with white roses for the ceremony there at 4 o'clock yesterday that united in marriage Miss Isabel Gordon and Edmond M. Sullivan. Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Gordon and Judge Denis E. Sullivan, parents of the bride and bridegroom, and the immediate members of their families were the only ones who heard the service, but a large reception followed at the Gordon apartment at 1430 Lake Shore drive.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress of ivory satin, made with a bodice and sleeves of rosepoint lace. More of the lace covered the square train. Her cap and veil were of lace and they were held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white gardenias.

Added to the sentiment of the occasion was the fact that Bishop William R. Griffin of La Crosse, Wis., who officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents, read the ceremony yesterday, assisted by Msgr. Morrison of the Holy Name parish and Father Dennison of St. Mary of the Lake parish.

White poinsettias were the dominating flower in the living room of the Gordons' home, where they received before the fireplace.

The bride's sisters, Miss Marion and Miss Evelyn Gordon, who were her only attendants, wore becoming gowns of pale apricot slipper satin, made princess style with puffed sleeves, high necks, and skirts that swept into fullness in back and fell into little trains.

The Man on the Blue

[Copyright: 1936: By Luke Short.] By Luke Short

SYNOPSIS.

Shamrock Ireland, wanted for shooting a town marshal in self-defense over a card game, reaches Arizona on his blue, and saves the life of Sherif Lobell, who is about to be shot by a girl, Nancy Hyatt. The Hyatts—Nancy and her brother, Mayo—have lost their ranch, the Double Diamond, to the bank. Mayo has threatened to kill any man who serves him with a dispossess. Because Shamrock believes it was Mayo who betrayed the man who brought him up, he accepts the dangerous task of serving the papers. He confronts Mayo at his ranch and learns he has misjudged him, but Nancy scorns him. She tried to shoot Lobell to save her brother, paroled on good behavior, from killing him. Shamrock bullies Lobell into appointing him deputy sherif. He suspects Lobell intends to kill him "by accident" and cleverly outwits him, causing Lobell to shoot one of his own men. Maginnis, a stable boy, is wanted, according to Lobell, across the border as a killer. Shamrock senses that Lobell, for some reason of his own, plans to have the lad shot while "attempting to escape" on the trip across the border. He steals the jail keys so that the boy cannot be taken out while he's away at the Hyatt ranch with Lobell. Lobell sends Shamrock in to face Hyatt. Shamrock convinces the Hyatts he is with them, and persuades Mayo to leave the ranch till they can investigate. He tells Lobell that Hyatt has left and the ranch will be given up peacefully as soon as the hands are paid. Shamrock overtakes the posse riding out with Maginnis and rescues him. The lad tells Shamrock that Lobell had conspired to have his father lynched because of a gold chain he'd found that Lobell was after. Shamrock sends the lad to Hyatt's hiding place, then goes to call on the banker for further information.

INSTALMENT XXIX.

TORTURED AND KILLED.

The clerk was not at the desk. Shamrock heard a pounding out in the back room and walked through the musty lobby to the dining room, the back of which looked out on the alley. The old clerk was kneeling on the floor by a window.

When he looked up at Shamrock's approach, his face was fretted. He was in the act of replacing a broken pane in the window by the uncertain light of a lamp on a nearby table.

"Look at that!" he said sourly, pointing to the paneless window. "Every time one of them bat-eared cowpokes buys a rope from Sanders, he stretches it for 'em on that big post he has for shed support out in back. When they get through, what do you reckon they do?"

"What?"

"They ride back out the alley past the hotel here, and they're usually tryin' the rope to see if it's limber. They flick it at one of these windows here, and by hell, they break one every time. They know danged well it takes a year to git glass up here and half the time it's busted when it gits here, but do they think of that? Hell, no. They hightail it out the alley before I can see who they are, the ornery ranahans."

"Where's Gillespie's room?" Shamrock asked.

"Mr. Gillespie?" the clerk said, immediately respectful, and Shamrock nodded. "Third floor. The stairs is at the last door to your left on the second floor corridor. It ain't really the third floor," he explained, "his room's the only one there. You won't have no trouble findin' it. You j—"

Shamrock cut him short. "Is he in?"

"I reckon. He ain't been down to supper yet, though. You just go——"

But Shamrock fled before the old man's garrulity. On the second floor he found the door opening onto a steep stair. Gillespie's room must be right under the rafters, he reflected, as he struck a match and stumbled up the steps. He had no idea what he was going to say to Gillespie, except to ask him questions about the Double Diamond until Gillespie lost his temper and ordered him out.

The door was immediately to the left at the top of the stairs. Shamrock knocked. There was no answer. He knocked again, long and loud, but still he got no answer.

Maybe Gillespie was asleep. Shamrock tried the knob and found the door unlocked, so he opened it and stepped into the room. It was dark, but there was the warm smell of a lamp recently blown out that, and another smell, less pleasant. A window, low to the right, was cut in the roof slope.

Shamrock struck a match and looked around.

He sucked in his breath sharply and dropped the match.

"God!" he said softly, sharply, fumbling for another match.

When he had struck it he walked slowly over to the lone armchair by the bed.

A man was tied in it, gagged. There was a neat bullet hole in his forehead that had not trickled much blood. On the pinched, rather narrow face there was a look of arrested horror that made Shamrock's hackles rise. The man wore a rusty suit of black, a soft shirt, and a string tie.

His boots and socks had been pulled off, and his feet tied together. With a rising gorge, Shamrock saw that his feet had been horribly burned, and the faint odor of seared flesh still hung about him.

"Tortured and killed," Shamrock muttered, as the match died.

He was about to strike another when he heard a step on the stair.

Shamrock held his breath. Then the woman began the ascent. Doubtless it was one of the hotel help calling Gillespie to supper. Shamrock knew he could prove an alibi since he had talked to the clerk not two minutes before, yet he did not want the sherif to know he had come to talk with Gillespie.

He eased the door shut, and made for the window. It was already open. He crawled out onto the sloping roof, and could see the dark blot of the next building's roof below. It wouldn't be much of a drop.

Even as he hit the ground he dimly heard a woman's scream. He swung in the back door of the hotel, which opened onto a corridor running straight through.

There was no one in the lobby, and he sat down in a chair.

He was sitting there when the woman screamed again from the top of the main stairs.

"Mr. Gillespie! He's been killed! Murdered!"

Shamrock took the stairs two at a time, and got her story.

"I'll get the sherif," he said.

At the dining room door he called the clerk and told him the news.

Then he stepped out onto the sidewalk and turned to the sherif's office. Whoever had done the killing had escaped the same way he did, Shamrock knew. It was done after dark. Gillespie had been tortured. For what?

Lobell was visiting with a stranger when Shamrock entered.

"Gillespie has been murdered," Shamrock announced. In his explanation on the way back to the hotel he was careful to tell the sherif how he happened to be the bearer of the tidings.

The room was a mean place, Shamrock saw now, with a cot for a bed, a deal table, two chairs, a wardrobe and a lamp, with the roof slope for a ceiling. In the far corner was a small heating stove.

The sherif surveyed Gillespie in silence.

"Tortured, huh?" he said to Shamrock.

Lobell looked around the room and walked over to the stove and laid his hand on it. He jerked it away quickly. Seeing a poker lying at the edge of the woodbox, he picked it up, looked at it, then smelled it. He put it down in disgust.

"That's what they used, by God."

Going over to Gillespie, he shook his head slowly.

"Goddlemighty. Gag a man before they torture him so he can't cry out." He looked up at Shamrock. "Why? What'd they want?"

"He's a banker," Shamrock said.

Still the sherif looked at him, as if trying to puzzle out the meaning of the statement. Then his face lit up. "O! Money?"

Modern Girls Often Confess Being Jilted

BY DORIS BLAKE.

She's 19, an age at which a girl thinks that what people will say is the most important thing in the world. It seems she was being beaued around for a year by a young man who appeared to be deeply attached to her. At the time his job didn't amount to much and their entertainment events were simple. They walked. They sat in the park listening to the band in the warm weather. They stayed home playing bridge with her family.

Then, a new job with much more pay and a chance of advancement seemed to change the man. He stopped phoning, stopped coming to visit. No more walks, no more talks, no more steady beau for the girl, in fact. And everybody had their names linked together. So that now when Sundays roll around and there is no escort for Mae, we'll call her, she makes up stories because she hates to say that he has stopped seeing her.

Just to stop people talking, Mae asks if she should call the man up and ask him to come to see her once in a while so that people won't think she has been ditched entirely.

At nineteen, no doubt, we too thought the world was sitting by watching breathlessly our every move and action, when the world didn't know we even existed. We remember making up a terrible whopper when the young man didn't turn up to escort us to one party, as expected. The later confession that he fell asleep and didn't wake up until 12:30 didn't help our injured pride.

What people will say doesn't matter a tinker's hang, really. The chances are that they don't say anything or, if they do, it is said and over with quickly and that's the end of it. Forget what people might say, Mae. Just tell frankly that you're in the market for a new beau.

Family Scenes Being Used on Yuletide Cards

Chicagoans Individualistic in Greetings.

it is a jolly and friendly one and every one enjoys reading them, however much he may dislike sending them.

Neither the president of the Chicago Junior league, Mrs. Charles H. G. Kimball, nor the president of the Service club, Mrs. Frank S. Sims, sends cards.

The Prentice Porters might be expected to send a hunting scene to their friends, for he is joint master with Austin H. Niblack of the Mill Creek hunt, but they do not send cards, either.

Mr. Sims' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Sims, annually send greetings far and wide from themselves, their children, and their grandchildren. The list of names on the cards grows longer every year.

Mrs. Jacob Baur Sends Picture of Capitol Dome.

Mrs. Jacob Baur, who heretofore has sent her friends glimpses of her home in Astor street with homemade verse, this year chose a picture of the capitol dome in Washington, D. C., but the verse still is her own. It was written last August, so it had to be worded in a somewhat enigmatic way, for she did not know until Nov. 3, of course, whether she would be victorious in her race to be congresswoman. There is a little picture of Mrs. Baur in one corner of the card wistfully gazing at the imposing dome.

There will be some Chicagoans among the friends of the New York MacArthurs who will receive cunning cards picturing little Mary holding a bunch of balloons on which are the names, Charles, Helen, and Mary. The little girl with stiff velvet frock and equally stiff pigtails is silhouetted against the sky, and in one corner are the words, "From the MacArthurs."

Mrs. John G. Shedd Will Be 83 Today.

Today is Mrs. John G. Shedd's birthday—her 83d—but this year there will not be the usual family gathering to celebrate the event.

Mrs. Shedd has ruled against any more birthday celebrations for her, and so her daughters, Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe and Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, and her grandchildren, Mrs. A. Watson Armour III., Mrs. John Peale Bent, John Shedd Schweppe and John Shedd Reed, will have to content themselves with offering their congratulations individually.

Debutante Luncheon at Arts Club Today.

Today before the concert Mrs. Everett L. Millard will entertain a group of debutantes at luncheon at the Arts club. The party is being given for Miss Sylvia Peter, daughter of the William F. Peters of Lake Forest.

On Dec. 30 at the same club Mrs. John Matter is giving a luncheon for three buds of the season, Miss Peter, Miss Nancy Freund, and Miss Theodora Finney.

The Peters' subdeb, Phyllis, will arrive at home from school in Warrenton, Va., on Sunday. Phyllis will make her debut in two years.

Two other Chicago girls who go to the Warrenton school, who will be at home for the holidays, are Kitty and Evelyn Lawrence. Their mother, Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe, and Mr. Rowe, who live in Barrington, are coming in to the Ambassador hotel for the week after Christmas, bringing with them Kitty and Evelyn and David, Mr. Rowe's son, so that the three young people can attend the subdeb parties that will keep the schoolgirls and boys so busy during the vacation period.

Junior League Opens Sculpture Exhibit Today.

After the symphony concert this afternoon many of the younger women in the audience will go to the Drake hotel, where an exhibition of sculpture is being opened at a tea in the new headquarters of the Junior league.

C. Warner Williams, Miss Veronese Beatty, Sylvia Shaw Judson [Mrs. Clay], Elizabeth Hazeltine, Olga Chassaing, Edith Boynton Harmon [Mrs. John H.], Raoul Josset, Peter-Paul Ott, and Edward Chassaing have contributed to the exhibition. Mrs. Philip Pillsbury and Mrs. W. English Walling II. will be hostesses.

The final performance of the league's Children's theater presentation of "Tom Sawyer" will be given tomorrow morning at the Harris theater.

Mrs. Laird Bell will act as hostess this afternoon at the tea at The Cliff Dwellers after the concert. Assisting her will be Mrs. Arthur G. Cable, Mrs. Ralph H. Hamill, Mrs. Thomas L. Marshall, Mrs. William A. Nitze, Mrs. Howard C. Phillips, and Mrs. Nelson W. Willard.

At the Cordon's tea this afternoon Christmas carols will be sung by a group under the tutelage of Helen Protheroe Baker from the Civic Music association, of which Marx E. Oberndorfer is musical director.

Byron Elting has gone east to be an usher at the wedding of Miss Eleine Taylor to Walter Channing Jr. of Brixton, Dover, Mass., tomorrow in Rye, N. Y. Mr. Elting and Mr. Channing both were in the class of '32 at Harvard.

Clifford M. Leonard has moved into the Lake Shore Drive hotel from Lake Forest for a month, and he, Mr. and Mrs. Elting, Miss Hope Leonard, and young Clifford Leonard will have Christmas dinner together. Young Mr. Leonard returns from Hotchkiss Tuesday. Miss Leonard has been staying at the Ambassador with Miss Mary Wood to be near the holiday festivities.

Roy McWilliamses to Arrive Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McWilliams, who landed in New York last week from their home in Bidart, France, are expected in Chicago on Monday. They will be guests of Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne when they first arrive, going out to Lake Forest to spend the Christmas week-end with Mrs. McWilliams' brother and sister-in-law, the Joseph C. Beldens.

Late in January Mr. and Mrs. Belden will go to Florida for two months, and Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams will visit them in the south.

Joseph C. Belden Jr. returned from Europe with his aunt and uncle after a brief trip abroad. Since he enjoyed a holiday early this winter, he will not go south later with his parents but will take bachelor quarters in town.

Armours Will Return from England Today.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson Armour are arriving at home today after spending several weeks in England visiting Mrs. Armour's sister and brother-in-law, the Harold Bryants. The Armours' younger son, Charles, returns this week-end from St. Mark's school.

Mr. and Mrs. Gratiot Washburne, who spend most of each year on their ranch in Wyoming, have arrived in Chicago to spend several months. They have an apartment at 20 East Delaware place.

Mrs. Howard Linn is not going to arrive home by Christmas, as she expected to do, and the latest date for her return to Pointed Roofs, the Linns' lovely home in Lake Bluff, is Jan. 25. Mrs. Linn will spend Christmas in London.

Miss Nancy Avery and Miss Virginia Winston are vacationing on the Arizona ranch of Miss Avery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Avery, but they will return home in time to have Christmas with their families. Miss Winston is the daughter of the James H. Winstons of Evanston.

Mrs. Horace White Armstrong and her daughters, Miss Jean and Miss Mary Armstrong, have returned from England to have Christmas at home in Winnetka.

Mrs. Volney Foster returned yesterday after spending three weeks in New York. Volney and Archie Foster, who are on the dean's list at Harvard, return for the holidays tomorrow, the same day that their younger brother, George, gets home from St. Mark's.

Mrs. William E. Clow Jr. and Miss Mary Melville Clow have returned after spending most of the autumn in New York.

Harris Schools Will Hold Program Today.

The children of the Harris Schools are giving a Christmas program this morning at 11 o'clock in the school auditorium. The children of the primary grades will give a pageant and the girls of the lower school will present two interpretive dances.

Harrison, one of the children of the Rev. and Mrs. Harrison Ray Anderson, will sing. A large Christmas tree stands in the hall of the school and for several days the students have been piling toys under it to be distributed by the Visiting Nurse association.

Mark Skinner Willing Jr. is arriving the day after Christmas to spend the holidays with his Hill school classmate, young Charles Renshaw, who came home last Sunday. Charles is the son of the Charles C. Renshaws of 1500 Lake Shore drive.

Mrs. J. Hill Whiting has returned from the east and is with her son-in-law and daughter, the Rudolph E. Prussings, at their apartment at 20 Cedar street.

Monte Carlo Ballet Opens in City Tonight.

Tonight brings the opening performance of the Monte Carlo Ballet Russe, so balletomanes—and their number is increasing every season—will be going to the Auditorium theater after dinner to welcome back Col. De Basil's dancers for their seventh Chicago engagement.

The première is the seventh feature of the course on the history and enjoyment of music presented by the university college of Northwestern university.

Among those who are subscribers to the course and who will be in the audience tonight are President and Mrs. Walter Dill Scott of the university, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Durand Smith, Mrs. Herbert F. Perkins, and Mrs. John Ritchie.

Others who have taken seats for tonight include the Chauncey McCormicks, the Charles B. Goodspeeds, the Orville Taylors, Mrs. Wentworth G. Field, Mrs. William B. Greenlee, and the Charles Daniel Freys.

The program to be presented tonight includes "Lac des Cynges," "Symphonie Fantastique," "Spectre de la Rose," and "Prince Igor."

John Martin, dance critic for the New York Times, will lecture on "The Modern Ballet" before the performance. The lecture will start at 7 o'clock. This lecture is complimentary for those who attend the Northwestern course.

Christmas Cotillion of Faulkner School.

The annual junior prom of the Faulkner school will be a Christmas cotillion this year. The party will be held next Wednesday at the Hotel Del Prado, and will reunite students and alumnae at home from schools and colleges for the holidays. Miss Jane Ellerd is general chairman.

The school's Christmas tree party will be held today in the school gymnasium. Presents will be collected for Fellowship house in the stockyards district.

The Christmas meeting of the Chicago Wellesley club will be held on Jan. 2 instead of before Christmas.

Chicago's indoor polo season will open Jan. 2 at the 124th Field Artillery armory with the Metropolitan Indoor Polo league tournament.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

LENGTH.

1. When two five card or longer suits are of unequal length, bid first the longer [5 and 6; 5 and 7; 6 and 7].

2. With one six card or longer suit and one four card biddable suit [a semi-two suiter], usually bid the longer suit twice before showing the shorter, and if the longer suit is seven cards or more, usually avoid showing the four card suit at all.

3. With two biddable suits of five and four cards, the commonest type of semi-two suiter, always bid the longer suit first if it is higher ranking. When the four card suit is higher ranking it sometimes may be bid first, particularly with hands of less than four honor tricks [or three and one-half with strong intermediates]. Consider the principle of preparedness before making the choice.

4. With two or three four card biddable suits, bid, as a rule, the highest ranking. Hands with two or three four card suits, however, never should be bid without considering first the principle of preparedness [to be described shortly].

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the deuce of hearts, dummy's king won, and East followed with the nine spot. This was an excellent play by East, although he probably was unaware of it and had intended merely to signal "come on." The actual value of the play of the nine could have been materially greater than that of a signal if East had capitalized it later.

A low club was led from dummy, East ducked, and declarer's king won. The queen of spades followed, the finesse was taken, and East gobbled up the king. Now was the time when he could have fructified his former play of the nine of hearts. He should have returned the heart jack, but probably appalled at such a "needless waste" he actually led back the heart three. Dummy's ace won, and a low diamond was played to the ace. A diamond was returned toward dummy, and the queen felled West's jack. East was in again with the king of diamonds, and now he proudly cashed his heart jack, but he had succeeded only in blocking his partner's long card in the suit. West could not overtake except at the expense of establishing the declarer's ten spot, so East had to be contented with the three tricks he already had taken, and the club ace which later was conceded to him.

The play of the nine of hearts at the first trick had been proper for two reasons. It was correct as a signal card, but much more correct as the start of an unblock. The outstanding hope of the defense should have rested on West's ability to take a couple of heart tricks through East's coöperation. If the declarer held the heart queen, East's jack certainly would be worthless, but if West held that valuable card it might be [and actually was] vital for East to put himself in a position in which he could lead through a low heart to a possible tenace in West's hand. Obviously the unblock of the jack of hearts on the second heart trick would have done just that.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Partner opened the bidding with two diamonds. Next hand passed. What is my proper response with:

♠ J 8 5 ♥ 9 8 4 ♦ Q J 8 7 5 ♣ 6 5?

[Copyright: 1936: By Ely Culbertson.]

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's article.

ENGAGEMENTS

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. James William Egan of Chicago of the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Marion Egan, to William Duncan Benjes, son of Mrs. Rena Benjes of Burlingame, Cal. Miss Egan attended Northwestern university and Manhattanville college. Her fiancé was graduated from the University of California. The wedding will take place on Christmas at the home of Miss Egan's brother, James William Egan Jr., in Bronxville, N. Y.

Mrs. Clarence Loeb announces the engagement of her daughter, Berenice, to Laurence L. Sloss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sloss of San Francisco.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Corydon Harrington Carr, 7533 Merrill avenue, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to David John Harris Jr. tomorrow at the Thorndyke Hilton Memorial chapel. Dean Charles W. Gilkey will perform the ceremony. Miss Carr and Mr. Harris were graduated from the University of Chicago, where she was a member of Mortar Board.

Mrs. W. A. Hubbard of Carrollton, Ill., announces the marriage of her daughter, Virginia, to Robert A. Romans, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Romans of Wilmette on Nov. 7 in the Lady chapel of St. Luke's pro-cathedral in Evanston. Mrs. Romans is the daughter of the late W. A. Hubbard of Carrollton, former member of the Illinois assembly. They will live at 805 Reba place, Evanston.

Miss Medora Roosevelt Gets License to Wed

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Medora Thayer Roosevelt, 19, a Park avenue debutante who once announced that most of the young men at coming out parties were on hand from motives of food and drink and not of love, got a license today to marry Herbert Whiting, 31, of Avon, Conn. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Emlen Roosevelt.

Miss Roosevelt, who is related to the Theodore Roosevelt branch of the family, had a little difficulty at first in the matter of her age, it being necessary to establish it when the applicant is under 21.

Back in September, Medora and her brother, George, were keeping too late hours, her mother decided, and she asked a night club manager to refuse them admittance.

The irrepressible daughter, a few months before, was reported by a New York newspaper as having joined her brother in offering to pay off a Fifth avenue restaurant check by mopping floors. Another member of the party, the paper said, would have none of that, and wrote out a check to settle the bill.

Her expression of views about the stags at debut parties caused some little stir at the time, but she didn't mind and added some comments about her own coming out party.

Milan dispatches in October of 1935 announced Miss Roosevelt's engagement to Massimo Treves, son of a banker there, but upon her return to New York, she refused to comment on the matter.

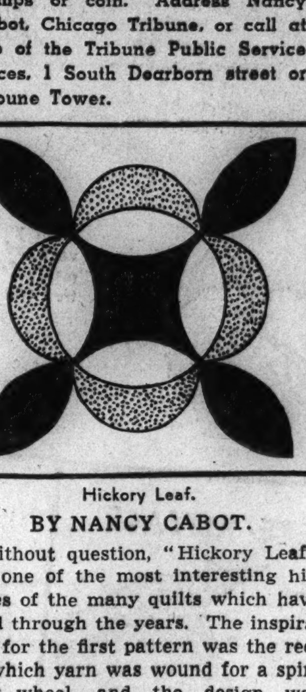
"Hickory Leaf" Quilt Possesses Unusual History

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.



Hickory Leaf.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Without question, "Hickory Leaf" has one of the most interesting histories of the many quilts which have lived through the years. The inspiration for the first pattern was the reel on which yarn was wound for a spinning wheel, and the design was christened "the Reel." From New York, its birthplace, the quilt migrated southward. During the civil war it was buried among the treasures of a fleeing family outside of Chattanooga. When it was resurrected the quilt became "Order No. 11," a military order for evacuation. "Hickory Leaf" is its most recent appellation. Between the first and last name the only difference in the patterns is the change in the shape of the reel or the leaf. That in itself is an enviable reputation, since no pattern ever is cut the same way twice, according to quilt historians.

Catholic Women.

The Rev. James A. Magner of Quigley seminary will speak on "Spreading Catholic Thought Through Catholic Literature" at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow before the Catholic Woman's league at the Fine Arts building, 410 South Michigan avenue.

Marriage Brokers Open Meeting; Calls Romance Nonsense

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 17.—The Marriage Brokers' Association of America opened a two day convention today at Times Square hotel.

"More people are seeking marriage," said Rabbi Nathan Wolfe, "because of improved business conditions. If a man doesn't meet a girl that satisfies him, he goes to the marriage broker," said Mr. Wolfe.

The fee, Dr. Wolfe explained, is 5 per cent of the dowry, with the present minimum $200, $25 in advance and the rest payable at or before the ceremony. This fee probably will be increased, he said.

"We consider about romance or all those things it's all nonsense," he said.

THE GUMPS—STRATEGY

TROSKY HEADS A. L. SLUGGERS; BONURA IS 4TH

Sox 2d to Yanks in Runs Batted In.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[RECORDS ON PAGE 41.]

A little more explanation as to why the White Sox were able to surprise everybody by finishing only a half game out of second place in the recent American league campaign was furnished yesterday with the circuit's final batch of official averages. The figures show that two of Jimmy Dykes' peppery employés were up with the big boys in the runs driven in department, which is a highly important item in attack.

Zeke Bonura, who at various times last summer read in the public prints that he wasn't particularly hot as a first baseman, is credited with employing his bat to shove 138 runs across the plate, a figure which rated him fourth in the league. For a teammate in production the muscular Zeke had Luke Appling, league batting champion for the season, who finished sixth, with 128 runs accounted for. And don't overlook that Bonura's above mentioned feat was only part of his season's glory. He topped all the league first basemen in fielding.

Three First Basemen Lead.

The first three notches in the run-getting column went to fellows long known for their skill in this particular. All are first basemen. Hal Trosky of the Indians paced the field with 162 runs, an increase of 49 over 1935, when he finished fourth. Lou Gehrig of the Yanks was second with 152. Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox, was third with 143, and Julius Solters of the Browns slipped in between Bonura and Appling with a 134 total.

Although fourth in the rating, Bonura has ample excuse to give the bird to the three men who preceded him in the rating. Trosky fanned 58 times. Gehrig was a strike victim on 46 occasions. Foxx was in the class by himself with 119 strikeouts. But our Zeke fanned only 29 times all year, and Appling proved he's a fairly tough fellow to fool by striking out only 25 times. The best strike dodger of the eighteen men credited with driving in more than 100 runs was Charley Gehringer of the Tigers, who fanned only 13 times in 154 games.

Yanks Set Three Team Marks.

The murderous conduct of the Yanks against enemy pitchers during the season resulted in three new major league team records. They drove in 995 runs, four more than when they established a mark in 1931. In one game against the Athletics they set another top figure by scoring 25 runs, two more than the previous record. They also had five men—Gehrig, Di Maggio, Lazzeri, Dickey, and Selkirk—among the eighteen who slapped in excess of 100 runs across the counter.

Gehrig completed his eleventh straight season in which he drove in 100 or more tallies. Gehrig also was over the 150 mark for the sixth year, equaling a record set by Babe Ruth. Another feature in which Gehrig was tops was in bases on balls. He walked 130 times, frequently because the enemy server wanted it that way. A strong feature of the pass angle is that Clift and Lary of the Browns, neither of them dangerous hitters, walked 115 and 117 times, respectively.

A total of 4,847 passes was issued during the year, indicating record breaking wildness by pitchers. The previous mark of 4,612 was reached in 1935.

HOPPE ACCEPTS SCHAEFER'S BID FOR CUE MATCH

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Willie Hoppe, an unsuccessful contender in the recent world's three cushion billiards championship, said today he would accept the challenge of the veteran Jake Schaefer, for a balkline match carrying a $500 side bet.

Hoppe said he had posted the money with Henry Kline of the Strand academy here and would play Schaefer, who recently challenged "all takers," at any style of billiards. He suggested a 10,000 point match played in New York and Chicago.

Repor t St. Louis Browns to Sponsor Omaha Team

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 17.—(AP)—The World Herald says it has learned the reorganized St. Louis American league club intends to sponsor a Western league team in Omaha as part of its contemplated farm system if a playing field can be obtained. Fire destroyed the Western league baseball park here last summer.

Earlham College Beats DePauw Five, 23 to 19

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Earlham college continued its perfect season's record by defeating DePauw university 23 to 19 here tonight in an Indiana conference basketball game. Earlham led 11 to 9 at the half time.

EAST FOOTBALL TEAM MOBILIZES AT N. U. TODAY

22 Players Leave for the Coast Tonight.

Twenty-two of the outstanding football players from the east and central west will assemble at Dyche stadium, Northwestern university, this afternoon for their first workout as members of the all-star east team that will meet a west coast eleven in the annual Shrine hospital benefit game at San Francisco New Year's day.

The east team, which was assembled by Coach Andy Kerr of Colgate and Dick Hanley, formerly of Northwestern, is composed of players from 15 universities. Midwestern schools represented are Ohio State, Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern, Wisconsin, and Purdue.

Bryan Is Only Southerner.

Bucky Bryan of Tulane is the lone representative from the south. He was selected to replace Bus Buivid of Marquette, who was forced to pass up his invitation due to the fact that the Hilltoppers are playing in the Cotton Bowl game. Eastern schools represented are Carnegie Tech, Fordham, Princeton, Colgate, Duke, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth, and Yale.

Yale's representative is Larry Kelley, all-American end, who has been the mainstay of the Eli eleven for the last three years. Other eastern players are Nestor Henrion, tackle, Carnegie Tech; Nat Pierce, guard, Fordham; Ken Sandbach, half, and Fred Ritter, guard, of Princeton; Ken Relyea, tackle, Colgate; Clarence Parker, half, Duke; Will Kurlish, full, and Frank Murray, half, Pennsylvania; Carl Roy, center, and John Handrahan, quarter, Dartmouth.

N. U. Sends 3 Men.

Northwestern landed three men on the team. They are Steve Reid, guard, and Steve Toth and Don Geyer, full backs. Other conference players are Charles Hamrick, tackle, and Merle Wendt, end, Ohio State; Ed Widseth, tackle, and Bud Svendsen, center, Minnesota; Ken Nelson, end, Illinois; Ed Jankowski, full back, Wisconsin, and John Drake, half back, Purdue.

The players will receive equipment today and will participate in a light workout at Dyche stadium. They will leave tonight for the coast, where training headquarters will be established at Berkeley.

PITT IS DETERMINED

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Thirty-four solemn football players from the University of Pittsburgh, en route to Pasadena, Cal., for their Rose Bowl battle with the University of Washington New Year's day, determinedly nodded assent as Tackle Averell Daniel asserted on a brief stop here late today:

"We're going out there to win. We have the fight and the kind of boys who like to play football. We haven't all the experience in the world, but we're going some place New Year's day. Mark my words."

Coach Jock Sutherland made no predictions. The Panthers have lost all three of their other Rose Bowl games.

Dr. Sutherland said the team is in good condition, but needs a workout. The players will practice tomorrow in the University of New Mexico stadium at Albuquerque. From there the Panthers will proceed to Arrowhead Springs, Cal., where training headquarters will be established.

Name Officials for Orange Bowl Football Battle

Lake Wales, Fla., Dec. 17.—(AP)—A. R. Hutchens, secretary of the Southern Football Officials' association, today announced assignments for Miami's Orange bowl football game between Mississippi State and Duquesne university on New Year's day. They are Tom Thorpe of New York, W. E. [Ted] Arnold of Jacksonville, Col. Horatio B. Hackett of Washington, D. C., and Hutchens himself. Individual assignments were not announced.

A TOUGH LEAGUE, MILDRED

Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, former American Olympic star, shot an 87 yesterday in her first appearance against men golfers in the $1,500 Southern California open. While Babe was going nine over women's par, several of her male opponents were breaking 70 with no trouble.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Babe Learns She's Just a Gal in Men's Golf

Glendale, Cal., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Mildred [Babe] Didrikson finished her first 18 holes of tournament golf against male competition today, tossed her club to her caddy and exclaimed:

"Phooey!"

Babe, lone woman entry in the $1,500 southern California open, shot a 44—43—87, 15 strokes over men's par and nine shots over women's par for the tough Oakmont Country club course.

Gets a 72—in Practice.

Monday, in practice, she had equaled men's par, 72, to chop six strokes off the former women's course record.

Erratic before a large gathering, Babe smacked four balls out of bounds, performed badly on the greens and dropped two strokes on the seventh when she broke a wood into many pieces.

"I couldn't get going," she apologized.

The Texas girl, 1932 American Olympic star who later turned pro, played with Jim Ross of Los Angeles and Richard Arlen, film actor, both amateurs, who shot 71 and 84, respectively.

Amateur Shoots a 66.

A young Pasadena amateur, F. P. Hixon, turned in a spectacular 30—36—66, six strokes under par, for low score in the first round.

Big Olin Dutra, former national open champion, fired up his putter and came in with a sparkling 36—32—68. Pat Abbott, Pasadena amateur and defending champion, posted 76.

The veteran Willie Hunter of Suburban Brentwood came in with a 34—33—67 for the second lowest score.

Fred Nebel of Chicago to Be Xavier Grid Captain

COLUMBIA FIVE OF DUBUQUE TO BATTLE LOYOLA

Chicagoans Seek Fourth Straight Victory.

Columbia College of Dubuque will meet Loyola's basketball team tonight at the Loyola gymnasium in the Ramblers' fourth game of the season. The Loyolans have shown glimpses of power in routing Arkansas State, 44 to 23, and Beloit, 42 to 30, in the first two games of the season. Last Tuesday night a strong Kansas State quintet was trounced, 44 to 32, to run the season's record to three games, with two victories carried over from last year, making a total of five consecutive wins.

Despite Loyola's strong offensive attack Coach Sachs still has his hands full in trying to pick a starting line-up for the season. So evenly rated are all the 12 members of the squad that any group of five is capable of being called the regular quintet. Every man has seen action in the three games played to date and at no time has the Loyola attack been weakened.

Novak Has Edge on Height.

The sole Rambler who might be called a regular is Mike Novak, who holds his position at center because of his unusual height of 6 feet 9 inches. On basis of ball handling and team playing Novak is no better than Ed Murray, Loyola's regular center for the last two years, but Mike has eight more inches than the former Campion academy star.

Novak leads the Loyola scorers with 29 points, although his three field goals and four free throws were less than the 13 points gathered by Bill O'Brien and the 11 markers of Wibs Kautz in the Kansas Aggies tilt. All three men are sophomores.

Leary Leads Columbia.

Father Daniel Coyne, Columbia coach, has welded together another fast and smart quintet. Capt. Bill Leary, a 6 foot 2 inch senior, will handle the center assignment, with Johnny Paul, a sophomore, and Ed Knockel, a junior, at forwards. Larry Kruse and Ace Kolfenbach, both veterans from last year, are scheduled to start at guards. George Phelan, a senior guard and a product of Chicago, will see action against his home town rivals.

Although Loyola is expected to have their hands full with Columbia the Chicagoans' superior height is expected to make this game Loyola's sixth consecutive victory and the fourth of the year. The starting line-ups:

LOYOLA.		COLUMBIA.
O'Brien	F.	Paul
Calihan	F.	Knockel
Novak	C.	Leary [C]
Kautz	G.	Kruse
Colen	G.	Kolfenbach

PURPLE SHOWS POWER

Northwestern's basketball team, fresh from its victory over Notre Dame Wednesday night, will jump back into action again tomorrow night against Western State Teachers' college of Kalamazoo at Patten gymnasium.

The Wildcats now boast a winning streak of three games and have two games remaining before opening the Big Ten season with Illinois at Champaign, Jan. 4. In addition to Western State, return game with Notre Dame is scheduled for New Year's eve at Evanston.

In three games the Purple have scored 120 points for an average of 40 points per game. Mike McMichaels, one of the best shots that the Wildcats have brought forth since Joe Rieff, has led the Purple attack with a total of 50 points, compiled by 19 baskets and 12 free throws. The Des Moines, Ia., sharpshooter is traveling at a faster clip than last year when he placed fourth in the Big Ten scoring column.

The other Wildcat regulars have also contributed greatly to the Wildcats' point total. They are Fred Trenkle, forward, and Jean Smith, center, who along with McMichaels, comprise tricky front line combination. All three are fast and all have a good shooting eye from most any angle on the floor.

A 1960 PROSPECT FOR CARDS

Lon Warneke, former Cub pitcher, now with the St. Louis Cardinals, is shown with Mrs. Warneke and their new born son in a Hot Springs, Ark., hospital. Lon reckons the young man will be pitching timber for the Cards as soon as he takes on a little weight and height.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

A FEW years ago two youngsters strolled into the Los Angeles ball park and asked for tryouts. . . . One was chased away because he weighed about two ounces less than a straw hat. . . . The one who remained was Steve Mesner, who has been sold to the White Sox. . . . The lad who didn't get a tumble because he looked so frail was Arnold Owen, Columbus catcher on whom the parent club, the St. Louis Cardinals, placed a $100,000 price tag last fall. . . . Finding no buyers, the Cardinals have decided to use him themselves next season. . . . Chicago's leading radio stations will be asked to pay $40,000 for broadcasting privileges from at least one of the city's major league parks next season, it is reported. . . . Vernon Huffman, Indiana's brilliant quarter back, will refuse all offers to play professional football, this department is informed. . . . Huffman, who will complete his studies in June, 1938, will assist Bo McMillin as coach next fall. . . . For the next three months he will strive to maintain his rating as an All-American guard on the Indiana basketball team, of which he is co-captain. . . .

Stub Allison of California follows a unique system in his training routine. . . . He always calls the team together for ten minutes after each game to point out faults on the field. . . . Allison says the system pays dividends, giving the players a chance to think over their mistakes before Monday practice and also prevents their being unduly influenced by the newspaper stories on Sunday morning. . . . Samuel Leibowitz, noted criminal lawyer, has missed only one six day bicycle race in New York since 1905 and he missed that one because he was appearing in the Scottsboro case. . . . Steve Donoghue, greatest of English jockies, once rode 100 consecutive losers. . . . Michigan has found a successor to Willis Ward in William Watson, Saginaw colored athlete, who puts the shot 50 feet, broad jumps 24 feet, high jumps over 6 feet, runs the sprints and throws the discus. . . . Army hasn't scored a point after touchdown against Notre Dame since 1925. . . .

When Wild Bill Mehlhorn began to complain about sore feet in the semi-finals of the P. G. A. tournament at Pinehurst last month, Leo Diegel scornfully remarked: "They ought to hurt. You haven't stayed in a tournament long enough to walk this far since the Boxer rebellion." . . . Eddie Wedge, former Olympic skating star from Detroit, has retired to handle the bookings of his wife, Goeta Ljungberg, Swedish opera star, and four Metropolitan opera singers. . . . Mike Tobin, the voice of Illinois, has found a precedent for Red Grange's performance against Michigan. . . . Bemus Pierce of the Carlisle Indians ran back three kickoffs for touchdowns against the Illini in 1897. . . . Erik Ogren, lightweight champion of the Swedish Olympic boxing team, who eliminated Andy Scrivani of Chicago at Berlin, will begin a professional campaign in this country next March under the direction of his brother, Karl Ogren, former Chicago Golden Gloves title holder. . . . Karl now operates a ranch near Stone Lake, Wis. . . .

The pay of Big Ten football officials will be boosted from $60 to $75 a game next season. . . . Their compensation was reduced during the depression. . . . A. J. Grenet has been setting the odds at New York tracks for more than 50 years. . . . Nineteen world records were set by trotters and pacers last season. . . . Minnesota intercepted 23 forward passes last fall, one more than its opponents completed. . . . Bruce Flowers, the old lightweight boxer, is planning a comeback. . . . The American association will employ Al Schacht, famous baseball comedian, to do his act in its parks next season. . . . Jock Sutherland, whose Pittsburgh eleven meets Washington in the Rose Bowl New Year's day, played in the first football game he ever saw. . . . Eddie Jankowski, Wisconsin's star full back, who is a candidate for THE TRIBUNE'S most valuable player trophy, has been awarded to the Green Bay Packers in the draft, but he doesn't think he will enter professional football. . . . He hopes to get a coaching job. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Benny Friedman of Michigan won THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S silver football trophy for being the Big Ten player of greatest value to his team. . . . The Chicago Blackhawks took the lead in the American division of the National Hocky league by defeating the New York Americans, 4 to 2.

Toronto, 5; N. Y. Americans, 1.

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Flashing a fast, wide open brand of hocky, the Toronto Maple Leafs returned to form here tonight and laced the New York Americans, 5 to 1, in a National league match played before 9,000 fans.

It was the worst defeat for the New York club this season, and at no time did they appear the equal of Toronto's Blue Shirts, who climbed in the Canadian division to within two points of the co-holders of second place, the Americans and Montreal Maroons.

Apps Starts Scoring.

Sylvanus Apps shot the Leafs into the lead by scoring with the aid of Jim Fowler late in the opening period. Harvey Jackson added another in the middle session, also with Fowler's help.

The Americans threw caution to the wind in the last 20 minutes and the visitors had little trouble breaking through the New York defense for another pair of goals. Nick Metz scored the first, following a breakaway, and then Gordon Drillon tallied with Jackson's assistance. Lorne Carr sandwiched in the lone New York goal on a power play with Eddie Wiseman and Sweeney Schriner, and then Jackson slashed in his second goal to conclude the scoring. Lineups:

BRUINS, 5; MAROONS, 0

MONTREAL, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The Boston Bruins handed the crippled Montreal Maroons their first whitewashing of the National Hocky league season and their first defeat in five games tonight, 5 to 0. The victory put the Bruins only a point behind the New York Rangers and Detroit Red Wings, tied for the American division lead, and left the Maroons deadlocked with the New York Americans for third in the International section.

Maroons Miss Four Regulars.

The Bruins, scoring in every period, had little trouble with the Maroons, who lacked four regulars, Carl Voss, Cy Wentworth, Russ Blinco, and Jerry Shannon. Fewer than 6,000 fans saw the hard but drab game.

Roy Goldsworthy and Cooney Weiland paired up for the first two goals, while Eddie Shore, back after a long absence, started a third period rush with his first tally of the season. The Maroons didn't threaten after Goalie Tiny Thompson halted their first period attacks. Lineups:

Joe Tinker Shows Slight Improvement

Orlando, Fla., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Joe Tinker showed slight improvement today, but the former major league baseball player still was gravely ill of Bright's disease and diabetes. Ill for two weeks, Tinker lay perilously close to death several days, but has rallied recently. Physicians said he is not out of danger.

CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE: FRIDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1936.

CHICAGO FIVES OPEN ST. GEORGE TOURNEY TONIGHT

19 Teams Will Compete at Evanston.

Games Tonight

7:30 p. m.—St. Philip [Chicago] vs. Holy Trinity [Chicago].
8:30 p. m.—Weber [Chicago] vs. St. Rita [Chicago].
9:30 p. m.—St. Patrick [Chicago] vs. St. Michael [Chicago].

Six Chicago teams will compete tonight in the opening round of the third annual St. George Catholic High school preseason basketball tournament at the St. George gymnasium, 350 Sherman street, Evanston.

Following the opening session tonight, play will continue tomorrow, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday nights with afternoon games on Saturday and Sunday. A total of nineteen teams, headed by St. Patrick of Chicago, defending champion, will compete in the tourney.

St. Philip vs. Holy Trinity.

In the first game tonight, scheduled to begin at 7:30, St. Philip of the west side, coached by Bill Shay, former De Paul university star, will clash with Holy Trinity. The second contest will bring together the Little Giants from Weber and St. Rita's veteran five. In the closing game St. Patrick will meet St. Michael, the near north side contender.

On Saturday afternoon the St. George Dragons will rely on lanky Vincent Nunamaker, 6 feet 2 inches center, to turn back St. Mary's of Woodstock, Ill. The visitors, known as the Fighting Irish, are coached by Melvin Stuessy.

Loyola Meets Leo.

Paddy Driscoll will send his Gaels of St. Mel against St. Mary's of Michigan City, Ind., in the closing afternoon game. Two of Chicago's bitterest rivals share the spotlight in the first of three evening games when Loyola from the far north side furnishes the opposition for Leo of the south side. The Loyola squad is under the guidance of Frank McElligott, former Marquette ace, and Leo's Lions are coached by Champ Vaughan, who played at Notre Dame.

Following the local clash, De La Salle of Chicago takes the floor to tangle with St. Pats of Kankakee, Ill. Columbia academy of Dubuque, Ia., led by Robert Matthews who was a forward on the 1936 Loyola all-tournament team, will attempt to beat De Paul of Chicago.

T. C. U. IS GIVEN WARM WELCOME BY FORT WORTH

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 17.—(AP)—The warmest welcome ever accorded a victorious football team from Fort Worth was given the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs today.

Students, who barricaded doors and declared their own holiday, brought firecrackers and torpedoes to add to the din of other noise making devices.

The Horned Frogs will begin training tomorrow for their New Year's engagement with Marquette in the Dallas Cotton bowl.

President E. M. Waits of T. C. U., said tonight the student stayout strike was instigated by "two or three roughnecks" and he was awaiting a promised apology.

"We announced that students would be given ample time to get to the station to pay homage to their team," Waits said. "This morning's demonstration was thoroughly unnecessary." He said no punitive action was planned.

Quin Ryan to Interview All-East ElevenOverW-G-N

Quin Ryan will interview the entire eastern all-star football squad in a special sports broadcast over station W-G-N between 8:30 and 9 p. m. tonight. The team, composed of twenty-two players from eastern and middle western universities will leave later in the evening for California where it will meet an all west team in the annual Shrine benefit game at San Francisco on New Year's day. Coaches Andy Kerr and Dick Hanley will also be interviewed.

Milwaukee Teachers Win from North Central, 24-23

Two field goals scored from under the basket by Seeger, a forward, gave Milwaukee Teachers' college a 24 to 23 victory over North Central college last night at Naperville. The game was hard fought from the opening whistle, and nineteen fouls were called on the invaders to thirteen on North Central. North Central led at half time, 15 to 13.

Brock, Noted Clown, to Act in Ice Carnival

Heinie Brock, world famous clown, will do two of his celebrated numbers at the fifth annual Chicago Stadium ice carnival, which opens on Christmas night to run for five performances. Star baseball and hocky player at the University of Minnesota, A. A. U. fancy diving champion, and now a star at comic specialties on ice, Brock is one of the nation's most versatile athletes.

At the fourth annual carnival last winter Brock was not available, for he was in Hollywood directing Clark Gable and Joan Crawford in skating sequences in a film. This will be his first Chicago appearance in four years. His place on the program last year was taken by Eric Wait, one of his pupils, who delighted Chicago skating fans with some of Brock's characteristic spills, flops, and burlesques.

Has Rubber Legs.

Brock's biggest laugh comes from rubber legs and his comic pantomime has been compared to that of Toto, the silent clown. In one of Brock's numbers at the Stadium he will be dressed as a Chinaman, doing a burlesque of Bobbie McLean's barrel jumping act. Brock gets over the eight barrels with a flourish, but winds up with some of his former fancy diving technique by sliding forty feet off the rink.

In his second number the clown from St. Paul will burlesque Sonja Henie's interpretation of Pavlova's "Dying Swan" dance classic. Brock calls it the "Dying Duck."

Program Well Balanced.

With Oscar Johnson and Eddie Shipstad to add more clowning to the show, the big Stadium skating revue will provide plenty of laughs. Idi Papez and Karl Zwack of Vienna, Austrian pair skating champions, and Jack Dunn, British singles champion, will provide the international flavor, and a twenty-four act program of skating ballets, group numbers, ice tableau, single and double dance figures, an many novelties will give the program balance and variety.

Olympic Games Cost to Berlin Is $6,600,000

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—The Olympic games cost the municipal government of Berlin 16½ million marks [$6,600,000]. This sum was spent exclusively for decorations and trafic accommodations, such as bridges and other approaches to Olympic field. The municipality invested nothing in Olympic equipment proper, which was constructed solely by the reich government. The reich never made a report to the taxpayers on the cost of the Olympics.

The municipality, however, in its report issued today, states it spent 710,000 marks [$284,000] alone to decorate the "Olympic via triumphalis." The old budget called for only 250,000 marks [$100,000] for this purpose, Sod, flowers, and a special Olympic street cleaning service cost another 750,000 marks [$300,000], to which 187,000 marks [$74,800] were added to decorate the grounds about "Deutschland Halle," where boxing and wrestling took place.

Partial repaving of the avenue which served as the "Via Triumphalis" cost approximately one million marks and another 2,700,000 marks $1,080,000] were spent on other special Olympic paving jobs which have not been provided for in the city's regular budget.

Nevertheless, the municipality has been able to close its books with an official excess of nearly six million marks for the year. Municipal accounts are not subjected to public inspection or analysis in the press, however.

IMPELLITTIERE TO MEET PASTOR IN GARDEN TONIGHT

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Making his first Garden start since he was knocked out by Primo Carnera in March, 1935, Ray Impellittiere, giant New York heavyweight, goes against Bob Pastor, former New York university star, tomorrow night.

The huge Cold Springs youth, who recently returned from a successful Pacific coast invasion, rules a 7 to 5 betting choice with very little wagering reported.

Kearns Named Promoter for Detroit Bouts

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Jack Kearns, who guided Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight championship, and James D. Norris, owner of Olympia stadium, reached an agreement today which they hope will make Detroit a fight center and bring at least two title bouts to the city.

Kearns, as promoter, will stage indoor fights at Olympia, home of the Detroit Red Wings, the National league hocky team owned by Norris, and also arrange for outdoor shows during the summer.

Calls It a Natural.

"There is no reason why Detroit couldn't be the scene of championship bouts," said Kearns. "It's a natural location and I'm going to bid for the winner of the Jim Braddock-Max Schmeling title bout next June to meet Joe Louis here in September.

"I also am ready to offer $50,000 to have Barney Ross defend his welterweight title here against Jimmy McLarin."

Kearns said he hopes to develop some talent in this region and is considering holding a tournament to find suitable opponents for Joe Louis.

To Seek Top-Notchers.

"Louis should fight in his home town," Kearns said, "but there really are few opponents for him."

Kearns said he hopes to bring "some of the top-notch fighters here during the winter" if he can find opponents for them. As those he wants to engage he mentioned Freddie Steele, John Henry Lewis, and Al McCoy.

Gould Interested in German Bid for Title Bout

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 17.—Negotiations opened by Germany, with the idea of transferring the James J. Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight championship bout to the Olympic stadium, Berlin, had reached a stage today where Joe Gould, manager of the champion is taking an interest in it.

Gould declared that he was interested in the proposition put to him by Dennis Scanlon, former manager of Sonja Henie, who also talked with Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden.

Scanlon, Gould said, represented the German government and was prepared to guarantee Braddock $250,000. The Garden's bit for releasing the match would be $200,000, which, in all probability, would have to be split with Mike Jacobs, co-promoter of the championship bout.

Jacobs, however, maintained that he had not been approached by anybody. Speaking for Madison Square Garden, Promoter James J. Johnston issued a sweeping denial.

Schmeling, before sailing last Tuesday night, denied that he contemplated any German match, and added that he would return to the United States late in February and go south and then west on an exhibition tour.

Lisle Junior Defeats Illinois Junior, 34 to 25

Lisle Junior college scored its second victory in the Illinois Junior college conference by defeating Elgin Junior college, 34 to 25, at Elgin yesterday. The winning five held a two point lead at half-time, the score being 17 to 15. Andy Schindler, guard, led the Lisle attack with six baskets and two free throws.

Dutch Clark Leads Scorers in Pro League

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Earl [Dutch] Clark, quarter back with the Detroit Lions, was the leading scorer in the National Professional Football league this year.

Clark scored 73 points during the twelve game campaign, giving him an 11 point margin over his nearest rival, Jack Manders of the Chicago Bears with 62. Others who finished in the first five were Don Hutson, Green Bay Packers, 54; Cliff Battles, Boston Red Skins, and Bill Hewitt, Chicago Bears, 42 each.

Stripping scoring down to its three classifications — touchdowns, points after touchdowns, and field goals—league statistics reveal Hutson led with 9 touchdowns, Clark with 19 points after touchdowns, and Manders and Armand Niccolai of the Pittsburgh Pirates tied with seven field goals each.

Three players tied for runner-up honors in touchdowns, Clark, Battles, and Hewitt with 7 each; Manders and Big Ernie Smith of the Packers kicked 17 points after touchdown each, while Ralph Kercheval of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Paul Engerbretsen of the Packers kicked five field goals each to tie for second place.

Gene Schneider Named Columbia Eleven Captain

Dubuque, Ia., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Gene Schneider, guard who received his third letter this year, was named captain of the 1931 Columbia college football team tonight. Schneider is a resident of Dubuque and a junior. Twenty-three college men received letters.

Tietje, Arthritis Gone, Signs with the Browns

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—The St. Louis Browns today received a signed contract from Les Tietje, right handed pitcher. Tietje, formerly a member of the Chicago White Sox, said he was completely recovered from arthritis which forced him out of baseball last summer.

N. U. WRESTLERS TO OPEN SEASON WITH IOWA STATE

The Northwestern wrestling team will inaugurate the 1936-'37 season against Iowa State at Patten gymnasium today.

The invading Cyclones are coached by Hugo Otopalik, well known collegiate wrestling authority, who was chosen in 1932 to coach the United States team in the Olympic games at Los Angeles. The Wildcats will be initiating their first season under Coach Wes Brown, who won honors for three years as a member of the Northwestern team.

The feature match will take place in the heavyweight division between Capt. Dewitt Gibson of the Wildcats and Al Stoecker of Iowa State. Other matches will include a 145 pound tilt between Joe Loverdale, outstanding Purple man ,and Frank Linn, former state prep champion in Iowa, and a match between Nic Harrison of Northwestern and John Kerstein in the 135 pound division.

VOTE SCHMELING COMEBACK BEST IN 1936 SPORT

Selected in Sports Poll; Alice Marble Second.

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The experts who wouldn't concede him a chance have hailed Max Schmeling's twelve round knockout of Joe Louis as the year's crowning comeback achievement in the sixth annual Associated Press sports poll.

Their selection of the black haired Uhlan, whose insistence that he was "unafraid" was consistently doubted and overlooked by most scribes, was just as decisive as the thrashing he dealt the young Negro heavyweight in Yankee stadium on June 19.

Considered washed up when he left these shores in 1933, Max now will get a chance to regain the championship he won on a foul from Jack Sharkey six years ago. He's been matched against Title Holder Jim Braddock for June 3.

Choice by Three to One.

Outpolling his nearest rival by almost three to one, Schmeling received first place nominations from forty-six of the seventy-three participants. All told, 152 points were posted alongside Max's name. Runner-up honors went to blonde Alice Marble of San Francisco, who won the national tennis title after ill health had forced her out of competition for almost two years. She received ten first place votes and a total of fifty-seven.

A single point separate Baby Face Jimmy McLarnin and Bob [Lefty] Grove in third and fourth places, respectively. McLarnin, for his victories over Tony Canzoneri and Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers, drew 24 points; Grove, because he led American league pitchers with the best earned run average for the seventh time, polled 23 points.

Wykoff in First Ten.

Others who landed in the "first ten" were Frank Wykoff, the Carpenteria, Cal., sprint veteran who made his third straight Olympic team and anchored the United States 400 meter relay team to a world record smashing victory at Berlin; Louis, for his return to form after being stopped by Schmeling; Johnny Fischer, Denny Shute, and Tony Manero, amateur, professional, and open golf champions; Paul Waner, National league batting champion, and Tony Lazzeri, the New York Yankees' veteran second baseman.

The tabulation, with points tallied on 3-2-1 basis:

1—Max Schmeling, knockout winner over Joe Louis 152
2—Miss Alice Marble, United States tennis champion 57
3—Jimmy McLarnin for boxing victories over Tony Canzoneri and Lou Ambers 24
4—Bob [Lefty] Grove, Boston Red Sox pitcher 23
5—Frank Wykoff, anchor on United States 400 meter relay team in Olympics 15
6—Joe Louis for return to form after knockout by Max Schmeling 14
7—Johnny Fischer, United States amateur golf champion 11
8—Denny Shute and Tony Manero, golf champions; Paul Waner, National league batting champion, each 10
11—Tony Lazzeri, Yankees' second baseman 9

Other votes:

Pat Malone, Yankees' pitcher, 7; Danny MacFayden, Boston Bees' pitcher, 6; Jack Lovelock, Olympic 1,500 meter champion, 5.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, tennis; James J. Braddock, heavyweight boxing champion; Bronko Nagurski Chicago Bears' full back, and Lou Meyer, winner of 500 mile Indianapols automobile race for third time, 4 each.

Jimmy Phelan, University of Washington football coach; Gene Venzke, Pennsylvana foot racer; Leo Durocher, St. Louis Cardinals' shortstop; Bill Mehlhorn, professional golfer; Charles Ruffing, New York Yankees' pitcher; Goose Goslin, Detroit Tigers' outfielder; Rabbit Maranville, manager of Elmira team in New York-Penn Baseball league, and Discovery, A. G. Vanderbilt's handicap horse, 2 each.

PATTY BERG TO PLAY IN TITLE GOLF TOURNEY

Augusta, Ga., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Patty Berg, youthful golfing sensation from Minneapolis, today accepted an invitation to compete in the women's title holders' golf tournament which will be played at the Augusta Country club Jan. 15, 16, and 17.

On the heels of the high school girls' acceptance came a letter from Charlotte Glutting of New York, who advised that while her appearance could not be counted upon as a certainty "in all probability I will be there."

Among the early acceptances are those from Helen Hicks, former women's national champion and now a professional; Lily Harper, Virginia state champion; Dorothy Kirby, Georgia state champion; Kathryn Hemphill, North and South Carolina champion; Jane Cothran, a well known southern golfer from Greenville, S. C., and Helen Maring, an outstanding golfer from Pinehurst, N. C., and former holder of the title held by Miss Hemphill.

Honor Fenger's Champion Prep Eleven Tonight

Purdue Meets De Paul Here Tomorrow

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Purdue university's basketball team, almost perennial contenders for Big Ten title honors, will invade Chicago Saturday night to renew the hard fought series with De Paul. It will be the fourth start of the season for the Boilermakers, who will be seeking their fourth consecutive western conference championship when the Big Ten title race starts shortly after the New Year.

Although the Boilermakers have lost a trio of outstanding stars from last year's co-champion combination, including Capt. Bob Kessler, Big Ten high scorer; Edward Elliott, rangy center, and Austin [Red] Lambert, stalwart veteran back guard, Coach Ward Lambert has juggled the eight major letter men available so that he is expected to start a veteran combination against De Paul.

Two juniors, Jewell Young, left handed flip shot expert who finished sixth in the Big Ten scoring race last season, and Johnny Sines, another slim performer, who is accurate at both long and short ranges, are slated for the forward berths. Tom Dickinson and Dale Hutt, a pair of sophomores, stand out as the likeliest relief choices.

Three Available at Center.

At center, co-captain Jim Seward and Gene Anderson, a lanky sophomore who has shown considerable ball handling and passing ability, are expected to bear the main burden, although Carrol Mangas, junior major letterman, may see considerable action.

Co-captain Glen Downey, a versatile performer, who has worked at forward, center, and guard, has drawn the back guard assignment. Joe Mihal sophomore football men, are other defensive possibilities.

Paul [Pat] Malaska, the midget of the squad who more than makes up for his lack of height by his ball handling, looks like a permanent fixture at floor guard.

MICHIGAN OFF TO COAST

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Michigan's basketball team, its hopes of a Big Ten championship brightest since it won the title in 1929, entrained this afternoon for the west coast to play a three game series with the University of Washington.

Coach Franklin Cappon, a student manager, and ten players are making the trip to Seattle, the first time in two years that the Wolverines will meet an intersectional foe. Games with the Huskies, northern division champions of the Pacific Coast conference, will be played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Wolverines ran up a 61 to 12 score against Michigan Normal in their opening game, and then turned back Michigan State, 34 to 21.

The squad will return to Ann Arbor Dec. 28 to drill for a New Year's day game with the University of Toledo.

HOOSIERS GO EAST

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Coach Everett Dean today nominated eleven Indiana university basketball players for the squad which will entrain eastward tomorrow to meet Manhattan college in Madison Square Garden, New York, Saturday night, and Villanova at Philadelphia Monday night.

Players making the trip are Co-Capt. Kenneth Gunning, Shelbyville; Robert Etnire, Logansport; William Silberstein, Brooklyn, N. Y., and William Johnson, Jeffersonville, forwards; Fred Fechtman, Indianapolis; Willis Hosler, Huntington, and James Birr, Indianapolis, centers, and Co-Capt. Vernon Huffman, Newcastle; Joe Platt, Young America; Ernest Andres, Jeffersonville, and Charles Mencel, Bourbon, guards.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

ORIGIN OF COACHES.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA'S athletic publicity staf recently released data showing that former pupils of the late Dr. Harry Williams, associate of A. A. Stagg at Yale about 1890 and generally called father of the Minnesota system, are coaching in twenty-one states of the Union, with a total personnel of nearly 200 graduates holding positions in athletic coaching or executive positions.

Minnesota and Michigan are the only two Big Ten colleges with stafs composed nearly entirely of alumni. The Gophers also have prominence in this section through supplying three head coaches to the conference—Bierman of Minnesota, Solem of Iowa, and Shaughnessy of Chicago.

Yet we had not thought of Minnesota in particular as a college developing directing football heads. So we started to look through the list of colleges deemed worthy of mention in Spalding's guide for origin of their coaches. As expected, pupils of Knute Rockne at Notre Dame led the list, with Illinois second and Springfield, Mass., third.

What really surprised us, however, was the large number of different colleges represented in the coaching field. We became interested in the subject. What started as a fifteen minute hasty survey developed into a four hour tabulation.

Would you believe that we found alumni of more than 200 educational institutions as head coaches of some college with pretension to athletic ranking? If all minor institutions were included the number undoubtedly would be larger. If subordinate coaching positions were included it would be still larger. Which shows, if it shows anything, that origin of coaching genius is not confined to any one particular college.

In the appended list only head coaches are included:

Notre Dame, 34; Illinois, 19; Springfield, 17; Minnesota, 13; Nebraska, 10; Chicago [including two sons of A. A. Stagg], 8; Pittsburgh, 8; Missouri, 8; Vanderbilt, 8; Stanford, 8; Iowa, 7; Army, 7; Ohio State, 7; Purdue, 6; Syracuse, 6; Wisconsin, 6; West Virginia, 6; Colgate, 6; Alabama, 6; St. Olaf, 5; Oregon, 5; Washington State, 5; Carleton, 5; Wabash, 5; Georgia, 5; Yale, 5; Washington and Jefferson, 5.

And here's a summary of colleges producing one or more head coaches: Four each, 9; three each, 24; two each, 47; one each, 128.

Granddad Speaks.

When I was just a little feller out in Ioway
Long before your ma or pa was born,
I used to dream of Santa Claus, as children do today,
I always hung my stocking on the footboard of the bed—
We never had a Christmas tree, you know,
All hung with pretty ornaments and jolly colored lights—
We lived too far away from where they grow.
I never found an air-o-plane or big red fire truck
Or 'lectric train—they weren't dreamed of then;
A stocking filled with fruits and nuts, a nice warm pair of socks;
If I found those I thought I was in luck.
Old Santa comes around each year, just as he came to us,
To bring to children happiness and joy,
And his pack is running over with good things for you all—
I wish I was a little girl or boy.

Do You Remember 'Way Back When:

At Easter time mother colored eggs for us children by wrapping them in pieces of calico and gingham cloth and boiling them, thereby transferring to the eggs the designs and colors in the cloth, and they then were called "rabbits' eggs" ['80s]?—U. A. Leiter, Rockford, Ill.

LANTZ IS NAMED ATHLETIC CHIEF OF LITTLE 19

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Charles P. Lantz, athletic director and baseball coach at Eastern Teachers' college of Charleston, has been named acting commissioner of the Little Nineteen conference, it was announced today. William T. Harmon of St. Charles, commissioner the past four years, has been seriously ill with pneumonia. Mr. Lantz recently completed 25 years of service at Eastern Teachers'.

3 Plaques for Baseball Hall of Fame Ready

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—With the delivery of the first three plaques commemorating the services and high skill of Christy Mathewson, Hans Wagner, and Walter Johnson, the baseball hall of fame designed for Cooperstown, N. Y., today began to take form. The three bronze castings, with portraits in bas relief, were received by Ford Frick, who in a few days will send them to the major league pantheon, hard by the field on which Abner Doubleday invented the game in 1839.

Ruth, Cobb in Hall.

Two more stars of the past—Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb—have been voted into the hall, but their plaques have not yet been cast.

The Matty citation is worded as follows—"Christy Mathewson, New York, N. Y., 1900-1916; Cincinnati, 1911. Born Factoryville, Pa., Aug. 12, 1880.

"Greatest of all the great pitchers in the twentieth century's first quarter. Pitched three shutouts in 1905 world series. First pitcher of the century ever to win 30 games in three successive years. Won 37 games in 1908. Matty was master of them all."

Here's Johnson Citation.

The citation to Walter Johnson is declared to be inadequate and should be recast. It follows:

"Walter Perry Johnson, Washington, 1907-'27. Conceded to be fastest ball pitcher in history of game. Won 414 games with losing team behind him many years. Holder of strikeout and shutout records."

The Wagner plaque reads thus: "Honus Wagner, Louisville, N. L., 1897-'99. Pittsburgh, N. L., 1900-'17. The greatest shortstop in baseball history. Born Carnegie, Pa., Feb. 24, 1874. Known to fame as Honus, Hans and the Flying Dutchman. Retired in 1917, having scored more runs, made more hits and stolen more bases than any other player in the history of this league."

C. N. BARNARD, 86, HORSE BREEDER, OWNER, IS DEAD

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—C. Norman Barnard, former race track owner, norse breeder, and judge of harness races, died at midnight last night at the Friends boarding home in Kennett Square, west of this city. He was 86 years old.

Horses, more specifically harness race horses, had been Mr. Barnard's chief interest in life since his early boyhood. Born on a farm north of Avondale, Chester county, he was the son of Quaker parents and was educated in Friends' schools.

Mr. Barnard built a race track on the family farm and engaged seriously in the business of raising harness racers and conducting racing meets. Although he bred a number of good horses, his favorite, with which he won many ribbons, was Warcliff.

AMATEURS WILL FEATURE BOXING SHOWS TONIGHT

Aurora, Kankakee Boys Seen on West Side.

Amateur boxers from Aurora and Kankakee will appear in four of seven bouts scheduled tonight at the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. Verle Davis, Kankakee lightweight, is paired with Harry Peck, Aurora, and George Dion, Kankakee welterweight, will clash with Clyde Davis in two contests at five rounds. Matches at three rounds include those between Gil Longton, Kankakee bantamweight, and Bill Cooper, Savoy Athletic club, and Walt Millon, Kankakee 135 pounder, and Eu Eulian.

Other amateur cards tonight will be presented at Armour Square, 33d street and Shield avenue, and Northwest arena, 4700 Irving Park boulevard. Officials at Armour Square will include Freddy Caserio, former Golden Gloves champion; Marin Plestina, the old claimant of the heavyweight wrestling championship, and Ralph Mendoza and Frankie Sikora, ex-professional boxers.

Paul Williams, south side heavyweight, whose unexpected conquest of Paul Adlis Monday created somewhat of a stir, will be Bernie Bowman's opponent in a four round supporting match to the eight round main event between Johnny Erjavec and Art Oliver at Marigold Gardens next Monday. Johnny Filazola, Paterson, N. J., lightweight, will make his Chicago debut against Bobby Juhrend of Deerfield in one of four supplementary encounters. . . . Bill Weidner and Frankie Hart have been matched to meet in a return bout in the windup of the wrestling show at White City Monday. A previous meeting ended in a draw after 60 minutes. Mike Kilonis and Jack [Bad Boy] Brown are matched in the semi-final.

Rules governing the fifth annual amateur boxing show at the Illinois Athletic club next month were announced yesterday by Athletic Director Johnny Behr. Preliminary contests, set for Jan. 12, and quarter-final and semi-final scraps, scheduled Jan. 13, will be three rounds at two minutes, while the championship encounters on Jan. 20 are booked for three sessions at three minutes. Eight ounce gloves will be used by participants in the flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight, lightweight, and welterweight divisions. Ten ouncers will be the rule in the middleweight, light heavyweight, and heavyweight classes. . . . Oscar Rankin, Pacific coast light heavyweight, yesterday accepted a ten round topliner against Al Gainer of New Haven, Conn., at Pittsburgh Christmas afternoon. . . . Nango Singh and Oki Shikina are expected to meet in Promoter Fred Kohler's feature mat match at Rainbo Fronton next Wednesday night. F. M.

SWORDSMEN TO EXHIBIT FOIL SKILL TONIGHT

The best fencers of the Chicago area, including a world and several U. S. district champions, will compete with foil, epee, sabre and broadsword tonight at the Lake Shore Athletic club, under the auspices of the Amateur Fencing League of America.

Exhibitions will be given by Jake Kraft, world's champion with the eight pound broadsword; Marjorie Kumler, Pacific coast women's foil champion; Campbell Wilson, midwest foil titleholder, Harry Gilles, midwest epee champion, and Crystal Diete, Chicago feminine foil champion.

SEABISCUIT 6-1 CHOICE TO WIN $100,000 STAKE

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Charles Burke, St. Louis betting commissioner, today announced that Seabiscuit rules as favorite in his future book on the Santa Anita $100,000 handicap, which will be run on Feb. 27. Seabiscuit is quoted at 6 to 1. Roman Soldier and Rosemont are 8 to 1, while Time Supply and Mr. Bones are 10 to 1. Indian Broom, third in last year's event, and King Saxon are 12 to 1, and Azucar, winner of the race in 1934, is 15 to 1.

Majors Will Test Various Types of Ball

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 17.—Ford Frick, president of the National league, said today that while there would be no change in the ball for major league pennant competition in 1937, all sixteen clubs would hit against new types of lether in their training and in spring exhibition games.

No Distinction in 1938.

Frick also divulged the fact that beginning with 1938 there will be no distinction between the official baseball of one league and that of the other circuit, even as regards the stamping on the cover. From that season on the ball will carry the legend "Official Major League Ball." This is calculated to remove from the minds of players and fans the suspicion that there is an actual difference between the official baseballs used in the two circuits.

From consideration of the ball, Frick shifted to discussion of those who pitch the ball and, naturally, to Dizzy Dean. The president of the league laughingly voiced the suspicion that Dean already had signed his contract for 1937. "Mind, I do not say that the contract has come through this office—it is just a wild hunch," said Frick.

Two Broadcasts Weekly.

Frick made an interesting disclosure which touches on the Dean contract situation. Ford said that when, in February, 1935, Dean made a speech at the baseball writers' dinner here and vowed Sam Breadon would have to pay him plenty or he would not sign, the hurler's legally attested contract already had been promulgated by the National league office.

Picking up a lot of loose ends from the meetings here last week, Frick said the National league was proceeding with its College of the Air. It will have two broadcasts weekly in each of its eight cities and will use players, managers, umpires, and writers in explaining strategy, method of play, and knotty points in the rules and dramatizing the game over the air.

Contract Clause Sidetracked.

The plan to insert a clause in each player's contract which would make him subject to call for talks and all other missionary work deemed reasonable by the league president, has been sidetracked, but each club will reach that understanding with its own players.

Owner, Miss A. Doris. Trainer, H. L. Campbell. Went to post at 2:25. Off at 2:25½. Start good. Won ridden out, place driving.

ZEVANAID broke alertly, was sent into a long lead, showed good speed but was tiring at end and boy drove her hard to stall off the determined bid of DIXIE PRINCESS. Latter, on the outside, finished very fast. CHARACTER followed pace for half a mile, then tired. He is sure to improve. GLADESS ran an impressive race. AMERICAN BELLE had no mishap. KAWAGOE improving.

Time, 1:46. Two dollar mutuels paid: Strategist II., $3.80 straight, $2.80 place, $2.30 show; Wise Will, $6.30 place, $3.50 show; Hazy Autumn, $6.00 show. Winner, b. g., 4, by Stratford-Vizcaya. Owner Mrs. E. D. Jacobs. Trainer, H. Jacobs.

STRATEGIST II. much the best. He assumed command turning out of backstretch and won nicely in hand. WISE WILL, well up all the way, was next best. HAZY AUTUMN was a stout contender for entire trip. KNIGHTS FANCY had no mishap.

SIXTH RACE—One mile. Three year olds and up. Purse $700. Net value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, 1:41. Two dollar mutuels paid: Galloping, $13.30 straight, $6.00 place, $3.60 show; Roberta, $6.00 place, $3.80 show; Peaceful, $3.40 show. Winner, b. f., 3, by Galetian-Hester R. Owner, T. S. and J. S. Mulvihill. Trainer, G. Gould.

GALLOPING broke good, was eased back off the early pace, moved up gamely around turn and held on well. ROBERTA was hustled along from the start and made a game effort. PEACEFUL showed big improvement over recent effort. LANGUOROUS was sent to the front in run down back stretch and stopped badly.

SEVENTH RACE—Mile and one-eighth. Three year olds and up. Purse $700. Net value to winner, $525; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, 1:53 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Top High, $5.40 straight, $3.20 place, $3.10 show; Pay Rack, $4.00 place, $3.20 show; Continuity, $12.70 show. Winner, b. g., 5, by Sun Briar-On Tap. Owner, W. N. Adrians. Trainer, H. Jacobs.

TOP HIGH was allowed to gallop along back of the field, worked his way up on inside in run down back stretch, then was taken to the outside and, finishing fast, got up to win the photo decision. PAY RACK was used up racing CONTINUITY into defeat and tired at end. CONTINUITY had plenty of speed and ran a fair race. TREASURE SHIP closed a big gap. THE SINGER had no excuse.

GOOD DAME broke very fast, was sent right to front and rated along, held on well in drive. BLACK RIVER got away well in motion, showed good speed and made a game effort. FAIR TIME moved up very fast around turn. MILLIMETER came from far back and was a fast going fourth.

URGES HUNTERS USE 12 GAUGE GUNS ON CROWS

Long Range Shooting Is Necessary to Kill.

BY BOB BECKER.

Sportsmen going after crows during the winter months will do well to use at least a 12 gauge gun shooting shells loaded with No. 4, 5, or 6 shot because winter crow hunting is apt to mean more long range shooting than during the months of April, May, and June when the birds can be brought close by decoys and crow calls. This winter we are even going to try our luck at bagging some of the warier birds with a 10 gauge shotgun.

There is a lot of difference between hunting crows at this season of the year and in the spring when birds are nesting and may easily be excited by a crow caller and decoyed within easy shooting range. In the spring the foliage is thick, providing a good screen for the shooter, thus giving one a distinct advantage.

Crows Are Canny Pests.

At this season the birds can see you quite a distance, they flock together, often flying quite a distance to feed in fields during the day and come into a roost at night, making the hunting setup quite different.

One winter afternoon we had our best luck by getting on a flight line of a comparatively small flock going to the night roost. But the smart crows didn't let that go on very long. They changed their flight line the next night.

As an example of the wariness of crows and how they learn to avoid danger, Pete Erio, chief inspector of the Illinois department of conservation, reports that downstate some of the birds which had been bombed on their roost and escaped the blast of shot shied away from the dynamite cartridges placed in hedges for the next big kill. This illustrates how even the most successful method of killing crows has its problems because the birds are so wary.

Are Thick Downstate.

Concentrations of crows in northern Illinois at this season are small compared to the thousands on roosts in the southern half of the state. There is more food down there, so the wise crows use the southern half of the state for their winter resort. The department estimates that some of these roosts are occupied by as high as 50,000 or 75,000 birds. The state does not want sportsmen to disturb these big roosts. It wants to attack such a large number of birds with its new type of small cannon loaded with 1½ pounds of shot, so that, instead of a few hundred birds being killed by shotguns in the hands of sportsmen, 5,000, 10,000, or even 20,000 may be wiped out by one big blast.

Asks Sportsmen's Aid.

If sportsmen in Chicagoland know of any roosts we would like to be advised of their location. Please address this department giving details. Most of these nearby bird concentrations are so small that they can be taken care of by hunters with shotguns. But the big ones downstate need a cannon attack for the most effective work, with hunters and shotguns acting as a cleanup squad immediately following the shot volleys from the small cannon.

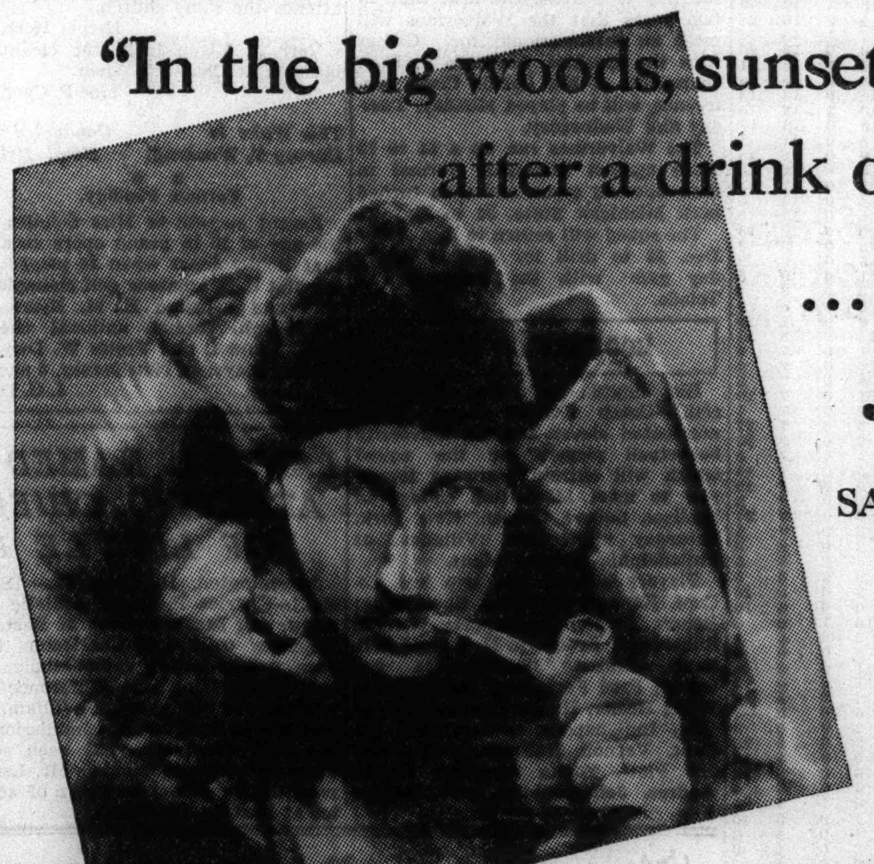
SAYS HAROLD McCRACKEN



Who's Who says Harold McCracken is an authority on Alaskan Brown Bear. He ought to be: he had killed 13 Kodiak Grizzlies before he was 22. He has led four major expeditions to Arctic regions. Author of numerous books on big game hunting, his latest is "Beyond the Frozen Frontier."

Drawing made from photo of McCracken and bear he shot several years ago, one of the largest ever killed by a hunter 1600 lbs., 11'4" nose to tail.

"The hardship and fatigue of hunting in the north woods make whiskey a tonic—even a necessity. John Jameson may or may not be the best whiskey in the world—anyway it's the best I know of", he adds.

This is why John Jameson is a favorite with sportsmen all over the world: it's made of barley, wheat and oats and nothing else whatever but water and time. It's made by the traditional pot still method which we've used for 150 years because we think it's the best way to make whiskey. It's aged 7 years in wood and never "hurried" by so much as a day. Then older John Jameson whiskies are added to perfect the flavor. It's a hearty, honest, straightforward whiskey. Try it tonight in an Old Fashioned.

ROBERT GRAFTON, NOTED PORTRAIT PAINTER, IS DEAD

Artist Succumbs at 59 in Michigan City Home.

Robert Wadsworth Grafton, well known portrait painter, died suddenly in his home in Michigan City, Ind., yesterday. He would have been 60 years old tomorrow. Mr. Grafton suffered a partial breakdown about a week ago upon completion of a commission to paint 225 portraits and murals in the new quarters of the Saddle and Sirloin club, built on the site of the old club which was destroyed in the stockyards fire on May 19, 1934.

His physician prescribed complete rest, but on Wednesday, impatient at his inactivity, Mr. Grafton attended to business affairs. He was seized with a heart attack early yesterday and died before aid could reach him.

Financed Tour by Sketches.

Born in humble circumstances in Chicago, Mr. Grafton attended the public schools here, and took a course at the Art institute. He earned money by selling crayon sketches to finance a European tour.

In 1908 he and another Chicago artist, Wilson Irvine, gave Michigan City its first art exhibit, held in the public library. There Mr. Grafton met an assistant librarian, Miss Elinda M. Opperman, whom he married the same year. She died of pneumonia last year, after which the artist, always an insatiable worker, devoted himself even more intensely to his painting.

Painted Prominent Persons.

Murals and portraits in numerous public buildings testify to the high reputation Mr. Grafton achieved in his life work. Among those who sat for his portraits were Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, and the governors of several states. His murals adorn museums and other buildings throughout the country. At the time of his death Mr. Grafton was at work on a mural for the Culver Military academy.

A daughter, Elina Patricia, 15 years old, a junior in the Michigan City High school, survives. Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow in the home at East Coolspring and Tilden avenue, in Michigan City, with the Rev. Earl Ray Hart, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, officiating. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery there.

TESTS STARTED TO CURB T. B. IN SCHOOL PUPILS

Tests to discover tuberculosis among Chicago's school children are under way, and it is hoped that eventually every school child will be examined, Dr. Frederick Tice, president of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium, announced yesterday.

Of the 1,522 children examined during the first two weeks of the drive to detect the disease in its earliest and most easily curable stage, 235 were found to be tubercular, Dr. Tice said. He emphasized that the tests are given only with the written consent of parents.

Dr. Tice said that during the first eleven months of 1936 the stnitarium at 5601 North Pulaski road has had 1,631 patients. This is 105 more than the total for all of 1935, he said.

CHARLES BOCKUS DIES; EX-OFFICIAL OF STUDEBAKER

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—Charles L. Bockus, 68, for the last twenty years affiliated with the Studebaker corporation, today fell dead in the First Trust and Savings bank in Detroit, Mich., according to word received here.

Mr. Bockus, until his retirement a few weeks ago, was production superintendent of the chassis division of the auto plant here. Prior to the recent reorganization of the company, Mr. Bockus was on the board of directors. He went to Detroit a few weeks ago to consult physicians.

He was born in Mystic, Quebec, Canada, and had resided in this city since 1915.

Edw. L. Du Bois Dies at 72; Prominent in Libertyville

Edward L. Du Bois, 72 years old, died yesterday in his home at 207 East Church street, Libertyville. He had lived in the village for 64 years and was a former member of the village board of trustees and the board of education. He was office manager of the William A. Pope company, a heating equipment concern at 26 North Jefferson street. Surviving are two daughters. The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Masonic temple at Libertyville, with burial in Lakeside cemetery.

3 CHARITIES HERE TO GET $325,000 BY O'BRIEN WILL

List Assets of Racing Man's Widow.

Mrs. Ernestine O'Brien, widow of T. W. [Chicago] O'Brien, owner and breeder of race horses, directed in her will that her $325,000 estate eventually shall go to three Chicago charities. This was revealed yesterday when an inventory was filed in the Probate court.

Mrs. O'Brien, who was 55 years old, was killed in a plunge from a window of her apartment on the 20th floor at 10 Park avenue in New York on Jan. 26, 1935. Her will, originally filed for probate in New York, was recently transferred here.

In Trust for Daughters.

Her will directs that the estate be placed in trust for two daughters, Mrs. Virginia McShane and Mrs. Marjorie Peterson, both of New York City, and two nieces, Muriel and Jean Schwartz of Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Upon the death of the beneficiaries their shares of the principal will be divided among the Chicago charities. These are the St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, the Crippled Children's home, and the Chicago Memorial hospital.

Assets listed in the inventory include stocks valued at $233,657 and real estate at 900 Grace street, Chicago, and in Iowa, Oklahoma, Montana, Minnesota, and North Dakota. Among the personal effects are a ring valued at $3,700 and a $3,500 bracelet.

$350,000 to Crane Widow.

Probate Judge John F. O'Connell yesterday approved an amended widow's award of $350,000 to Mrs. Florence H. Crane, 1550 Lake Shore drive, from the $35,000,000 estate of her husband, the late Richard T. Crane Jr. Mr. Crane, president of the Crane company, died in 1931.

The award was fixed at $135,000 when the will was probated in 1932, when the value of the estate was estimated at $5,000,000. The tremendous rise in the value of the estate was due chiefly to the increase in the market price of 986,141 shares of Crane company common stock and 4,936 shares of the company's preferred stock, which the executors held virtually intact throughout the depression.

Judge O'Connell also approved the payment of $18,846 to Axel Johnson and $6,458 to E. LaBarre, in accordance with the terms of Mr. Crane's will. Johnson and LaBarre are among the 5,907 former employés of Mr. Crane to whom a total of $3,080,700 in stock has been distributed under provisions of the will.

J. G. Alexander Estate $65,000.

A petition for probate of the will of James G. Alexander, 1230 North Waukegan road, Lake Forest, was filed yesterday in the Probate court in Waukegan. The will listed $60,000 worth of Florida and Iowa real estate and $5,000 in personal property. Mr. Alexander's widow, Winifred, and his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Babcock, are named beneficiaries. Mr. Alexander was an investment broker. He died Dec. 5.

JOHN W. TROEGER, 87, DIES; FORMER EDUCATOR HERE

John Winthrop Troeger, 87 years old, well known educator who retired in 1926 after serving for 33 years as principal of the Irving school, died yesterday of a heart ailment in Sebring, Fla., according to word received here. His home was in La Grange.

Born near Oswego, Ill., Mr. Troeger was graduated from the North Central college of Naperville. For several years he taught in district schools in Clayton county, Ia., and La Salle county, Ill. From 1876 to 1879 he was principal of the Paw Paw, Ill., Classica seminary. Later he served as superintendent of schools in Blue Island and Hinsdale.

Mr. Troeger came to the Irving school in 1893 and was there until he retired under the emeritus service regulation. He wrote several books on arithmetic and nature study. He was a member of the Art institute, the Chicago Principals' club, and the George Howland club. Surviving are his widow, and two daughters. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Congregational church in La Grange.

Mrs. Cameron Ziegler Dies After Fall in Home

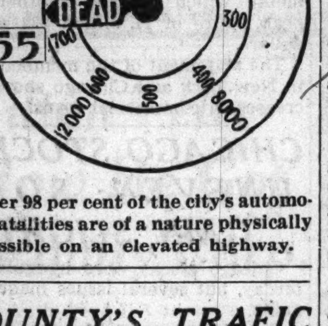
Mrs. Cameron Ziegler, 77 years old, 7116 South Halsted street, a resident of Chicago for the last 40 years, died yesterday in the Englewood hospital of injuries incurred in a fall on Dec. 8 in her home. Her husband, Samuel, died eight years ago, and since then she and her two sons, Walter and Claude, operated a newspaper and magazine agency in their home.

Widow of Louis Spreckels, Sugar Refiner, Dead at 57

Yonkers, N. Y., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Daley Spreckels, 57, widow of Louis Spreckels, widely known in the sugar refining industry, died today. Spreckels, formerly general manager of the Federal Sugar company refinery in Yonkers—which later became the Spreckels Sugar corporation—died seven years ago.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

COUNTY'S TRAFIC TOLL IN 1936 OVER THOUSAND MARK

The number of persons killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1 passed the one thousand mark yesterday. Up to 4 p. m. 1,006 persons had lost their lives in trafic accidents in the county. Of these 755 were killed in Chicago. In the same period 18,896 were injured in trafic accidents in the city.

The trafic toll so far this year is a marked increase over the same period last year when 968 persons were killed in the county, including 753 in Chicago. The year's toll in the county for 1935 was 1,001, of whom 787 were killed in Chicago.

Mrs. Madalene Lundberg, 25 years old, 6224 Ingleside avenue, died yesterday in an ambulance while being taken to Passavant hospital from Galesburg, Ill., where she was injured in an automobile accident two weeks ago.

Melvin Sheldon, 26 years old, 406 North 2d avenue, Maywood, was injured seriously last evening when he was struck by the automobile of a hit and run driver at Lake street and 5th avenue in Maywood. He was taken to the West Lake hospital in Melrose Park.

A coroner's jury ordered John Heslop, 20 years old, 3947 Center street, Lyons, held to the grand jury for manslaughter at an inquest yesterday into the death of John Kiupera, 37 years old, 5134 South Tripp avenue. Kiupera was killed on Dec. 10 when he was struck by Heslop's car at Archer and Tripp avenues.

DR. C. L. HOFFMAN DIES; PHYSICIAN HERE FOR 15 YRS.

Dr. Coleman L. Hoffman, 53 Washington boulevard, Oak Park, died yesterday in the West Suburban hospital after a brief illness. He was 58 years old. Dr. Hoffman was born in Steward, Lee county, and was graduated from Iowa State university in 1903. He practiced medicine in Galena, Jo Daviess county, until fifteen years ago, when he came to Chicago. For the last twelve years he had lived in Oak Park. Surviving are his wife, Carrie, and his mother, Mrs. Rose M. Hoffman of Beloit, Wis. The Oak Park chapter of the Spanish War Veterans will hold memorial services at 8 o'clock tonight in the chapel at 124 Madison street, Oak Park. Burial will be in Galena, where services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday.

FERRY TERMINAL LEASE OFFERED BY ST. JOSEPH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Joseph, Mich., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—This city is prepared to give a performance lease of five acres of municipal property on the harbor as a terminal for the proposed automobile and truck ferry across Lake Michigan to Chicago. The western terminal in Chicago is ready for operation. It is the Navy Pier with its Grand avenue approach under Lake shore drive connecting with the lower level of Michigan avenue and Wacker drive.

John G. Cox, managing secretary of the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor port commission, said that the city, on recommendation of the commission, has drafted the lease and also a one year option on the lease, awaiting the signature of some responsible party of the second part to undertake the enterprise.

Rental Set At $1 a Year.

The terms of the lease provide for a rental of $1 a year for an indeterminate period. They also call for certain performances by the leasee. A dock, offices and truck storage facilities, estimated to cost $100,000, must be built. And a ferry service of public convenience must be operated.

The location of the property can be described to those familiar with the local geography by saying that it is just above the coast guard station and the naval reserve station. It is below the Pere Marquette railroad bridge over the St. Joseph river. There is no bridge between the proposed ferry terminal and open water.

The acreage, now an unoccupied, sandy lot, is conveniently located for its contemplated use. Existing pavements, while not the best, connect with main highways. The factories of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor are nearby. And the site fits with plans for future highway improvements.

Mr. Cox, who is also secretary of the St. Joseph Chamber of Commerce foresees the development of this community as a great shipping center with the establishment of a ferry service with Chicago.

La Salle's Plan Recalled.

Rene Robert Cavalier de la Salle had a similar vision when he built Fort Miamis here in 1676. Ships were to load here with freight, mainly furs, brought by canoe down the St. Joseph river with its connection with the Mississippi via the portage with the Kankakee river at South Bend.

Today trucks and not canoes are hauling from the inland. State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner yesterday at Lansing estimated there is a trafic of 1,859 truck trips daily between Michigan and northern Illinois, making the haul around the foot of Lake Michigan at approximately twice the cost to ferry the freight in trailers. Marine experts estimate a ferry could operate profitably if it took a fifth of this interstate freight business from the highways.

DR. MOSCKOWITZ, EX-CITY OFFICIAL IN NEW YORK, DIES

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Dr. Henry Mosckowitz, 57, former municipal official and husband of the late Belle Mosckowitz, for fourteen years secretary to former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, died at his home here today.

Dr. Mosckowitz, who had been chairman of the municipal civil service commission and commissioner of public markets, was born in Rumania.

BRIG. GEN. GUINEY, VETERAN OF THREE CAMPAIGNS, IS DEAD

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Patrick W. Guiney, 59, assistant army quartermaster general, died today at Walter Reed General hospital. He was a veteran of 41 years of army service. He took part in the expedition against the Boxers in China, the campaign to quell the Philippine insurrection and in the world war. He held decorations for gallantry in all three campaigns.

Guiney was made assistant to the quartermaster general in 1933. He was born in Fall River, Mass.

R. W. TROWBRIDGE FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Raymond W. Trowbridge, an architectural photographer at 737 North Michigan avenue, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the chapel at 5107 North Clark street. Mr. Trowbridge died Wednesday at the age of 50 in Passavant hospital.

Born in Seneca, Ill., Mr. Trowbridge came to Chicago in 1908 and worked as an architect until 1923. Then failing health demanded a less sedentary occupation, and he turned to photography, which had been his hobby. He was a contributor to various salons since 1918. His work took the first prize of the Photographers' Association of America in both 1927 and 1928. In the latter year his prize picture was a well known photograph of Tribune tower, seen from the south bank of the Chicago river. Recently he was made a life associate of the Pittsburgh salon of photographic art.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Christine S. Trowbridge of 1458 Argyle street, with whom he lived.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 17.—United States government obligations suffered a sharp reaction today. In the heaviest trading since Nov. 20—transactions reaching $2,612,600—the federal loans declined 2-32ds to 11-32ds point. Both the guaranteed and direct obligations participated in the downward movement, and the new treasury 2½s dipped to the lowest level since their issuance, touching 100 26-32ds.

Growing apprehension over the effect of the proposed lifting of bank reserve requirements early next year was the market influence.

General Trade Heavy.

Trading in all classes of bonds was the heaviest since Oct. 9, and with the exception of the persistent strength in selected South American loans, the activity was at the expense of prices. The heaviest losers in the domestic list were the industrial convertible and secondary issues which were most prominent in the recent upswing. There were exceptions to the trend, notably by Bush Terminal bonds, which rose 4½ to 4¾ points, and certain secondary rail liens.

Weak spots included Allis-Chalmers 4s, American Type Founders 2½s-5s, Central Foundary 6s, Chesapeake corporation 5s, and International Cement 4s, all of which yielded 3 to 5½ points.

Secondary Rails Active.

A brisk demand developed in a few of the secondary railroad bonds, however, particularly in New Haven and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul issues. Symington Gould convertible 4s continued their rapid rise, adding 8⅛ to 10⅛ points.

Many of the South American dollar bonds which have been in demand almost since the beginning of the Pan-American peace conference showed further improvement. Uruguay 8s rose 3⅛ points, and further gains were recorded in the issues of Buenos Aires, Brazil, and Chile.

American Public Service.

Investors' Guide: Please give me all available information on American Public Service preferred stock.—W. E. S.

Answer: American Public Service company is a holding company whose subsidiaries provide utility services in 159 western and central Texas communities. It is controled by Central and Southwest Utilities company, subsidiary of Middle West corporation through ownership of practically all of the 96,434 shares of $100 par common stock outstanding. Other capitalization consists of 79,746 shares of 7 per cent $100 par cumulative preferred stock and $24,000,000 of subsidiary funded debt.

Lower interest charges and operating economies have combined with increased revenues in the last two years to place the company on a profitable basis at present.

Operating revenues were $3,645,000 and net income was $255,000, or 61 per cent of preferred dividend requirements in the first nine months of 1936, compared with $3,306,000 revenues and loss of $5,600 in the corresponding 1935 period. In the three months ended Sept. 30, 1936, net income was $209,000, equal to 1½ times preferred requirements and 72 cents per common share.

In 1935 operating revenues of $4,474,000 were practically the same as in 1934, but net income rose to $110,000, or 66 cents per preferred share. Net income was $47,000 in 1934, $43,000 in 1933, $194,000 in 1932, dividend requirements not having been covered since 1931.

Improvement in earnings was recognized with resumption of preferred dividends by payment of $1.25 a share Dec. 9, 1936. It was the first payment since April 1, 1932.

Current assets were $2,982,000, and current liabilities were $1,033,000 at the end of 1935. The balance sheet deficit was reduced slightly to $1,679,000.

Receiving Dividends.

Investors' Guide: Do stocks purchased after date voted and before date of record participate in the dividends voted? Does this apply to all stocks?—J. K.

Answer: The answers are yes, except that it is necessary to purchase stocks two or three days in advance of the record date to have your name appear on the books of that date and be eligible for the dividend.

RESERVE SHOWS MORE MONEY PUT IN CIRCULATION

The outpouring of cash in the form of dividends, year-end wage bonuses, and expenditures for holiday merchandise brought a sharp contraction in bank reserves and a further expansion in currency circulation last week, the federal reserve board reported yesterday in its weekly bank condition statement.

At the close of business Wednesday evening there was 55 million dollars more currency outstanding than a week earlier, the statement showed. The current total of 6 billion 375 million is the largest since the banking moratorium of 1933, when extensive hoarding had caused an abnormal expansion.

The board estimated idle reserves of the member banks of the system at 2 billion 50 million dollars, or 110 millions less than a week earlier. The seasonal demands for currency more than offset the continued gain in the nation's gold supply. Newly mined gold and receipts from abroad added 16 millions to the supply of monetary metal, which reached another new peak figure of 11 billion 222 million dollars.

CHICAGO STOCKS UNEVEN; SOME GAIN SLIGHTLY

Chicago stocks were irregular yesterday, but several issues made sharp gains.

Five issues set 1936 peaks, including Commonwealth Edison, up 2 points; Public Service of Illinois no par, up 3; Central and South West Utilities prior lien preferred, up 2¼; National Gypsum, up ½, and Deep Rock Oil preferred, 4¼ higher.

Other sharp gains included 3½ points in Central and South West preferred, and 2¼ in Iron Fireman at 24¾. Zenith Radio dropped 2 points. Northwest Bancorporation stock attracted the heaviest trading, 7,900 shares, closing ¾ points higher, at 13¼.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

A Half-Moon Fence.

December 17, 1936.

Visitors who have ventured over the slick roads to the Tribune's Yorkville Experimental farm during the last week have been given a demonstration in how to build a fence shaped like a half-moon. A crew of men are building the fence along the west side of the farm on a hairpin turn just north of the Plano bridge over the Fox river.

In building this fence, about 1,300 feet long, the manager of the farm found it necessary to use double anchors on nine large posts, 9 feet long and 8 inches in diameter, set 4½ feet deep, to prevent the fence from leaning after the frost leaves the ground in the spring.

The anchors are made of 2 by 6 inch material 14 inches long. They are fastened to the posts with bolts. One anchor is used at the bottom of the post and the other immediately below the surface of the ground.

Eight other posts, 6 inches in diameter, are set between the larger anchored posts. Small steel posts are then set ten feet apart between the larger posts. Experience has demonstrated to men on the farm that posts set in this way will support a crescent shaped woven wire fence. The woven wire is 39 inches high with 6 inch meshes which will turn horses, cattle, sheep and hogs, including lambs and small pigs.

Young Pigs Need Care.

Woven wire fences will be needed at the Yorkville farm to keep under control the pigs that are to be farrowed next spring. The manager is breeding ninety sows and gilts that will farrow next March and April.

A bunch of young pigs, ranging in age from 5 to 8 weeks old, requires extra attention in the cold weather. During the recent cold snap the Yorkville farm manager found it necessary to lock the pigs in a barn and change their bedding about every other day to keep them dry and warm. He is using oat straw for bedding.

Ensilage Is Frozen.

When the thermometers went below zero at the Yorkville farm recently the silage was frozen around the edge of the three silos. The cold penetrated even the thick wall of the big eighty foot concrete silo which is now supplying feed to the steers. From now on the workers will dig the silage out in such a way that it will be left low around the edges. Thus, by leaving the silage cone shaped on top the men have less trouble with frozen chunks around the edges.

NEW RISE IN RYE HINTS CORNER OF WINNIPEG MART

Report U. S. Traders Want Delivery.

Rye again furnished the feature of the grain markets yesterday. For the second consecutive day rye futures at Winnipeg advanced 5 cents a bushel, the maximum permitted under exchange regulations, and trade reports suggested American interests had "cornered" December contracts in the Canadian market. The latter option closed at $1.05⅛ a bushel.

Closing trades on rye futures in Chicago were 1½ to 3 cents higher with the December delivery at $1.15½ a bushel. The Duluth price advanced 5 cents, the permissible limit.

About 1,000,000 bushels of rye were understood to be involved in the rumored corner in the Winnipeg market. American cash interests are said to desire delivery of the cash grain. Owing to heavy sales of Canadian rye to the United States, supplies of that grain remaining in the former country are understood to have been reduced to a minimum.

Wheat Makes Strong Finish.

Wheat made a tame start and a strong finish yesterday, with old crop contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade closing ⅝ to 1 cent a bushel higher, while the July option declined ¾ cent. Corn was a fraction of a cent higher. Soy beans soared 2½ to 3½ cents a bushel to a new high record, with commission house buying more than offsetting heavy profit taking sales.

World production of wheat for the 1936-'37 season, exclusive of Russia and China, was estimated yesterday by the United States department of agriculture at 3,486,000,000 bushels. This, together with wheat carried over from last season, makes a total supply of 4,233,000,000 bushels, the government statisticians estimated, the smallest in ten years. With normal consumption the world's reserve wheat supply would be cut to about 480,000,000 bushels by July 1, 1937, the smallest since the war years.

	Crop.	Carry-over.	Total Supplies.	Consumption.
1936-'37	3,486	747	4,233	.....
1935-'36	3,554	920	4,503	3,756
1934-'35	3,513	1,167	4,682	3,762
1933-'34	3,809	1,142	4,985	3,818
1932-'33	3,865	1,041	4,921	3,779
1931-'32	3,860	1,054	4,984	3,943
1930-'31	3,847	943	4,902	3,848

Wheat Rises at Winnipeg.

An advance of 1¼ to 2⅜ cents a bushel in Winnipeg wheat futures yesterday to a new high level for the season and reports indicating the broadest milling demand for domestic cash wheat in many weeks were the main influences in strengthening American markets. Chicago shippers reported sales of 200,000 bushels of cash wheat and there were numerous inquiries in the market for additional supplies.

December wheat futures in Winnipeg went to a premium of ½ cent a bushel over the May delivery, compared with a discount of 1¼ cents on Tuesday. With lake navigation closed the strength in the December future was regarded as unusual. Export sales of Canadian cash wheat were placed as high as 1,000,000 bushels, although there was a distinct pause in the European demand for Argentine and Australian grain.

Prices on May Deliveries.

	Yesterday.	Wed.	Wk. ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$1.30⅝	$1.29¾	$1.23⅞	$1.14⅝
Corn	1.04⅛	1.04¼	1.03⅜	.98¾
Oats	.50⅛	.50½	.49	.44
Rye	1.11¾	1.09⅝	.99⅝	.88⅝

Near record exports of grain during the next few months were forecast yesterday by the detailed Argentine government report. It was asserted ocean freight room had been chartered to load approximately 4,000,000 tons of various grains [over 140,000,000 bushels] between now and the end of next March.

Trading in corn and oats futures yesterday was relatively light.

STOCK MARKETS CLOSE SATURDAY AFTER CHRISTMAS

A double holiday over Christmas will be observed by the Chicago Stock exchange, the Chicago Curb exchange, and the stockyards by remaining closed on the Saturday following Christmas day, a survey showed yesterday. The New York Stock and Curb exchanges, as well as smaller markets, will also have a double holiday.

The Chicago Board of Trade and the banks will be closed on Christmas, but will be open on Saturday. No decision has been made yet by the Chicago Mercantile exchange, but the board of governors will meet next week to take action. The Board of Trade's decision to remain open was attributed to the desirability of keeping the exchange open while December contracts are being completed.

California Bank to Retire Another Million Preferred

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 17.—[Special.]—The California bank will pay a million dollar dividend in common stock and will retire one million dollars of preferred stock held by the RFC on Dec. 30, the bank's directors announced today. The bank retired a million of RFC held preferred stock earlier in the year.

Extras Voted by Thompson, Many Others

Additional companies yesterday reported they will pay extra dividends.

J. R. THOMPSON JR.

The John R. Thompson company, national restaurant chain, will pay an extra of 10 cents. John R. Thompson Jr., president, said the extra payment is made possible by increasing earnings.

Votes 50 Cents Extra.

McAndrews & Forbes company announced an extra dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 on the preferred stock.

Allied Mills, Inc., announced it will pay a dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock.

The American Bank Note company voted payment of a dividend of 25 cents a share on the common stock, a year-end dividend of 15 cents on the common, and the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on the preferred stock.

The White-Stokes Company, Inc., Chicago, declared a 4 per cent dividend on the preferred stock.

Directors of the A. Nash company voted a dividend of $1 a share in cash and $1 a share in debentures. The debentures will be redeemed next year.

United Drill on 40 Cent Basis.

Directors of the United Drill and Tool corporation placed the common stock on a 40 cent annual cash dividend basis with an initial semi-annual cash dividend of 20 cents a share. The directors also declared a special dividend of 80 cents a share, payable one-half in series A and one-half in series B dividend notes, maturing respectively June 23, 1937, and June 23, 1938.

The Norwich Pharmacal company will pay 50 cents on the common stock, bringing total payments this year to $2.30 a share.

Directors of the General Outdoor Advertising company voted a dividend of $3 on the first preferred stock, reducing accumulations to $7.50.

The E. W. Bliss company will pay a dividend of $5 on the first preferred stock on account of arrears, reducing accumulations to $14 a share.

Declares $1 Payment.

The Standard National corporation declared a dividend of $1 on the common stock, making a total of $1.50 for the year. The directors voted to offer stockholders the privilege of making tenders to the extent of 2,500 shares of common stock at prices not to exceed $25 a share and to the extent of 600 shares of 7 per cent preferred at not to exceed $90 a share.

The National Cash Register company declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, payable Jan. 15. A dividend of 50 cents a share was paid Dec. 15, making a total of $1 for the present year, compared with 50 cents in 1935.

MacMillan Peteroleum company will pay its first dividend, 35 cents a share, in more than five years.

Superior Portland Cement company will pay $3.30 a share on class A stock, clearing all arrearages in this issue.

AUTO COMPANIES TO BASE PRICES ON 'DELIVERIES'

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—The confusing factory prices customarily quoted for automobiles will be changed immediately in newspaper and national advertising to "delivered" prices at the point of manufacture, Alvan Macauley, president of the Automobile Manufacturers' association, announced today. The association will hold a directors' meeting here tomorrow.

The new policy will not involve a change or increase in the price of the car to the ultimate consumer, but is expected to give him a clearer idea of the total price of the prospective car. The "delivered" price to be quoted will include the charge for delivery, the federal tax item and all standard equipment.

"To determine the retail price at any particular point of delivery" Macauley explained, "it will only be necessary under the new method for the purchaser to add to the advertised delivery price at the factory city the transportation charges from the point of manufacture to the point of delivery and state and local taxes—if any at the last named point."

Mercantile Trust-Savings Adds Profits to Surplus

Directors of the Mercantile Trust and Savings bank of Chicago have authorized the transfer of $100,000 from the undivided profits account to the surplus account, William W. Farrell, president, announced yesterday. This transfer places capital of the bank at $900,000, represented by $600,000 in capital stock and $300,000 in surplus, while undivided profits amount to more than $50,000. Farrell said the bank has enjoyed a satisfactory year.

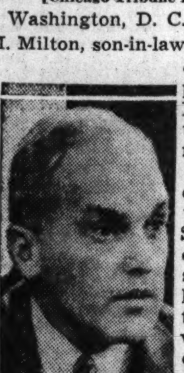
Milton Tells How He Got Equity Corp.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—David M. Milton, son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller Jr. and president of Equity corporation, an investment trust controling 43 smaller companies, told the inquisitive Securities and Exchange commission today how he acquired control through advancing $13,000 in cash and 6,500 shares of inactive insurance stocks.



DAVID M. MILTON.

Milton put the cash and securities into Underwriters' Equity, small investment trust, which sold the insurance stocks to Interstate Equities, a subsidiary of Equity corporation, headed by Wallace Groves, for $900,000. The sale was made on May 19, 1933. A week later Groves sold out his own controling interest in Equity corporation to Milton and his associates for $900,000.

Milton Resents Inferences.

The line of questioning followed by David Schenker, SEC counsel, with its suggestion that Milton and his group had used the public's money to build up control over one company after another piqued the head of Equity corporation. It was apparent that Milton was regarded one of the "vested interests" whom the New Deal dotes upon attacking.

"We made these investments," asserted Milton, referring to the growth of Equity, "not with the idea of gaining a lot of assets but on the assumption they would become valuable. We felt that President Roosevelt had lighted the spark of recovery."

"That sounds funny coming from you, Mr. Milton," said Schenker.

Reports Reduced Expenses.

Milton seized the moment of Schenker's discomfiture to point that under his management Equity had reduced administrative expenses from $1,979,000 in 1932 to about $590,000 for the first nine months of this year.

Schenker drew from Milton an admission that he had put funds of his own and his family in North American Securities corporation, Ltd., a Bahamas Islands corporation, because there was no income tax in the Bahamas.

BIG INDUSTRIES PLAN EXPANSION IN ADVERTISING

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—With a long list of important industries increasing advertising budgets 15 per cent to 25 per cent for 1937, total advertising expenditures for the year may exceed the sharply expanded 1936 figures by more than 15 per cent, the Standard Statistics company reported today.

Preliminary figures for 1936 indicate expenditures were 15 per cent to 20 per cent greater than in 1935 and the best since 1931, the announcement said.

"Newspaper space sales have moved sharply ahead. Aided by steady gains in the retail, classified, and financial advertising divisions, and a marked upturn in automotive space during the final four months, newspapers should close the year with 11 to 12 per cent more linage than was received in 1935.

"For 1937 about 60 per cent of the total automotive advertising is to go to newspapers."

Engineering Construction Awards Fall in Last Week

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Engineering construction awards declined to $39,853,000 in the week ended Tuesday from $59,244,000 a week ago, and $86,817,000 in the like week last year, the Engineering News-Record reported today. In the latest week private awards totaled $22,767,000, compared with $28,863,000 a week ago, and $5,700,000 in the corresponding week of 1935. Public awards totaled $17,086,000, compared with $30,381,000 last week and $81,117,000 in the like week a year ago.

BANK CLEARINGS TOP 7 BILLION MARK FOR THIRD WEEK THIS YEAR

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—For the third time this year bank clearings rose above the $7,000,000,000 mark in the week ended yesterday, Dun & Bradstreet today reported. With the two previous exceptions such a high total has not been reached since October, 1931.

The total for 22 leading cities was placed at $7,235,888,000, compared with $6,256,049,000 in the corresponding period of last year, an increase of 15.7 per cent. This compared with a gain of 17.1 per cent in the preceding week over a year ago.

At New York City the aggregate reached $4,754,951,000, highest since the week ended March 18, and showed a gain of 20.4 per cent over the volume for the preceding week and an upturn of 16.4 per cent over the $4,086,085,000 a year ago.

Clearings of $2,480,937,000 at outside centers were 14.3 per cent ahead of $2,169,964,000 a year ago. Clearings at Chicago totaled $377,200,000, a gain of 19.0 per cent over the $317,000,000 a year ago.

CONFER ON WAYS TO CURB FOREIGN BUYING OF STOCK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt called two of his top flight fiscal advisors to the White House today and the discussion was said to have concentrated on ways of preventing foreign speculators from jamming this nation's economic machinery.

Secretary Morgenthau and Chairman Marriner Eccles of the federal reserve board were the President's callers. Authoritative sources said they gave him preliminary findings in a study of foreign capital movements and their efforts on domestic credit and price structures. The study had been ordered by Mr. Roosevelt with a view to determining what control measures are necessary.

Shortly before the White House conference, the federal reserve board made public a recent talk by Eccles in Boston in which he said that a heavy inflow of foreign funds is an "undesirable" influence on domestic credit and added that there is now no way of preventing it.

ZINC CONTINUES CLIMB; HIGHEST SINCE EARLY '30

New York, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The price of zinc today continued its climb of recent weeks. The open market quotation for second quarter, 1937, delivery rose 0.10 of a cent to 5.55 cents a pound, while immediate and first quarter prices were fixed at 5.45 cents, a gain of the same fraction. Both figures were new peaks since January, 1930.

On the New York Commodity exchange both zinc and lead futures were at the best levels since the metals were admitted to trading in July, 1934.

Crude rubber and rawhide futures again bulged to new tops, the former since October, 1929, and the latter since July, 1933. Copper futures established a record since June, 1931.

World industrial expansion and the laying up of war supplies by Europe still appeared the chief forces behind price trends.

Rock Island Road to Pay 10 Pct. of Defaulted Loan

Trustees of the Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific railroad yesterday were authorized by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to pay $1,666,200 to holders of $11,662,000 of equipment trust certificates. The payment, which represents 10 per cent of the principal of the certificates, defaulted three years ago, will be made on or before Dec. 29.

Chicago Gets Lowest Rate on New Bonds

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Chicago yesterday sold two issues of bonds at the lowest interest rate and at the highest premiums ever received, at least so far as a careful study of the city's records discloses, Controler Robert B. Upham announced yesterday. One issue sold was $6,600,000 city of Chicago refunding bonds and the other issue was $3,000,000 city of Chicago board of education refunding bonds.

The buyers of both issues, which bear 3 per cent coupons, the lowest on record, were groups headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Lehman Brothers, the First Boston corporation, and the Bancamerica Blair corporation.

For the 1937 refunding bonds, the city received a premium of $266,442, and for the 1937 board of education bonds it got a premium of $97,350. The new bonds also replace 4½ and 5 per cent bonds which are being retired.

Tax Exemption Is Feature.

While the low interest rate and the high premiums indicate that the credit of the city of Chicago is in high standing, the good showing also reflects the heavy demand for tax exempt municipal obligations. The city's $6,600,000 of refunding bonds, together with $3,739,000 in cash in the treasury, will be used to retire $10,339,000 in bonds maturing Jan. 1.

The new city bonds will mature Jan. 1, 1957, $2,000,000 being optional Jan. 1, 1939, and Jan. 1, 1940; $1,500,000 Jan. 1, 1941, and $1,100,000 Jan. 1, 1942. The 1939 optional maturity is being offered to yield 1.10 per cent to the first optional date; 1940 to yield 1.30 per cent to the first optional date, 1941 to yield 1.50 per cent to the first optional date, and 1942 to yield 1.75 per cent to the first optional date, with 3 per cent thereafter in each insance.

School Board Bonds Offered.

The school board bonds, together with $2,500,000 in the treasury, will be used to retire $5,500,000 of bonds which mature on Jan. 1. These bonds mature Jan. 1, 1957, with optional dates Jan. 1, 1941, 1943, 1945, and 1947. Offering prices range from 1.10 per cent to 2.60 per cent, according to optional date, with 3 per cent thereafter.

The city's previous best deal was the sale last August of $9,647,000 of 3½ per cent refunding bonds to a syndicate headed by Brown, Harriman & Co. for a premium of $356,843.50.

Offering was made yesterday of $2,500,000 of Mengel company first mortgage 4½ per cent convertible sinking fund bonds, due 1947, at 100 by James C. Willson & Co. and the Metropolitan St. Louis company.

The Consumers' Power company, Jackson, Mich., filed a registration statement under the securities act covering 547,788 shares of no par value $4.50 cumulative preferred stock.

RFC IS DUPED IN 'MOP' LOANS, JONES ASSERTS

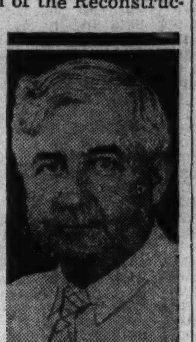
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, today told a senate investigating committee that RFC loans totaling $23,134,800 had been granted to the Missouri Pacific railroad on the basis of an incorrect balance sheet provided by the road.



JESSE H. JONES.

Five loans aggregating that amount were made in February and March, 1932, and in January and February of 1933. Not until the spring of 1933 was question raised concerning the balance sheet, Jones said. Two and one-half years later, in October, 1935, the RFC laid the facts of the case before Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, it was disclosed, and the question of criminal proceedings was brought up. After due deliberation, Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general, answered that the three year statute of limitations had expired since the offense was committed and no action could be taken.

Loans "Fully Secured."

Jones added that the RFC regarded the loans made to Missouri Pacific as "fully secured." The senate committee is investigating the financial setup of the Van Sweringen rail system of which Missouri Pacific was a subsidiary.

Jones gave his testimony briefly by reading a letter he had written to Senator Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], chairman of the committee. When the Missouri Pacific railroad originally applied for a loan of $23,250,000 on Jan. 29, 1932, Jones said, a balance sheet accompanying the application carried under the caption of "current assets" an item of $3,283,085 designated "special deposits."

"When question was raised in the spring of 1933 with RFC to the contracts between the railroad company and Terminal Shares, Inc., and it appeared that the item designated 'special deposits' was in part a cash payment on the purchase of the Terminal Shares," Jones stated, "the RFC asked the federal court in St. Louis, in which the road had filed a petition in bankruptcy, to appoint a trustee to investigate among other things the contracts for the purchase of the Terminal Shares."

Tells of Court Reversal.

Jones told of the hearing before a special master in chancery who sustained the contracts, and the later reversal of this finding by the court. On Dec. 2, 1935, the court set aside the master's report and directed the trustee to sue to recover the money paid.

The history of the RFC loans was related in a letter to the attorney general in October, 1935. Telling of the Missouri Pacific applications for loans, the letter continued:

"Nothing contained in said applications or balance sheets made any disclosure of the fact that the railroad company previously, on Dec. 31, 1930, had entered into four contracts with a corporation known as Terminal Shares, Inc., for the purchase at a price of more than $20,000,000 of certain terminal facilities in North Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo."

Act Provides Punishment.

The letter reminded the attorney general of section 16A of the RFC act which declares that "whoever makes any statement knowing it to be false . . . for the purpose of obtaining for himself any loan . . . shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years or both."

In reply Keenan declared:

"It is indicated by your letter that these applications contain false statements in violation of section 16A of the RFC act. It appears, however, from the dates set out that action would be barred by the three-year statute of limitations, inasmuch as the offense was consummated at the time the applications containing the false statements were filed.

"Of course if the additional data

Armour Head Reports Rise in Earnings

Armour & Co.'s earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 were above those of a year ago and the packing industry "appears to be in a good position," said R. H. Cabell, president of the company, in a statement issued here yesterday. Net profit in the preceding fiscal year was $9,348,678.

An audit of the year's operations has just been completed and the annual report to stockholders will be issued as soon as possible, he said.

"Armour & Co. had a fairly good year and our net results, including income from all sources, were somewhat in excess of last year's results," Cabell said. "This is a reflection in part of our policy of decentralizing activities."

New Plants Acquired.

New plants which we have recently acquired in live stock producing centers, where previously we were not well represented, have played an important part in giving us an increased volume over last year.

"At the moment, live stock receipts are plentiful, making it possible to accumulate a satisfactory inventory. While there will probably be more than the usual seasonal reduction in the flow of live stock to market during the coming spring and summer, there is no reason to fear a scarcity. Viewing the outlook from all angles, the packing industry appears to be in a good position."

Collins & Aikman corporation, fabric manufacturers, reported consolidated net income of $1,522,375, or $2.53 a common share, for the quarter ended Nov. 28, compared with $1,264,944, or $2.05 a share in the corresponding quarter of last year.

Int. Telephone Earnings.

The International Telephone and Telegraph corporation reported for the first nine months of 1936 a consolidated net income of $2,442,140, equal to 38 cents a share, compared with $969,754, or 15 cents a share, earned in the same period of 1935. Earnings of the affiliated Spanish National Telephone company are excluded in both periods, in order to make the figures comparable.

In a letter to stockholders, Sosthenes Behn, president, said the Spanish civil war had made it impossible to ascertain the amount of income or losses from the Spanish properties. The letter added that claims would be made in due course for property damage and loss of revenue through curtailment of service since last July when hostilities broke out.

Caterpillar Tractor Earnings.

The Caterpillar Tractor company yesterday reported net income of $8,479,442 for the eleven months ended Nov. 30. This is equivalent to $4.50 a share on the common stock outstanding, compared with net profit of $5,186,488, or $2.76 a share, in the like months of last year.

In financial quarters it was estimated that earnings of the National Pressure Cooker company, Eau Claire, Wis., in November amounted to about $11,500. There is no comparable figure for a year ago.

N. Y. PERMITS BIG UTILITY MERGER; RATES REDUCED

New York, Dec. 17.—[Special.]—The state public service commission today announced its approval of the merger of the New York Edison company, the Bronx Gas and Electric company, and the Brush Electric Iluminating company into the Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc.

It announced also its approval of applications seeking permission to merge the East River Gas company, the New Amsterdam Gas company, the Northern Union Gas company, and the Central Union Gas company, into the Consolidated Edison corporation.

At the same time Mayor La Guardia issued statements denouncing as inadequate the $7,000,000 cut in electric rates of the Consolidated Edison System companies, announced by the public service commission from Albany on Wednesday.

Marshall Field Property Sold to Bottling Concern

Marshall Field & Co. yesterday sold the one and two story industrial building at the southeast corner of Montrose and Ravenswood avenues, 142 by 162 feet, to the Coca Cola Bottling Company of Chicago, Inc., for a reported $53,000 cash. Harry Hobbs and Hart & Whetston were brokers. The steel and concrete building, formerly used by Field's to house its electrical delivery trucks, will be remodeled into a bottling plant.

RAILWAY CHIEFS CONFIDENT; BUY NEW EQUIPMENT

Outlook Improves; Earnings Rise.

Optimistic statements by a number of railroad presidents yesterday regarding the outlook and earnings on their lines were accompanied by many new reports of large equipment orders, further emphasizing the contribution which the rail carriers have been making toward the national recovery.

M. W. CLEMENT.

More Roads Order Equipment.

Roads adding to the equipment orders which are contributing so much to the rush at the steel mills were Norfolk and Western, Western Pacific, Illinois Central, Pennsylvania, and the Chicago and North Western. Other roads were announced as being in the market for substantial amounts of equipment.

Daniel Willard said indicated net earnings of the Baltimore and Ohio for 1936 will be about $3,000,000, equal, after preferred dividends, to about 25 cents a share on the common stock. The road had a loss of $3,180,908 in 1935. This will be the first time since 1931 that the road has earned anything on its common stock.

Willard added another hopeful note to the railroad picture for the future when he said he is not worried over prospects for a renewal of the campaign in congress for the six hour day.

Labor Forms Chief Expense.

"The chief item of railroad expense is labor," he said. "A six hour day would increase that item between 25 and 30 per cent. Believing as I do in the fairness of congress, I don't believe congress would pass such a law."

Denney said gross revenues of the Erie railroad for 1936 will approximate $84,500,000, compared with $75,097,007 in 1935, a gain of 12 per cent. November net income was about $343,000, bringing the eleven months' total to $2,107,000, compared with a net loss of $782,641 a year ago.

Clement said November gross of the Pennsylvania railroad was about 20 per cent over that of a year ago, aggregating about $38,000,000. He said this was the result of a 23 per cent increase in freight trafic and a boost of 15 per cent in passenger trafic.

Illinois Central Income Rises.

Downs estimated that the November net income of the Illinois Central will be about $1,000,000 and he added that gross revenues thus far in November have run 20 per cent ahead of the 1935 figures.

Hill predicted that the Louisville and Nashville's 1937 business will be larger than that of 1936. He said the road's equipment is in good shape and that its program is probably the largest of any road in the south. Car loadings in December, he asserted, are making a surprising resistance to the usual seasonal decline, averaging about the same as in October and November, or about 5,000 cars daily.

The Southern Pacific's November net operating income stood at $3,833,093, compared with $2,678,160 a year ago.

Western Pacific Buys Equipment.

The Western Pacific announced that it has just placed orders for new equipment totaling $1,000,000, divided as follows: 200 steel box cars, Mount Vernon Car company, Mount Vernon, Ill.; 50 steel flat cars, Pacific Car and Foundry company, Seattle, Wash.; 100 steel box cars, Rodgers Ballast Car company, Chicago.

Orders for 40,000 tons of rail were placed by the Norfolk and Western, of which Carnegie-Illinois got 30,000 tons and the Bethlehem Steel corpo-

STEELS STRONG EXCEPTIONS IN FALLING STOCKS

Profit Selling Is Factor in Downturn.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 17.—Irregular price movements again characterized dealings in stocks today. Most leading issues showed losses at the close, with the notable exception of the steel shares, equipments, and a number of specialties.

While cautious, speculators showed more desire to buy stocks on recessions than earlier in the week. They were encouraged by the market's ability to recover easily after minor setbacks and by the fact that offerings dried up quickly on sell-offs. Sales amounted to 1,951,220 shares.

Best Prices in Fourth Hour.

After moving uncertainly most of the forenoon, the list began to show signs of life in the third hour as the steel shares moved forward. Best prices were reached in the fourth hour, but some liquidation appeared and even the steel issues were forced to retreat from their top marks of the day.

Before the profit taking set in, however, Big Steel pushed ahead to sell at the best price in the last five years on an advance of more than a point. However, it closed only a fraction higher. Bethlehem also was bid up to a new high of 76⅝, finishing with a gain of 2 points.

Observers saw in the slower trading pace a reflection of the warning issued by the president of the stock exchange about trading in "penny" stocks, and the effects of the investigations by the Securities and Exchange commission.

Rail Equipments Strong.

Second in strength to the steels were the railroad equipments, not a few of which climbed to new high marks for the year. American Car and Foundry was well liked, American Locomotive rose a point, and Westinghouse Air Brake sold at a new top on a rise of 1½ points.

In the utility group attention centered around the Standard Gas issues and Electric Power and Light. The latter after posting a new record turned reactionary and closed at a slight loss. Carrier shares generally finished slightly under the previous levels. A number of low priced shares were bought freely.

Airplane issues drooped and metal equities had substantial losses. Chrysler was down nearly 2 points at the finish after recovering from early weakness, and General Motors lost a point.

An exchange membership sold for $115,000, a rise of $5,000 from the preceding sale and $26,000 from the low point of the year.

RFC IS DUPED IN 'MOP' LOANS; JONES ASSERTS

Discovered Too Late for Prosecution.

and supplemental applications contained false statements and were filed within the last three years such facts would warant consideration."

Examiner Gives Report.

J. W. Barriger, chief examiner of the railway division of the RFC, followed Jones on the witness stand and disclosed a memorandum he had written April 25, 1935, concerning the Missouri Pacific loans. This memo read as follows:

"On Jan. 29, 1932, Missouri Pacific applied for a loan of $23,250,000 and filed balance sheets of various dates ranging between Nov. 30, 1931, and Nov. 30, 1932. The fixed obligation under the contracts of Dec. 31, 1930, between Missouri Pacific and Terminal Shares was in the total amount of $15,965,201. On this amount there had been paid quarterly instalments of $400,000 beginning with March 1, 1931. The very substantial amount of $14,365,201 was therefore owing on this obligation as an absolutely fixed charge. This indebtedness of $14,365,201 was not shown on the balance sheets.

"On March 17, 1932, Missouri Pacific requested an additional loan of $1,400,000, making the aggregate loans sought $24,650,000.

"Pursuant to these applications based upon false balance sheets, Reconstruction Finance corporation made loans to the Missouri Pacific of $17,100,000 between Feb. 15, 1932, and April 29, 1932.

Payments Not Disclosed.

"In order to show the necessity for the additional loan of $1,400,000, Missouri Pacific in its application of March 17, said that it had been made necessary by several events which could not have been anticipated when the first loan was made. The 'events' were described in detail. But no reference whatsoever was made to the fact that only a few weeks before the date of this application a payment of $400,000 quarterly installment had been made under the contract with Terminal Shares. This item was not set forth as one of the reasons for the additional loan and was never disclosed to Reconstruction Finance corporation or to Interstate Commerce commission as a part of the cash requirements of Missouri Pacific. The contract of Dec. 31, 1930, called for quarterly installments of $400,000 up to Jan. 1, 1936. Had this disclosure been made, the Terminal Shares contracts would have been the subject of investigation and their unfairness would then have been revealed. The consequence would doubtless have been that the application for the loan would have been rejected in the absence of a cancelation or substantial modification of the Terminal Shares contracts."

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet today and prices were unchanged. No sales were reported. On last business spots were quoted at 3.77c per lb and 1937 quota sugars 3.80c. Reflecting inactivity in the spot market, futures were quiet although prices held steady on a little trade buying in absence of any selling pressure. The close was unchanged to 2 points net higher. Sales were only 3,900 tons.

CONSOLIDATED OIL INCREASES PAY 5 PER CENT

20,000 of Staf Affected; Bonuses Announced.

Wage increases affecting many thousand employés were announced yesterday, and year-end bonus payments to workers were voted by several companies.

The Consolidated Oil corporation announced an increase of 5 per cent, effective Dec. 16, in the rates of pay for 20,000 employés on the pay roll of the parent company and its subsidiaries. The boost does not apply to those earning more than $5,000 a year.

The American Brass company announced an increase of 5 per cent for 9,000 employés in plants of the company in Kenosha, Wis.; Waterbury and Ansonia, Conn.; Detroit, and Toronto. The raise is retroactive to Dec. 13. It is the second 5 per cent raise this year.

Boosted 15 to 25 Per Cent.

Establishment of an eight hour day, and increases in hourly and piecework pay rates of 15 to 25 per cent was announced by A. L. Welham, superintendent of the St. Charles Manufacturing company. Bonuses will be paid employés, based on their length of service.

The National Distillers Products corporation announced that a bonus based on length of service of employés will be paid to all members of the organization.

The McGraw-Hill Publishing company reported that it would pay a bonus to all workers earning less than $3,000 a year.

The White-Stokes company, Chicago, announced distribution of a Christmas bonus to workers, the amount of which was not reported.

Other Bonuses Announced.

The Weisbaum Brothers Brower company, Cincinnati, necktie manufacturers, announced the distribution of $10,000 in bonuses to 350 employés.

A Christmas bonus of $79,115 will be paid to 1,640 employés of the Atlanta, Ga., Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants despite a walkout strike at both plants, officials announced.

BANKRUPTCY ACT DEBT EXTENSION RULE IS UPHELD

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday upheld the constitutionality of section 74E of the federal bankruptcy laws which provides that an extension of debts may be effected without the consent of secured creditors on the property involved.

The case was brought in behalf of Mrs. Hannah Harnett, owner of a thirty apartment building at 4948-62 Maypole avenue. Through her attorney, Mrs. Harnett submitted a plan by which an $80,000 first mortgage was extended for five years and the interest rate reduced to 3 per cent from 6 per cent. The property is appraised at $111,250.

Referee in Bankruptcy William L. Sullivan approved the plan, but Vernon R. Locks, attorney for the Guardian Life Insurance Company of America, holder of the mortgage, challenged the right of the court and the constitutionality of the act. He said he will carry the case to the Circuit Court of Appeals and to the Supreme court, if necessary, to test the constitutionality of the law.

In his opinion, Judge Wilkerson pointed to the provision of the law that an extension may be granted "where the court is satisfied that the plan is fair and feasible."

Rushton Re-Elected Head of Stock Exchange Firms

Joseph A. Rushton, a partner of Babcock, Rushton & Co., has been reëlected chairman of the Chicago Association of Stock Exchange firms, the association announced yesterday. Other officers are: Vice president, William T. Bacon of Bacon, Whipple & Co.; treasurer, James A. Cathart of Harris, Upham & Co., and secretary, Charles F. Duvall of the Chicago Stock exchange.

CARNEGIE PLANS 'FINISH FIGHT' ON LABOR ACT

Would Maintain Employe Representation Plan.

Flatly denying federal charges that it interfered with the self-organization of employés, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, largest subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, yesterday indicated it will fight to the limit the efforts of the national labor relations board to interfere with its employé dealings under the Wagner labor relations act.

The labor relations board on Dec. 7 issued a complaint charging the parent company and its largest subsidiary with "interfering with the self-organization of employés" in Carnegie's 21 plants, including those in the Chicago district.

Constitutionality Challenged.

L. H. Burnett of Pittsburgh, vice president of Carnegie-Illinois, and William Beye of Chicago and John J. Heard of Pittsburgh, attorneys for Carnegie-Illinois, at a session of the labor board in Washington yesterday challenged the constitutionality of the Wagner act and expressed the opinion that results of previous similar attacks should be decided before the current accusation is aired before the board.

The board refused all requests for delay, however, and called to the stand Elmer Maloy of Duquesne, Pa., a crane operator in the Carnegie-Illinois mills there and an officer in the employé representation plan.

Maloy testified that company stenographers took down the minutes of all the employé meetings and that company officials edited out all comment, motions, or decisions to which they objected. Proposals for compulsory arbitration of disputes twice were vetoed by the management, he said, quoting Arthur H. Young, vice president of United States Steel, as having said it was "out of the question."

Caused by Lewis Program.

The differences between Carnegie-Illinois and the labor board originated in efforts by John L. Lewis and his Committee for Industrial Organization to unionize the steel industry along with the automobile and other industries. When Lewis organizers first began to appear at the various plants of the Carnegie-Illinois company, officials of the corporation announced that they would combat all efforts of outsiders to unionize their company.

Carnegie-Illinois said yesterday that since it introduced its employé representation plan three years ago, more than 90 per cent of the employés have participated by casting their ballots for representatives. It said elections under the plan have been by secret ballot and they have been entirely in the hands of the representatives and other employés and the company has not taken part in any way.

Business Bits

Michael E. Fox was nominated for reëlection as president of the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. John V. McCarthy was renominated for first vice president. Other nominees are W. E. Sage, second vice president, and Edwin Kirschbraun, treasurer. Th eelection will be held Jan. 6.

Charles A. Rheinstrom has been elected vice president and general sales manager of American Airlines, Inc. He has been connected with American Airlines' sales department since 1928.

Karl E. Wehrly and G. L. Nelson were elected vice presidents of Central National bank yesterday. Floyd H. Egan also joined the bank's official staf. All three resigned earlier in the day from the Halsted Exchange National bank.

Robert H. Mulch, former General Motors and Chrysler sales executive, has been appointed general manager of the Trailer division of the Hayes Body corporation.

LARD STEADY TO LOWER; SPECULATION DECREASES

Speculative interest in lard futures yesterday was smaller than of late, with the market showing a somewhat easier undertone despite the upturn in hogs. The easiness in cottonseed oil had some effect on sentiment. Closing trades were unchanged to 7½ cents lower, with December showing the most weakness. Deliveries of cash lard on December contracts were 50,000 pounds. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed unchanged to 15 cents lower.

Cash lard was quoted at $13.35; loose, $12.55; leaf, $12.12½, and clear bellies at $16.50 per 100 pounds. Prices follow:

TESTIFY CHEESE MEN CUT PRICES ON BIG ORDERS

Witnesses Heard in Case of Kraft-Phenix Co.

Price discounts on quantity purchases are a general practice in the cheese and salad dressing business, it was brought out yesterday in testimony before Charles F. Diggs, trial examiner for the federal trade commission, on charges that the Kraft-Phenix Cheese corporation has violated the Robinson-Patman price discrimination act. The hearing are being held at the Knickerbocker hotel.

The case is being watched with interest as a test of the much discussed act passed at the last session of congress, and as giving some indication of interpretation by the commission. The session adjourned at noon until 10 o'clock this morning.

Cite Competitive Conditions.

G. C. Pound, vice president and general sales manager of Kraft-Phenix, concluded testimony begun on Wednesday, and representatives of three other competitors were placed on the stand. The general purpose of examining of witnesses yesterday was to bring out the position of Kraft-Phenix in the cheese industry and competitive conditions in the field.

Attorney Allen C. Phelps, of Washington, counsel for the commission, called to the stand George Schulze, of Chicago, branch manager of Land o' Lakes Creamery, Inc.; Walter L. Dilger, of Chicago, secretary for the Beatrice Creamery company, and David A. Neumann, of Chicago, divisional sales manager of the Borden company.

Schulze said his company allowed discounts on large purchases and in some instances prices were below those quoted by Kraft-Phenix.

Testifies on Price Moves.

He said Kraft-Phenix was the largest producer of processed cheese, but it did not necessarily dominate the market. He said price reductions by one company in an attempt to move goods were not always followed by the trade.

Beatrice Creamery also allows discounts on large quantities and in some instances its prices were slightly below those of Kraft-Phenix, Dilger testified. Competitive conditions govern prices, he testified.

BUTTER, EGGS, POTATOES DECLINE AFTER FIRM START

Butter, egg, and potato futures made a firm start yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange, but reacted later on profit taking and hedging sales with the close at the low point of the day. Butter futures were ¾ cent lower with December at 32¾ cents a pound. Eggs declined ¼ to ½ cent, December finishing at 26⅝ cents a dozen. Potatoes were a cent lower at $2.67 per 100 pounds for January Idahoes.

Speculative interest in the markets was less active than of late with sales of 83 cars of butter, 125 cars of eggs, and 4 cars of potatoes. There were 23 cars of eggs delivered on December contracts. Prices follow:

HINT GOVERNMENT MAY SELL COTTON; CUTS PRICE

Announcement that part of the 3,000,000 bales of government owned spot cotton may be offered for sale early next year broke cotton futures as much as $1.65 a bale yesterday. Later the Commodity corporation issued a statement saying no decision had been made with respect to the release of the cotton, and a strong rally from the inside level followed. Closing trades on futures in leading American markets ranged from 4 to 21 points lower. [A point equals 1-100 cent a pound, or 5 cents a bale.]

The cotton was secured in 1934 as the result of the 12 cent a pound loan program to farmers.

Spot cotton closed 15 to 30 points lower, with New York at 12.75 cents a pound; New Orleans, 12.55 cents; Houston, 12.45 cents, and Galveston, 12.40 cents. Prices follow:

Just Your Plain Note
Now you can get a loan on just your Promise-to-Pay. If you can make regular payments, sign only a plain note and nothing else. It is just like borrowing from a friend on a simple I. O. U.—no endorsers, no wage assignments, co-makers, furniture, real estate, stocks, bonds, diamonds, or other security required. We take you at your word and give you the money you need on just your Promise-to-Pay. Unbelieveably simple. Your honesty, integrity, and ability to pay are absolutely the sole requirements for a loan on the New Promise-to-Pay Plan.
Reduced Rates
Monthly charges are 3% on balances up to $100 and only 2% on balances above $100. Also all other types of loans at the same reduced cost. For full particulars stop in, write, or telephone the office nearest you.

BORROW at HOUSEHOLD
on YOUR Signature
REDUCED RATES
ON ALL LOANS ABOVE $100.
HOW YOU CAN BORROW.
1. If you can make monthly payments you can qualify for a loan.
2. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
3. No inquiries made of employer or friends.
HOW YOU CAN REPAY.
1. Payments on all loans are small. For example, payments on a $200 loan are $10 per month plus interest charges on a 20 month schedule.
2. Monthly rate is 2% on the balance above $100, 3% on $100 or less. On $200 repaid in 20 months this is substantially less than the lawful maximum on loans over $100.
No Endorsers.

USED AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE.

IT'S HERE!

STUDEBAKER'S ANNUAL USED CAR PRE-INVENTORY SALE!

Studebaker Sales Co. of Chicago will make their annual inventory of all cars Jan. 1, 1937. Frankly, it is to our interests to dispose of every used car in our stocks before inventory time. Result is, every auto in stock has been drastically reduced in price as much as 50% and more. Here's your once-a-year opportunity to get the car of your dreams at an undreamed of figure!

NOTICE!

Used car prices are definitely on the rise and will be considerably higher after the first of the year. If you want to make a sensational saving in the purchase of an automobile, you'll have to act—and act quickly!

WE'VE GOT TO FACE THE FACTS! WE'RE LOADED TO THE RAFTERS WITH USED CARS, AND WE'D LIKE TO LIQUIDATE THEM ALL IN THIS ONE GREAT, GRAND, SMASHING CLEARANCE.

CHOOSE

FROM TWO GREAT FLOORS, OVER 150 CARS IN ALL, INCLUDING ALL POPULAR MAKES AND MODELS. REMEMBER, YOUR OLD CAR WILL BE TAKEN IN TRADE AT A LIBERAL FIGURE AND MAY MAKE THE ENTIRE DOWN PAYMENT. OUR SPECIAL CHRISTMAS BUDGET PAYMENT PLAN WILL MAKE IT SIMPLE TO FINANCE THE BALANCE.

Thirteen in Poolroom Here See Three Gunmen Slay New Yorker—Eight Seized in Raids as Ambulance Chasers

Dear Sir:

Yes sir, "You gotta make calls if you wanta get results". No truer words were ever spoken. And this applies to both YOU and ME. You make the calls and we will get you the results.

Please take notice of my new phone number

WELLington 4424

CALL THIS NUMBER ONLY. Do not call the Delaware or Superior numbers. Enclosed find my new card. I would suggest that you destroy my old number and just keep my new card to avoid confusion.

I am looking forward to an early call from you so that I may be able to send you "The substantial thank you".

Remember - Call only my NEW NUMBER WELLington 4424

Sincerely yours,

Leo Nemerovski

WIDER SEARCH FOR AIRLINER LOST IN UTAH IS PLANNED TODAY—Civilian conservation corps workers as they searched yesterday for missing Los Angeles-Salt Lake City transport plane. Their search was made in a snow-covered mountain forest near Alpine, Utah. The plane, which carried seven persons, disappeared on Tuesday. A day long effort to find the ship ended with no report that any of the searchers had found the place where "traces" of the plane were said to have been seen.
